Low Bidder May Get Contract for Park

J. R. Wimmer, Los Angeles County Parks and Recreation director, has recommended that Dudley A. Smith be awarded the contract for the construction of the Alonda Park rest room.

Smith's bid of $7,861 was the lowest received.

The county, which owns the park, recently launched a program which will result in a gigantic outdoor concrete-lined swimming pool, a golf course, a 20,000-seat football stadium, a baseball diamond, and many other recreational features.
