Rocket Joe was the only man willing
The trial was scheduled for noon
He wanted to claim the height of fame
With a rocket trip to the moon.
A space ship awaited our hero
The levers and gears all checked
The experts agreed that he could succeed
No detail did they neglect.
But Joe seemed a little reluctant
To place his confidence in
A ride in a rocket with jet-propelled sprocket
And parts made of nothing but tin.
So he told them in tones that were certain
That he never could go that far
For his trip through the blue—
And all other trips too—
He wanted a KENNETH used car!!
