OLUNTEER FIREMEN HOLD HILARIOUS MEETING MONDAY

Fire Drill 6:30 Friday Evening

The Torrance Volunteer Fire Department held a much-postponed meeting last Monday evening in the Legion Hall... The main business of the evening was the initiation of two members of the City Council into the mysterious rites of fire-fighting—Brothers Nash and Fitzhugh. The initiation ceremony, through the able assistance of Secretary D. E. Alken and Dr. A. P. Stevenson, has been revised, and, as the new firemen, including J. O. Bishop, can testify, is very impressive.

EDUCATION

We have out-grown the days of the muzzle-loading shot gun and hard liquor much as we have passed the days of log cabin school houses and the strong armed dominie and his hickory switch. We love to ponder over the memories of the famous men and women who have come upout of these old ways of learning. But the rising generations have abridged the old saying: "What was good enough for Dad is good enough for me." And the urge in every state in the land has turned to a better and higher education for the children of the future. In fact there has arisen a keen rivalry among the various commonwealths of the Union for leadership in the arts and methods of learning. We have out-grown the days of ods of learning.

The fact that 'Knowledge is Power The fact that 'Knowledge is Power' is almost the first thing that our children learn. The old days when competition in the pursuit of a home and happiness was limited to a small horizon of native or state, has long since passed and old methods of learning will not suffice in the struggle for supremacy. The young man and woman of today must be equipped to face the competition of the entire world in what ever line of endeavor they choose for their life work. work

Steam and electricity have anihil Steam and electricity have almost ated time and space so far as travel and communication are concerned. We do not think anymore of a business trip to New Work or London than our grandfathers did of a visit to the old home over in the next county.

to the old home over in the next county.

It is said that familiarity breeds contempt, perhaps it would be better to say that learning has broken down the barrier of doubt and unbelief that the older generations knew. If some one had suggested to Rip Van Winkle that in a few short years men would be traveling through the air, he would have undoubtedly thot they were either handling the truth in a very reckless manner or entirely out of their head. out of their head.

When a man or group of men g into business and make it a success the real result of their efforts is us the real result of their efforts is usually a new firm starting business across the street. In other words the other fellow is sure that his education or knowledge is of a superior order and that he can beat the other firm at their own game Knowledge as usual wins out. Success is measured by constant study and effort.

Too many young men are prone

Too many young men are pront to remark that so and so are lucky. The big idea being that luck make The big idea being that luck makes or breaks our measure of success. But the fact remains, that most of our successful men scarcely know that there is such a word as luck, long hours of careful study and preparation for the business in hand is the real key to success.

The successful farmer, merchant or banker will invariably point back to his school days as the starting point in his career. While it is true that some have started late in life and achieved success, they are the strongest advocates of early and constant training of the child.

face to face with the fact that may mark them for life. For, if th is inadequate and crowded, the room is inadequate and crowded, the cacher is apt to become discouraged, the child does not receive proper attention and the result is apt to be an indifference that may last through life. Knowing then that an ever increasing stream of humanity is flowing into our midst and swamping our schools, it is the duty of every good citizen to make June 6 a stepping stone to success for the children of Southern California.
