The Rev. Gordon Arthur Riegler of Cleveland, Ohio, accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Kathryn Mayberry, were in Torrance last Sunday. Mr. Riegler is establishing a new Methodist church here, and conducted services both morning and evening in the Dominguez Realty Bldg. He will conduct services there until his congregation can build a new church. The Methodists have chosen their site upon which to erect their new church.

Dr. Inwood, the district superintendent will also be in town Wednesday evening, at which time there will be a business meeting, and all interested in the new project are invited to attend.

Mr. Riegler has recently come from the east, where he has had considerable experience, building and organizing a new church.

Mrs. F. W. Warren entertained Mr. Riegler and Mrs. Mayberry at dinner and tea, and Mr. Emmet SStranahan showed them about the town. Mr. Riegler was greatly impressed with the many industries here, and sees a great future for his church and Torrance.

"MY ROSE"

By HELLEN ETHNEY WEBB
Daughter of Mrs. A. Butler, Ceta Avenue

When first I found you, my rose,
'Twas in my garden fair;
The wind made music in the trees,
A sweet perfume filled the air.

Just a dark red rose,
Untouched by blast or rain;
In my garden I longed to transplant you,
But then that I longed in vain.

The tints from your cheeks have faded,
Auburn hair grow gray,
But the light in your eyes shines brighter
Than it did on yesterday.

You have kept the faith fires burning,
When mine would fain grow dim,
Ruling with firm but loving hand,
And the light that shone from within.

You gave of your deep rich beauty,
As you unfolded from sweetheart to wife,
And your fragrance fills my garden,
My home, my love, my life.

Last week a volunteer was asked for to climb the Legion flag pole in order to put the rope through. Nelson Reeve performed this stunt with Fred Rees assisting.

TRUSTEES VISIT CULVER CITY BOARD

Board of Trustees of the newly incorporated City of Torrance were guests of the governing body of Culver City at its regular meeting last Monday night. The visiting officers showed interest in the proceedings of the local Board, and incidentally put in a good word for their home town.

After the business meeting the trustees adjourned to the clubhouse, where refreshments were served and prominent citizens were gathered to meet the visitors.

President George A. Proctor of the Torrance Board of Trustees outlined the situation of his city. Torrance was farther advanced than Culver City at the time of its incorporation. It had sewers in, eleven miles of paved streets, water, gas and electricity. With such a start it looked as if the Board of Trustees would have no troubles at all.

They soon found that the bright sky of uneventful administration was clouding up. The city had been incorporated at the wrong time. Bills were coming in and the tax payments, which constituted the only means of meeting the bills, would not be available for another year. The city expenses had to be met, and the situation called for financial genius. Things are now beginning to work out better.

Torrance has many important industries, including a glass factory, Pacific Electric shops and important iron works. It has, however, no motion picture studios, which led to a good-natured discussion between Manager M. D. Gardner of the Goldwyn Studios and Mayor Proctor. It seems that hampering by police officials of a company on location in Torrance has forever banned that city from the list of good towns in the eyes of the "movies."

The visitors from Torrance were: Trustees George A. Proctor, W. H. Gilbert, J. M. Fitzgerald and J. F. Stone and City Clerk R. J. Deninger. They are all members of the first city administration. They expressed themselves as impressed with the rapid growth and flourishing state of this community.

As Others See Us

October 17, 1921.

Mr. C. P. Roberts.

Torrance, California.

My dear Mr. Roberts—I have been requested by some of the citizens of Torrance to express my opinion of this thriving little city to which I have been appointed as the official representative of the Methodist-Episcopal church.

Nothing can give me more pleasure than to give my candid opinion of this beautiful little city. Its thriving industries, its well-paved and well-lighted streets, the generally attractive plan, the various buildings and thrift of the people.

Being a churchman, it is natural to associate the church with the city. My coming, in itself, is no important event, but to come to establish the Methodist-Episcopal church is a great task, but one which is worthy of your city. Whether I succeed or not depends somewhat upon the co-operation of the people.

I do not come as a competitor of any pastor already in Torrance. I should be sorry if Protestant or Catholic or those of no creed, should regard me as an enemy or competitor. I do not come as such. I come as the friend and ally of all, who seek to make for the progress of Torrance. I am here as a servant of the people of Torrance.

If I am correct in the statement that there will be with the establishment of Methodism four churches in Torrance, and there are 3000 inhabitants in the city, we are responsible for the spiritual, moral, intellectual and recreational life of approximately 750 persons. I can safely promise to these 750 persons and the entire city that the Methodist church will do everything in her power to meet all the needs of the people by establishing a church with a great forward program—a program which will appeal to every red-blooded man and every womanly woman, to every youth and every girl, and to those of every age and every condition.

All that Methodism asks of Torrance is to give her the fairest opportunity to assist the other churches, the industries, the officials, the community and last, but not least, every individual who needs her.

With all the good wishes for Torrance, I am,

Faithfully her servant,
GORDON A. RIEGLER.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stone entertained Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Salvason and daughter, Marquita, of Fullerton, and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Finkus of Lomita Saturday and Sunday. All attended the Firemen's Ball on Saturday evening.
