The Torrance Merchants played a very fast and listerenting game of the will of late Jared S. Torranes has been into prior to probate and the legal phase of the will of late Jared S. Torranes has been into prior to probate and the le laws were found to read that useds of a charitable nature are nifd unless the will was drawn inty days before death. Mr. Trance had made his will three weeks before his death, us the eight days of time will in probability prevent the Hospit Association from receiving what the Torrance deaired so much for a city to have—a first-class hostal.

When seen by a representative the "Enterprise." Dr. J. S. Lanset, president of the Torrance has a real-based team, and every one wishes it the best of success.

Torrance established several months ago is operative, and has nothing to do with his will. That gives us $700.00 per month to use in maintaining a hospital, and runs for over ninety years, but none of that money can be used for building purposes.

The domestic science home eco-nomics building has been moved back and away from the main building, making impossible for the time being the holding of classes there.

On Monday of this week we were visited by two members of the Board of Education, Mr. Melville Dozier and Mrs. Bessie D. Stoddart, who looked over our building situabetween Chautauqua and school rince last Thursday, the Chautauqua getting perhaps the lion's share. SCHAFFNER MARX SUITS HIGH OFFICIAL SENDS LEGION NOTICE

One of the most important announcements ever made in highclass merchandizing is given to the readers of the local papers this week, when Sam Rappaport—merchandise for women, misses, men's, hoys' and children, informs the public that he has just been awarded the exclusive agency for Hart Schaffner & Marx men's and boys' suits. Another important announcement in connection with the above is that boys' suits come with two pairs of trousers, which with buying a suit of the famous brand of clothes parents are practically buying two suits for the price of one.

A large and handsome plate glass cabinet was purchased at great expense to show the new line of goods.
Mr. Rappaport has flaced the show case in the center of his store. The cabinet is as designed that the side windows slide diametrically and out of sight, when the interior rack is then swung around, and may be pulled outside the case, showing the different suits of 125 at one time and may be closely inspected under fortunate indeed when he closed the deal for this handsome cabinet, as it was the only one to be had.

A beautiful line of suits for men and boys has arrived and are now being shown.
