Paris Styles

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, (U.P.)—Patou has surpassed himself with the simplicity and elegance of his "little season" collection. He probably never before has designed such completely lovely things.

The lines which were felt to be a bit over-severe in his August collection have been modified into the most graceful of curves and angles and the slits have become shorter for daytime and smartly moderate for evening.

Lame blouses are frequently shown with two-piece suits of black crepe-satin, moire or velvet, and even on the wispy chiffon blouses with flowing sleeves caught closely at the wrists there is a touch of either gold or silver lame at the neck and sleeves and occasionally down the front, which gives the whole ensemble a very dressy effect.

Patou's necklines are still high in the front and either square or oval in the back. This is equally true for evening as for the street and afternoon things.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP

Patou is still for high front necklines lay and evening with square and oval dips in the back. Shirtwaists are very feminine in chiffons and rich lames, with black skirts and jackets.

W. B. A. MEET AT WATERS HOME

Church Ceremony Unites Torrance-Redondo Couple

Dolores King, daughter of J. E. and Mrs. Fanny King, became the bride of Max Schumacher, son of Mrs. E. Schumacher, Redondo Beach, Saturday afternoon. The ceremony, which was marked with simple dignity and lovely floral detail, was performed by Rev. Kemp J. Winkler in the First Methodist church at 4:00 o'clock. One hundred and fifty persons attended the wedding.

The bride, radiant in a bridal gown of ivory satin and lace with bridal veil held in a cap shape and caught on either side with orange blossoms, carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father. Vivian Young as maid of honor, wore pink lace with turban and veil to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and larkspur. Katheryn McNeil, bridesmaid, wore a gown of green moire and carried pink roses and pink larkspur. Miss Ethel Ward, bridesmaid, wore a gown of powder blue taffeta and carried pink roses and blue larkspur.

Henry Schumacher, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers included Clifford King, Tommy King and Elmer Riley. Miss Beatrice Jackson played the wedding march and the accompaniment for Mrs. Juliet Johnson, who sang Cadman's "At Dawning."

Candles for the ceremony were lighted by Mary Ann and Euphrosia Taylor in their Job's Daughters robes.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore blue lace and corsages of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Members of the bridal party were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher, Hermosa Beach, where the wedding reception was held.

Mrs. Schumacher has lived in Torrance for the past 14 years. She was graduated from Torrance high school with the class of 1932. For the past two years she has been employed as cashier in the J. J. Newberry store.

Mr. Schumacher is employed by the Proctor & Gamble Company in Long Beach. A short wedding trip to Lake Arrowhead was postponed because of the rainy weather. The couple have established their home at 422 North Broadway, Redondo Beach.

HEALTH INSURANCE IS DISCUSSED

Miss Ethelwyn Niles, supervisor of nurses at the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital, spoke before the National Business and Professional Women of Torrance on the topic of compulsory health insurance, at their dinner meeting Tuesday evening.

Miss Niles outlined the history of the movement, which has been in use in a number of European countries and is under consideration for adoption in the United States, and then explained the workings of the plan in detail.

Health insurance in a voluntary form is already being practiced in numerous localities. In the city of Inglewood, to use a local example, the plan has been adopted and has been in use for some time. Many large corporations, employing great numbers of people, have health insurance in one form or another as a part of their protection to workers.

Under the compulsory health insurance plan, the system will be handled either by state or federal agencies. Payment of a nominal sum each week or month will entitle the holder of the certificate which identifies the payee, to medical attention and hospital care for himself and any member of his family, free for a specified period, in the case of hospitals, usually 21 days.

Physicians and hospitals receive their pay from the insurance funds. Probably a graduated scale of payments will have to be adopted based on income, so that those who receive lesser amounts in wages will receive the same care as those who are earning a larger income.

Many details are yet to be worked out to provide a complete plan which will be successful in operation, but the general trend of the times is toward that end in medicine and hospitalization. At present, only acknowledged indigents and persons who have an income of more than enough to cover bare living expenses are sure of medical attention. Those who have a moderate income are deprived of this privilege as their earnings are absorbed by other expenses with nothing left over for care during illness or accidental injury.

Miss Niles resume of the features of health insurance was heard with great interest by the members and guests, principally because the subject has a personal importance to everyone, and also because she is the first member to assume the role of principal speaker at a local club meeting.

Mrs. Sabrey Botkin, chairman of the education committee, in charge of the program, provided some amusing games for the balance of the evening with prizes awarded to Mrs. Lulu Bower, Miss Beatrice Hughes, Miss Carolyn Stroh and Miss Lute Fraser.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Clark, of the Clark Stationery store, and Mrs. George Worcester.

FERN AVENUE P. T. A. NOTES

Arzilli will preside at the business meeting. A program suitable for the Thanksgiving season will be presented by pupils of B-1 under the direction of their teacher, Miss Etta Mowry. A good speaker will also be heard on this program.

Mrs. Arzilli requests all members of the organization to strive to attend the concert to be given in San Pedro, November 23, at the Richard Dana junior high school at 7:45 p. m. Tickets for the affair may be purchased from Mrs. Arzilli or from Mrs. J. O. Bishop.

American Legion Auxiliary News

Strings of peppers, tables decorated in bright pottery and flowers, candles in attractive holders and gay senoritas and Don Juans serving the Spanish menu, made the dinner served Thursday evening by ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary a most attractive and successful affair. More than 100 persons braved the inclement weather to eat with the ladies and orders for food were taken and prepared by the ladies all day Friday. During the dinner Mrs. Lex Briney, accompanied on the steel guitar by Lex Briney, sang a group of Spanish selections that were delightful.

Twenty-five attended the social meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in Legion hall Monday evening. After a short business session, bridge and keno furnished entertainment. A prize for high score was won by Mrs. Sylvia Nelson, and a low score prize by Mrs. Selma Goddard.
