By Francis X. Lohmann

Spring is ideal puppy-buying time. The Christmas spotless and ship-shape and bought pup can't be let out of the house until the days about the place, chances are warm up. This prolongs the house-training and, let's face it, housebreaking is one of the biggest of all problems facing the new dog owner. The Spring-bought pup, on the other hand, can be let out of the house immediately, thereby speeding up the training program.

Another asset to purchasing a puppy in the Spring is the fact it gives you an excellent excuse to hit the road after long cold months of confinement, and take a long drive in the country to look over puppy prospects.

Embark on your happy, anticipating search armed with a list of kennels specializing in the particular breed you are interested in. The American Kennel Club, 51 Madison Ave., New York City will be delighted to supply a list of bona-fide kennels in Southern California or you can write to this reporter at this newspaper.

A PROSPECTIVE puppy-buyer can usually tell a good deal about the individual kennel's dogs by the condition of the kennel itself. Now, I don't mean to infer that it must look elaborate or expensive

Angelo goes into action with their first all-age Samoyed Match at Woodland Hills Park, Woodlands Hills . . . Calling all Pembroke Welsh Corgi fanciers! The Golden Gate Pembroke Welsh Corgi Club has set May 27 as the date for their BIG 8th Annual Specialty Show to be held at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, Carmel Valley, California. Entries for this gala attraction close May 12. Further info and entry forms can be gotten from Sally Home, 45 W. Budd Ave., Campbell, Calif. . . . Should your dog accidentally burn himself, apply strong, lukewarm tea (for its tannic acid content) or a sheet strip compress. Vaseline may be used for slight burns. Give aspirin as recommended if the dog is in pain and keep him warm if he seems to be in shock. . . . In the event your dog has a fit, try to get him into a room where he cannot injure himself. If possible, I suggest you cover him with a towel or blanket. At the conclusion of the fit give your dog aspirin, one grain for every ten pounds.

And remember this too, the state of the kennels generally reflects the state of business and if business is good, it means satisfied customers who continually recommend the kennel to friends. There is always the exception to the rule, of course. It's possible you could arrive on the day the kennel owner's entire family is on the sick list. Perhaps all the work was skipped except the feeding and anyone who has spent a little time around dogs knows full well it doesn't take very long for a kennel to take on an untidy appearance. However, most times you can be guided by the appearance of the kennel.

BOWSER BROWNSINGS — Three bow wow events are scheduled for today. Southwest Obedience Club of Los Angeles presents their sixth Annual Obedience match at the Rosecrans Playground in Gardena. The Hub Poodle Club spotlights a Spring Poodle Puppy Match at Garden Grove Park in Garden Grove. The Samoyed Club of Los Angeles goes into action with their first all-age Samoyed Match at Woodland Hills Park, Woodlands Hills . . .

George Foley, publisher of Popular Dogs Magazine, has been singled out as Dogdom's Man of the Year by the Dog Writers' Association of America. No one is more deserving than this venerable gentleman of dogs. My heartiest congrats and a king-sized bark . . . When Marjorie Ashman called Buddy Cole's Panorama Motel in San Clemente, she asked if she could bring her dog, Ginger, she was asked "What kind of dog is it?" "Ginger's a Poodle," came the reply. "That's perfectly alright," she was informed. "Poodles are most welcome here." Should this bit of Poodle adoration leak out to other breeds then I expect to find a picket line of Beagles, Basset Hounds, Great Danes, Setters, Collies and who knows, perhaps a Boxer Rebellion.

BREED OF THE WEEK — Welsh Terrier . . . The Welsh Terrier is believed to be one of the oldest, if not the oldest of the British Terrier breeds. There are in existence countless paintings and old prints depicting various sporting subjects showing harsh-coated black and tan terriers which are easily recognized as Welsh Terriers.

From all indications the Welshman has changed minutely, if at all, during the past 100 or so years. Originally, he was used in hunting the badger, otter and the fox. The Welsh is a good-looking contribution to dogdom. His general outlines are nicely balanced with plenty of substance and style and his expression is brightly intelligent. Coupled with his good looks is a wonderful disposition.

The Welsh Terrier is reliable with children, naturally gay of temperament and above all, a sensible dog, free of any tendency toward excitability, noisiness or frenzied pugnacity.

The Welsh Terrier tips the scales at about 20 pounds and in height 16 inches.

Listen to Francis X. Lohmann's radio version of Kanine Korner, Monday through Friday at 4:30 p.m. over Station KTYM, 1460 kcs.

The Welshman has taken many coveted honors at all breed dog shows around the nation and I am sure he will continue to do so in the future.

will have a covered walkway to the sanctuary. RESIDENCES on adjacent church property are to be razed for a parking lot, which, with additional nearby space to be converted to similar use, will accommodate about 60 automobiles.

The church is the oldest religious group in Torrance, dating back to 1911 when it was a project of the Los Angeles City Mission Society. It has been in its present location since 1920, with its sanctuary erected in 1948 and its Fellowship Hall and first educational building constructed in 1958. It currently has a membership of some 2,600 persons. The Rev. Robert H. Coburn, who was raised in Torrance, has been its minister since 1963. The church is affiliated with the American Baptist and Southern California Baptist Conventions.

The church will be the principal in the loan, which was arranged by Shelton-Fulton Co., Covina.

THE NEW educational building will have ten classrooms, a nursery, a ladies' lounge and three rest rooms, administrative offices and a pastor's study. It also is connected with the Fellowship Hall.
