PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY

At the home of Mrs. Geo. Hall of South Narbonne a very pleasant surprise shower was given last Thursday afternoon for her daughter, Mrs. Emma J. Ryder, who is to be married soon. The honor guest was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents, and were very much appreciated. A beautiful cake decorated with a miniature bride was presented by Mrs. L. M. Pollock and greatly admired. While refreshments were being served many fine selections of music were rendered by Mrs. Hans Anderson and Mrs. C. F. Farquhar.

The guests were Mrs. C. F. Farquhar, Mrs. Ben Vivian, Mrs. S. B. Farquhar, Mrs. Chas. Hatfield, Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. Harry Phillip, Sr., Mrs. J. H. Samuels, Mrs. L. M. Pollock, Mrs. Ed. Aber, Mrs. J. A. Smith, Mrs. John Sidebotham, Sr., Mrs. Chas. Sidebotham, Mrs. J. L. Johnson, Mrs. O. D. Pearce, Mrs. J. M. Archer, Mrs. Ed. Spence, Mrs. Hans Anderson, Mrs. Geo. Hall, Mrs. Emma Rider of Lomita and Mrs. D. Hogal, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. Lilly, Mrs. J. Badegley, Mrs. E. Chase and Mrs. Hooper of Redondo Beach. Mrs. Ryder is to become the bride of Mr. Herman Forsyth, a business man of Los Angeles.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Friends of Mrs. Swift gathered at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Colson, of Oak street, Thursday evening to honor her birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Grove presented her with a beautiful cake from the Globe Bakery. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. Hayden, Mr. H. F. Schmidt, Wm. Herrin and Mr. and Mrs. J. Colson.

The Stranger

A stranger knocked at a man's door and told him of a fortune to be made, says the Atlanta Georgian. "U'm," said the man. "It appears that considerable effort will be involved."

"Oh, yes," said the stranger, "you will pass many sleepless nights and tollsome days."

"Uh," said the man, "and who are you?"

"I am called Opportunity."

"Uh," said the man, "you call yourself Opportunity, but you look like Hard Work to me."

And he slammed the door.

THE MAN WHO DELIVERS THE GOODS

There's a man in the world who is never turned down
Wherever he chaws to stray:
He gets the glad hand in the populous town
Or out where the farmers make hay.

He's greeted with pleasure on deserts of sand,
And deep in the aisles of the woods.

Wherever he goes there's the welcoming hand;
He's The Man Who Delivers the Goods.

The failures of life sit around and complain
The gods haven't treated them right;

They've lost their umbrellas whenever there's rain,
And they haven't their lanterns at night.

Ven tire of failures who fill with their sighs
The air of their own neighborhoods;

Here's the man who is greeted with love-lighted eyes,
He's The Man Who Delivers the Goods.

One fellow is lazy and watches the clock
And waits for the whistle to blow;

One has a hammer with which he will knock,
And one tells the story of woe;

And one, if requested to travel a mile,
Will measure the perches and roods;

But one does his "stunt" with a whistle or smile;
He's The Man Who Delivers the Goods.

Being an Editor

Most any man can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days a week, four weeks a month, and twelve months a year, and edit copy like this:

"Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let an opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry. Joe Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell, landing on his back porch.

While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square. Mr. Frang, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of his corn crib."

A Sheep of the Old Block

The keen-eyed woman looked at the meat displayed on the butcher's stall for some minutes, and then exclaimed: "Is that English mutton?"

"Well, as a matter of fact," replied the butcher, "the sheep was born in New Zealand. But madam, it is of English parents!"
