sessed valuation. This is only the beginning.

"A fundamental issue was involved in the Marble tract issue," concluded Isen. "Do your elected representatives in city government owe their loyalty to a few land promoters and speculators or to you, the thousands of residents and taxpayers who voted them into office?"

The Torrance mayor was making reference to the rezoning of the Marble tract from industrial to residential as proposed in an ordinance passed by four members of the city council several months ago. The presentation of a referendum petition, signed by thousands of residents, protesting the ordinance lead the council to reverse its position.

Councilman Willys Blount, number-one challenger for the post of Torrance mayor, yesterday pointed out that the administration of the city is spending aproximately $24,000 each year in special allocations to the chamber of commerce.

"Money is, in theory, paid to the chamber to promote and advertise the city of Torrance," Blount said, "and to interest more commerce and industry in locating here."

"In actuality, the funds are used for diverse purposes and only incidently for the reasons they were allocated.

"A great number of Southern California cities have cut back, or completely eliminated, their annual 'donation' to the chamber of commerce," he said. "This action has had, in most cases, the full approval of the chamber members as well as city officials.

"WE ARE NOW a city of 110,000 population. We are the metropolitan area of this portion of the county. We are rapidly developing into the commercial and industrial center of the area.

" We owe it to the residents and taxpayers of Torrance to end useless waste," he added. "And we owe it to ourselves to see that the city of Torrance is promoted in the most effective and efficient manner."

Pastor Wells Gives Topic For March 25

The sermon series, "These Events Changed the World" continues at the Narbonne Avenue Baptist Church of Lomita. The pastor, Robert A. Wells, will speak at both the 8:30 and 10:50 a.m. services on the subject, "Down But Not Out."

"The life of Christ was spent helping man. This sermon is based on just one of the many events where Jesus helped the downtrodden. He did more to give the lowly people hope than any one who ever lived," the pastor will state. This sermon series will continue through Easter Sunday.

The church will observe the Lord's Supper at both morning services this Sunday. "The Lord's Supper was given to remind the obedient believer of the broken body and shed blood of our Savior."

He even suggested it was not to be observed when there were divisions among them. It was given as a direct command, "This do in remembrance of me." Too many think it was optional, Mr. Wells stated in summing up the Bible's teaching on this second of the two ordinances of the New Testament Church.

Cancer Drive Will Begin Next Month

American Cancer Society District Crusade chairman, H. P. "Buck" Atherton, manager, Security First National Bank in Torrance, has announced this year's city chairmen for the commerce and industry and business drives.

Wally L. Haas, Bethlehem Steel, will head the drive to contact major commerce and industry firms and Renee Turpel, local insurance man, to head the retail business drive in downtown Torrance.

The annual American Cancer Society drive for funds will take place during April when local businessmen will be organized to join the fight against cancer. These men will be working in cooperation with the residential door-to-door drive which is headed by Mrs. Warren Boggs of Torrance.

Hass is managements representative, Fabricating Division of Bethlehem Steel in Torrance. He is a member of Torrance Rotary and has been involved with other civic drives including Community Chest and Red Cross.

In the American Cancer Society drive he will head up two teams of men who will contact all local major firms.

Turpel with his team of men will canvass the downtown section of Torrance for the retail merchants' contribution to the drive. Education literature will be left for all employes.

Turpel is affiliated with Turpel Insurance Agency, broker, and is a general agent, Western National Life Insurance Co. He is a member of the Elks and the Optimists and has worked in the past on community projects such as Red Cross and Boy Scouts.
