THESE ARE BUSY DAYS AT THE HARBOR CITY CANNERY

Right now is a busy time at the Harbor City Canning Company's plant, and Manager Misuraca and his force of men are making every minute count in order to get the big plant in shape for the season's run, which will start about the first of August. Considerable new machinery is being installed, and of course the entire plant has to be gone over in order to get it in the pink of condition. Just how long the plant will be operated this year depends entirely on the amount of tomatoes the growers will be able to produce. It is thought, however, enough can be had to keep the machinery going until the early part of November.

As yet no plans have been made to keep the plant in operation during the winter months, but Manager Misuraca has several ideas in view, and it is almost a certainty that next year the Harbor City Cannery will be run at least ten months and which will not include the time necessary to change from one product to another—Harbor City Sun.

MOTHER'S CONTRIBUTION

She never "earned" any money.
She lives on an Ohio farm, but she lives on almost every other farm.
She is somebody's mother. Maybe your own.

She has earned nothing. No, but in her thirty working years she has served 235,425 meals; she has made 3190 garments, 35,500 loaves of bread, 5930 cakes, 7930 pies, 1500 gallons of lard; she has grown 1525 bushels of vegetables and 1550 quarts of fruit; she has raised 7660 chickens, churned 5460 pounds of butter, put up 3625 jars of preserves, scrubbed 177,725 pieces of laundry, and she has put in 36,640 hours sweeping, washing and scrubbing.

At accepted prices this work is worth $115,485.50. She has no bank account to show for it. She can't retire on her savings; she has to keep on.

Not earning, no. How do you define the ordinary American woman's contribution to her family's wealth—to the nation's wealth?

NEW CHAIN STORES

Worth & Company, Inc., investment bankers, 604 Markwell Building, Long Beach, have practically completed disposing of a $5,000,- 000 issue of high grade securities.
The company is now handling the stock of the National Music Stores, Inc., a $1,000,000 chain store organization, which will handle phonographs, pianos, records and rolls. A local store will soon be opened in Long Beach.

This store will be owned by local investors, who will share in the profits made by the entire chain. The proposition is backed by influential business men and bankers of the highest integrity.

Mrs. Florence S. Spaulding, a representative for the above-named company, has recently taken up her residence in Lomita, where she is making the residents of Lomita acquainted with the National Music Stores stock.

KILLED THEIR OWN CITY

When one thinks of the cities devastated by the war it is natural to recall Rheims, Lens, Louvain and Ypres, to name no others. They owed their destruction to the enemy.
They are being restored. Yet there is one city, through which no alien armies passed, which, when the war started, was greater than any of those named. Petrograd, once among the world's most magnificent capitals, is now so sad a place that one who recently visited it declared that it should bear upon its portals the passage from the Divine Comedy: "Leave hope behind, you who enter here." Arthur Holtscher, himself a Bolshevik, who believes that the red star of the soviet is the beacon light of salvation, has given a mournful description of the once great city in a brilliant book, "Three Months in Soviet Russia," which is attracting much attention in Europe. Holtscher, despite his ultra-radical leanings, has made an honest attempt to frankly describe the Russia of today, and it is a picture that he gives. How does Petrograd look to him? "There is no use mincing matters," he says.

"Petrograd is a ruined city; or, better said, it is a city that has fallen into a stupor from which there is little hope that it will revive." He tells us of who's streets, longer than Broadway, of spring streets, utterly empty and uninhab-ited. The former aristocratic quarters are described as so deserted and barren that it starts one to see a face looking out of a window.
The Bolsheviks have destroyed the great city which the enemy threatened but never entered.

THE CAVERNS OF LURAY

IN THE midst of the broad winding valley of the Shenandoah River—the "Daughter of the Stars" as the Indians called it—in northwestern Virginia, flanked on the east by a line of mountains known as the Massanottons and on the west by the main chain of the Blue Ridge range, is the quaint, oldish town of Luray.

Ten miles west is Cave Hill, under which is one of our great natural curiosities—the Luray Caverns, to which have come to wonder, study and admire, scientists, explorers and tour-lists from every quarter.

Here the mysterious workings of nature have produced a veritable underground fairy palace, with miles of passageways lined with an infinite variety of curious, gigantic and wonderful formations. Almost every object of nature seems to be reproduced with surprising reality. The indescribably fantastic groupings of the weird and grotesque formations, the beauty and the coloring of the titanic tapestry effects and the translucent and symmetrical arrangement appear to be the handiwork of nature in a playful mood.

One chamber measures almost 400 feet in length by 125 feet in width.
Others possess lofty, arched and elaborately ornamented domes. A most marvelous formation bears strong resemblance to a gigantic pipe-organ.
When struck, these "chimes" give out, low, sweet, full notes which re-echo rather spookily through the surrounding caverns.

This cavern is brilliantly electric lighted, surprisingly free from dampness—in fact the atmosphere is pleasingly delightful, the normal, year-round temperature is about 54 degrees and the journey through it an entirely new and novel and unusual sensation.

LOMITA FIRST

ONCE IN A WHILE you hear someone say:
"Good enough for this town." And worse, you hear occasionally, "Too good for this town."

Some of us, in a moment of discouragement may have been guilty of such an expression but we do not believe that any one really means anything like that.

Lomita is going to be pretty much what you and the rest of us make it. It is hardly likely that some stranger is going to come in and work any miracle for us. If Lomita deteriorates into a mediocre little town, we will be to blame—all of us. If Lomita is going to take first rank among clean, progressive and beautiful small towns, it is because all of us pull together for a better town.
And it won't be much of a job to put Lomita in the first row of extremely attractive towns. It is pretty close up now. If not, let's put it there. If it is there, let's keep it there.

So We Say There Is
