Fourteen Days Remain To Pay Taxes Before Penalty Applies

With the deadline for payment of current taxes less than three weeks off, collections took a sharp upward jump this week and are now running at over $200,000 daily, with each day showing an increase over the day preceding.

April 20 is the last day for the payment of current taxes without a penalty. After that date a penalty of three percent is added, plus 50 cents for each item on the tax bill.

The last day for the redemption of property on the partial payment plan also falls on April 20.

Receipts for this year continue to run something more than four percent greater than on the corresponding day last year. The latest figures, giving receipts up to noon April 2, show collections of $49,739,712.34, or 56.81 percent of the total charge of $87,542,045.55.

On the corresponding day last year, the collections were $46,760,825.66, or 52.62 percent of the total charge of $88,863,171.91.

A plea to taxpayers to avoid the last minute rush was made today by H. L. Byram, county tax collector.

"The taxpaying public," Byram stated, "have been accustomed to delay paying taxes until the last week, and as a result cause themselves great inconvenience and delays due to the congestion which has always occurred.

"When it is realized that over 80 percent of the collections for both the first and second installments in the past have been paid during the last week preceding the dead line, it is apparent that many taxpayers could co-operate to mutual advantage and greatly improve the tax collection service."

Mysteries of Mexico to Be Told in Talk

What the tourist should see in Mexico and the best way to reach the places of interest will be included in the talk of Major James C. Sawders on the Pacific Geographic series in Shrine Auditorium on the evening of April 4.

Battery's Last Survivor Dead

MANSFIELD, Ohio. (U.P.)—Abraham Myers, 92, believed to be the last survivor of the first Ohio independent battery which served in the Civil War, is dead. Myers fought in the battle of Antietam and was in Washington when Lincoln was assassinated.

Reckless Driving Case Continued

The case against J. W. Patterson, of Redondo Beach, arrested on a charge of drunk and reckless driving, following an auto accident last week, which had been set for April 3, was postponed until tomorrow. The plaintiff, William Dinglo, was too ill to appear yesterday. Dinglo sustained lacerations to his scalp that required 100 stitches to repair, and his sister, Miss Bella, Dinglo, was also severely cut about the head.

New Car Dealer

Did you ever try to figure where the used car dealer gets the cars he offers for sale? He is not trading with local people and the car he buys may have been used as a taxi cab in the middle west. It is a well-known fact that hundreds of used cars are towed into Los Angeles every week. These cars are just flooding the Los Angeles market and you are taking a big chance when you buy one of them. Why take this chance when we can offer you such a variety of local cars to choose from? It is logical to feel that a local car properly reconditioned in an up-to-date work shop would prove to be the better used car to buy. Note our varied selection and

"Baby Ruth" Still Fat Girl

SARASOTA, Fla. (U.P.)—"Baby Ruth" Pontico, circus fat lady, is recovering at her home here after a 30 weeks illness. Baby Ruth has lost 100 pounds during her long illness, but she still hasn't that girlish figure. You see, she dropped from 650 to 550 pounds.

Page Paul Bunyan

SHELTON, Wash. (U.P.)—A Douglas fir equal to some handled by the legendary Paul Bunyan was cut near Shelton for the Simpson mill. It scaled 16,680 board feet. The 24-foot butt cut measured 14 feet in diameter at the base, 10 feet at the top.
