

State Awards Won by Local Junior Club

Build-A-Better Community; Youth Work

Capture Coveted State Honors

Torrance Junior Woman's Club, Mrs. Barbara Wade president, was in the spotlight at the State Convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs held at the Hotel Del Coronado, San Diego, last weekend.

The local club, comprised of young matrons active in civic, philanthropic and social affairs, captured two of the State's most coveted awards. It was presented with first place in the Build-a-Better Community competition and second place in its work for Youth.

Another distinction for the Torrance Club was the naming of one of its members, Mrs. Michael Riley, as the "Outstanding District Press Chairman" in the State of California. Mrs. Riley is a past president of the San Pedro Junior club and served as Marina district press chairman during 1966-67. During the coming year she will hold the offices of parliamentarian for the local Juniors and auditor for the Marina District, CFWC, junior membership.

At the banquet last Saturday evening, David Hurford of the Sears Foundation announced that the Torrance Club had placed first in the Build-a-Better Community division. The certificate was accepted by Mrs. Wade, club president, and Mrs. Robert Vroman, first vice president, official delegates to the convention.

The Junior Club contributed $8,689.28 during 1966-67 to community philanthropies, among these Project Headstart on Del Amo Blvd. The award check for $225 will be presented to the club at its next regular meeting by Herin J. Link, manager of Sears Del Amo. Mrs. Wade announces that the Junior Club will use the money to further its philanthropic work in the community. Mrs. David Rozas served as chairman for the Build-A-Better Community project during the prize-winning year.

Mrs. Leon Taylor served as chairman of the Junior Woman's Club Youth Program during the past year, leading the club to the second place state award.

The Club was recognized for its co-sponsorship of the Torrance Scout Center. Proceeds from the Juniors' annual fireworks booth and rummage sale are turned over to the Scout Center.

Club members have made puppet costumes to be used in the Happy Wanderer Puppet Shows, sponsored by the Torrance Recreation Dept. Continuing its youth work, the Juniors sponsor Scout and Brownie Troops and the girls are honored at an annual Valentine Tea.

More support for area youth is the club's contribution of toys to the Headstart Project, St. Joseph's Mission; and the "Miss Teen-Age" Citizen contest, of which Miss Sally Dunn was 1966-67 winner.

Total contribution to youth projects in the Torrance Community during 1966-67 was $3800, according to Mrs. Taylor.

TIME FOR TAKING A BOW

That tiny pinata hanging in the tree signifies that first place in the state "Build a Better Community" competition brought home by the Torrance Junior Woman's Club from the State Conference. Enjoying their moment of glory are, from left, Mmes. David Rozas, chairman of the Build-a-Better Community project; Mrs. Barbara Wade, president, holding the first place certificate; Mrs. Michael Riley, who was named "Outstanding District Press Chairman" and won first place for her procedure book; and Mrs. Leon Taylor, youth chairman for the club, which won second place in the state for its work for youth.

Xi Nu Chapter Plans Dinner-Theater Event

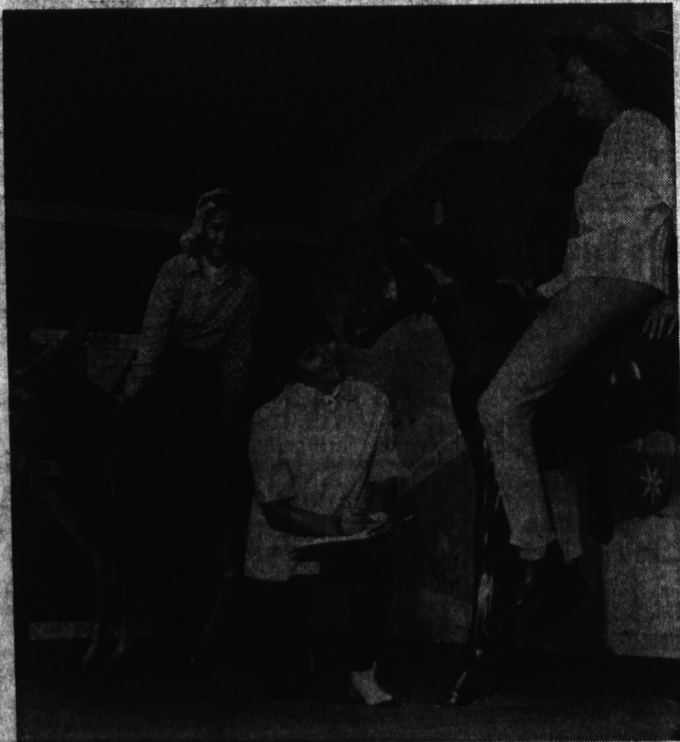

Chinese cuisine in a Mexican decor will be the paradox enjoyed by members and guests of Xi Nu Upsilon Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi International Sorority on Saturday evening, June 3, as they meet for their monthly social at Panchito's Restaurant in Manhattan Beach. Following the dinner, the Palos Verdes group will attend the Palos Verdes Players Theater production of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

Those attending will include Messrs. and Mmes. John Cronander, Morten Jones and Allan Felix of Redondo Beach; William Everson and Mack Johnston of Rolling Hills; Harry L. Vannatta of Palos Verdes Peninsula; Raymond Young of Torrance and Edward Morris of Eastview.

The occasion will also be an informal farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Everson, who are leaving the Peninsula for their new home in Mission Viejo.

On Wednesday evening, June 7, at 8, the members will hold their regular business and cultural meeting at the home of Mrs. Raymond Young, president, of Torrance. Leading the Chapter in their cultural study program, "Exercises In Thought" will be Mrs. Edward Morris.

STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSE'S MOUTH

Harbor Hospital's Volunteers for Children are taking all the tips they can get as they plan their "Day at the Races," June 9, at Hollywood Park. Mrs. Kenneth Greer, president of the group, invites members of all volunteer services, their friends and off-duty employees to join them at the track for an afternoon of fun, proceeds from which will be used to purchase an Apnea monitor for use in the care of premature babies. With "horses on their minds," these Volunteers have a session with the hospital's playground horses, from left, Mmes. Robert A. Mooney, mounted on a donkey, watching Mrs. Kenneth E. Greer, president, on the horse, from which Mrs. W. H. Basen jots down the "hottest tips" right from the horse's mouth. Tickets, which may be secured right up until noon on June 9, are available by calling Mmes. Geer, Ruth Ann Gill or Mildred Mooney.

The silver and white anniversary theme was carried out in the decorations. A large silver and white cake centered the dining table from which refreshments were served. White floral arrangements added to the decor.

During the party hours from 1 until 4 p.m., Mrs. Stanley Goolsby and Mrs. Walter Stewart presided at the refreshment table.

Forty close friends and relatives called to congratulate the couple, who received many gifts and cards.
