SAMUEL OGDEN

Funeral services for Samuel Ogden, 74, of 2204 Cabrillo Ave., were held Monday evening in Halverson-Leavell Mortuary chapel, with the Rev. Robert Dehn of First Baptist Church officiating. Cremation followed Tuesday at Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mr. Ogden was born Jan. 28, 1888, in England and had lived here 11 years. He died Saturday.

He is survived by his widow, Emily; daughter, Dorothy Lomanto, and son, Alvin, both of Torrance; sisters, Mary Ellen Young of Seattle and Florence Hawthorne of Canada; brother, Alvin, of England, and five grandchildren.

SYLVESTER McKEIGHAN

Services for Sylvester McKeighan, 72, of 21217 S. Hobart Blvd., were held April 10 in Halverson-Leavell chapel. Pastor William Roleder of First Lutheran Church officiated.

Survivors include two daughters, Clyta Howard, Torrance, and Louise Edwards, Los Angeles; one son, Pat, of Los Angeles; four grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. McKeighan, a native of Illinois, died April 7.

Interment was at Westminster Memorial Park, Westminster.

needed traffic arteries, and he was a prime mover in the efforts to establish a four-year state college in this area. This college is now being planned, its top officials have been named, and only the selection of a site remains to give tangible evidence to establishment of the college.

Drale said he was in the campaign for Assembly "all the way," and would wage a vigorous drive throughout the district between now and the June primary election.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burkhard are club leaders.

SIGNING IN . . . Newly elected city officials are busily signing their oaths after being sworn in at Tuesday evening's Council meeting. From left along the rail are Mayor Albert Isen, Councilmen Ken Miller and Ross Sciarrotta, and City Treasurer Harriett V. Leech (partially hidden). Inside the rail is City Clerk Vernon Coil, who had just been sworn a few minutes earlier and then officiated at installing other officers. (Herald Photo) ford and settled down to whip through a lengthly agenda.

All was sweetness and light with a couple of minor exceptions—they didn't go along with picking up the tab for the hasty Sacramento trip by Councilman Beasley and City Attorney Stanley Remelmeyer to push approval of the city's charter amendments through the Legislature in its waning hours, and they didn't go along with Mayor Isen's suggestion that the city seek federal aid for Torrance parks.

* * *

NEWLY installed Councilman Sciarrotta got his feet wet on the park issue, voicing strong opposition.

"When the federal government gives, the federal government controls," Sciarrotta, a political science instructor, reminded his colleagues.

* * *

IN OTHER action, the Council asked City Attorney Stanley Remelmeyer to look into laws governing sale of Easter chicks and bunnies, voted permanized resolutions and watches for Willys G. Blount and Bradford who go off the Council, voted a similar award to A. H. Bartlett who had been city clerk since the first months of the city's incorporation in 1921, and approved application of 23 organizations for fireworks permits.

Denied were claims against the city as the result of a Los Angeles bus accident, and for questioning of a Los Angeles man by police.

instructed to take a poll of the employees affected, and the Board will try to reach a decision at the May 7 meeting.

THE BOARD approved the acceptance of $8,000 from the National Defense Act which will allow all students enrolling at West High in September to confer with their counsellors prior to enrolling. Four counsellors, a part-time school psychologist and a clerk for the counselling office will be hired with the allocated funds.

In other action, the Board approved the awarding of contracts for the construction at Torrance Elementary School and for the Navy Property Site Development.

Kiely Corporation was awarded the elementary school contract, while Sully Miller Contracting Co. was given the Navy Land project.

The cost of the combined projects is $114,346 less than the cost estimated by architects.

Dear Mary Carter:

I've got a little place of my own down on the city dumps, just outside town. Nothing fancy, you understand—in fact, it's hardly more than a few boards thrown together.

But I got to thinking, while I was in Florida this past winter, that the old place could use some sprucing up. What would you suggest for putting a country home into A-1 shape? (With somewhat limited funds, that is).

V. A. G.

Dear V. A. G.:

Landscaping is very important, of course, but I don't suppose there's much can be done about a garbage dump. Just kind of spread it around as best you can.

As to the house, itself, do you think it's strong enough to take a coat of paint? If so, you'll find a wonderful variety of oil or latex-base house paints in every price range at your Mary Carter Paint Store.

Paint not only improves the appearance of a home, but in your case it'll probably help to hold up the walls and keep out the weather, as well.

And how about "every second can free" for anyone who wants real home beauty on a budget? Every day is discount day at Mary Carter Paint Stores, so come on down and browse around!

Sometimes it pays to be hardboiled

There are certain things you don't want to take chances with. Your savings, for instance. You want to know they're safe. That when you go to get them, they'll be there—the full amount, with interest. And you want to know that—no matter what—someone's being pretty hardboiled about protecting them. Like a bank.
