

FIREMEN STREET
DANCE SUCCESS

Tripping the light fantastic to the tune of one of San Pedro's most famous orchestras last Saturday night several hundred people gathered on the wide sidewalk and danced. While the weather was a little crimp, it added to the life of the evening and the dancers lingered until a late hour for just one more fox trot.

Tickets were sold by a dozen or more girls and ladies and over $50 was realized from this source. The dancing was free to everyone as well as the coffee and sandwiches which were served from the Delta Electric Company's former office.

At 8:30 o'clock the Torrance Fire department came down the street at twenty-five miles an hour and demonstrated their fire apparatus. They had the electric siren going and showed their magnificent fire engine mounted on Ford chassis off in good shape. Chief B. F. Hannebrink had personal charge and did everything in his power to show the people of Lomita they needed just such an apparatus in case of a fire.

A short distance up the street A. J. Stinton, cashier of the State Bank of Lomita and president of the Business Men's Association of Lomita, boarded the fire wagon and when it stopped in front of the bank, made an appropriate address to the people and stated the object of the meeting, and also the part the Business Men's Association had in the movement as well as the purpose of the organization. He invited the people to come out and attend the meetings and to put in their application for membership.

A representative of the American-La France Fire Co., who furnish these machines, was here and made a very interesting address and explained his different types of fire protection devices and the price, payments, etc.

Everyone present seemed to be enthused over the proposition of securing some kind of protection and to date the committees are working to secure the first payment for Lomita's first fire department.

LOMITA LOST GAME

Well subscribers, prepare yourselves for the shock of your lives. Lomita received a licking in their own back lot Sunday, and it was a brand new lot at that. Yes folks it was sure hard luck, right after we had prepared ourselves, with a lot of expectation and everything, for a nice big victory. Somehow or other old dame fortune got twisted a little and smiled favorably upon the visitors instead of the boys of our own alleys.

Our home gang tied up with the knights of Columbus of Los Angeles, and although we received the bitter end of a 6 to 3 score we were satisfied, at the finish of the fireworks, that it was a good game. You know whenever a team loses a game there is always excuses made. And, although we are not making excuses, we would suggest that seeing so many of the team have decided that "two can live as cheaply as one" and are trying it out, we would prohibit young brides upon the grounds until say the seventh inning. By that time we will have a safe lead and then there would be no danger from nervousness.

The K. of C. team arrived like a good hand in a poker game. Few and far between. When the whole flock was finally herded on the pasture we decided to open the works. And that's right when we made our mistake. Right from the going, the namesakes of old Chris, wallowed that berry for a loop. But some how or other they only managed to drag one run home in the first. But that one was plenty. Lomita just went to the bat for the formality of the thing. It took Lomita exactly three innings to tie the score. But what was the use

Columbus came right back with two more in the fifth.

Times were plumb anxious until the ninth, when the K. C. decided they wanted three more before calling it a day. And they got them. But the old burg was fighting hard. They put two more counts on the board for Lomita before the last rites were said over the third victim. And so the story ended. But there are more games coming and we believe that the team will get into its old familiar stand once more.

BANKS CLOSE AT NOON TO PREVENT ROBBERIES

(California's Banker's Bulletin)
We are glad to note that many banks in the outlying districts have taken kindly to the suggestion of the Protective Department that they close at noontime to avoid attacks by bandits bent on robbery. The Bank of Pleasanton and the First National Bank of Pleasanton now close their doors at noon hour rather than keep open and leave the business in charge of one clerk. The banks in Placer county have adopted the same plan and many other counties have the room losing and are experiencing no loss of business, but gain in the protection of their business.

The State Bank of Lomita has always closed their doors from 12 to 1 o'clock since they occupied their new quarters and while some here would like to see the bank remain open during that time, yet Cashier A. J. Stinton believes that the protection given will explain away the cause for closing during lunch hour.

Of all the wonderful machinery of the human body, the crystalline lens of the eye is the one part which continues to increase in size throughout life.

The professor of biology at the Kansas Manual Training School says that every home should have a snake and a toad in it. The toad, he says, would keep the home free from bugs and the snake would kill the mice.

EGGS IN MANY FORMS.

Eggs are well liked, usually easy to procure and always in the market.

Eggs are food which may be given to sick or well, young and old, and served in such a variety of ways that one need never tire of them.

Scrambled Eggs.—Brown a small leek, cut in thin slices in a little butter or butter substitute. Break four eggs into a bowl, with four tablespoons of cream, four tablespoons of water, or stock, and a teaspoonful of butter; beat for a few minutes until thoroughly mixed; turn into the cooked leek and stir until the eggs are a jelly-like consistency. Serve on slices of buttered toast on a hot platter.

Poached Eggs With Tomato Sauce.—Where eggs are served at a meal for the main dish this method is a good one: Put half a can of strained tomatoes in a saucepan; add a slice of onion, a bay leaf and a sprig of celery. Cover and simmer gently for five minutes, then strain again; add two tablespoonsful of butter to two of flour and rub to a smooth paste. Stir constantly until boiling; add a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of pepper. Cover a platter with slices of bread, nicely toasted. Poach the eggs, slip them on top of the toast and pour around them the tomato sauce, sprinkled with finely minced parsley.

Eggs for Sandwich Filling.—Take as many hard cooked eggs as are needed for the number of sandwiches, chop fine and rub to a smooth paste with a little butter and a half teaspoonful of anchovy paste; salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Spread on slices of buttered bread with a crisp spray of water; terrace; cover with buttered slices and serve.

Beauregard Eggs on Toast.—Cook five eggs until hard; drop into cold water and remove the shells. Cut and separate the whites and yolks; press the yolks through a sieve and chop the whites very fine. Have ready five squares of toasted bread, placed on a platter. Prepare a rich white sauce, season well and add the chopped whites; place piping hot on the buttered toast, sprinkle with the yolks, salt and pepper, and over all a sprinkling of finely minced parsley.

THINGS TO THINK ABOUT.

The deduction made by our government scientists whose mission is to figure out just what kinds of foods are necessary to sustain the human body, is that the high cost of food is killing thousands of Americans and undermining the health of thousands of others. The reason for the casualty list is that the most expensive foods are necessary to sustain the health. Economy and necessity causes housewives to select the cheaper foods and thereby deprive their families of the important food principles.

The disease which is prevalent in undernourished children has made a great advance in the last few years. The word "acidosiis" is so new that it is not yet in our dictionary. When bread and other starchy foods are consumed most extensively, as they are in most poor families, they bring on acidosis. The principal symptom is difficulty in breathing, as the lungs are trying to eliminate the excess of poison.

Such foods as cakes, pies, hominy, bread, potatoes and hot cakes should never make up more than half the menu. Young and old should eat spinach, chard, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, turnips, onions, apples, pears, oranges, grapefruit, and other fruits, as berries.

Where it is possible to have but a small garden spot, vegetables of various kinds may be grown and thus reduce the cost of living and furnish the family with the needed food. String beans served with butter, milk, bacon fat or in salads will furnish food which contains a right proportion of the food principles.

It is pleasant to be reminded that sugar is a luxury that could be largely eliminated with no bad effects. Now that summer is with us, a diet of fresh vegetables, fruits and milk in plenty and at regular intervals will not be a diet difficult to follow.
