An open invitation to the Steel Union:

Join us in a forward step

Steel companies are spending billions of dollars to modernize mills, methods and products.

But America, the world's greatest steel user, can never enjoy the full benefits of this multi-billion dollar program until the steel companies' labor agreements are as modern as the machinery in the mills.

The steel companies extend this invitation to the Union:

Join us in taking a forward step to help reduce wasteful, out-of-date practices; help pave the way for increased production, improved productivity, and resulting savings which can be shared by employees, stockholders and the public—without contributing to inflation.

Specifically, we have asked the Union to cooperate with us in:

1. Improving the language and the spirit of the labor agreements to bring them up-to-date with modern operations and to reduce causes of misunderstanding and friction that have developed in the past;
2. Protecting thousands of innocent workers by discouraging irresponsible acts of a lawless few who engage in unauthorized or "wildcat" strikes;
3. Retarding further inflation by dropping the experimental cost-of-living adjustment clause in the 1956 agreements. This clause, intended to spare steelworkers from the effects of inflation, has proven to be itself inflationary and thus self-defeating. All of the 17¢ an hour added to wage rates under the clause since 1956 would be retained.

These contract changes, accompanied by a cooperative attitude on the Union's part, would, we believe, pave the way to enable the companies to generate new economic progress to be shared with their employees.

Accordingly, in return for agreement on these contract changes we have offered to negotiate a non-inflationary two-year agreement providing an increase in pension and insurance benefits this year, and a modest increase in wages next year.

Such an agreement would place the steel companies in a stronger position to compete with other materials and with imports of foreign-made steel ... It would give employees improved benefits, higher wages and greater job security ... It would help hold the line against inflation.

This proposal does not threaten the basic rights of Union members in any way.

The companies recognize that the Union has a responsibility—and a legal right—to represent the interests of its members. The Union, on its part, should recognize that the companies have the right and obligation to manage their plants to the maximum benefit of employees, shareholders, and the public.

In these modern times, with great progress already achieved and even greater progress visible on the horizon, cooperation—not opposition—is the mark of real leadership.

Only with a cooperative attitude on the part of the Union and its leadership can the steel industry fully meet the needs of America and help curb inflation.

We urge the Union to join us in taking this forward step.
