If you can't be a pine on top of the hill
Be a scrub in the valley—but be The best little scrub by the side of the hill.
Be a bush if you can't be a tree;
If you can't be a sun be a star;
Be the best little booster wherever you are.

THE CHILDREN'S CORNER

By Mrs. N. K. Wood

THE TURNING LATHE

On a hot summer day a lean, lank poorly dressed country lad stalked into a big furniture manufacturing establishment in search of work.
He appeared so needy that the manager hated to turn him down; so he asked the lad what kind of work he wanted. Just anything, he said.
The crops all failed and there was nothing doing at home.

Now, there was a turning lathe that needed hand power, so the man said:

"How much will you ask for a day's work, serving eight hours daily?"

"I'll work a week for my board and go home at night to sleep."

This was agreed upon and the lad went to work at noon. His lunch was a half herring.

The next day he took his place at the wheel, and as he turned the crank he sang a low strain of music, slowly keeping time with every turn. The words were a h-a-l-f a herring, a h-a-l-f a herring (as if half asleep). At lunch he was giving a whole herring. So he quickened his speed to a whole herring tune.

The master noticed his speed increase, so he gave him a whole herring and a half next day, which caused the lad to straighten himself and apply more force. This pleased the master and he gave in addition to the herring a piece of bread and butter.

The lad put on full steam and sang, "A whole herring and a half and a piece of bread and butter," and the turning lathe sent forth such a hum that the noise of the finger was hushed.

The master said as the lad left the house:

"Tomorrow I shall put you in the business as an apprentice. You are the kind of stuff I am looking for to make a skillful workman.
You will not shrink from hardship and will bear promotion."

Doesn't this remind you of One who is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think?

A wag recently wrote of the modern home, their environments and lack of influence, with their etc. and tigaretts, their kitchenets, etc.
Then asked what sort of people they he next generation would be.

Household Hints

When cutting out clothing, lay the paper pattern on the material and press with a warm—not hot—iron. This will cause the paper to cling to the cloth and saves much pinning and unpinning.

Canned milk can be whipped by placing the can in water and heating to boiling. Remove promptly and thoroughly chill by plunging into ice-cold water. When cool open and pour the contents into a chilled bowl which has been placed in another bowl containing cracked ice.
When the milk is thoroughly cold whip with an egg beater in the usual way. Any flavoring may be added.

Dry celery leaves and crush them into a powder, add salt, and you have celery salt for seasoning.

Sixty-one years ago the first prune tree of California were brought over from France. This year California is shipping to France one million five hundred thousand prune trees to replace ruined orchards.

In making coffee add a dried prune and it will improve the flavor and give the coffee a richer color.
This helps to make coffee digestible.

Dates and prunes when cooked should be eaten as puddings in the mid-day meal at either lunch or dinner.

HIT AND MISS ANTHOLOGY

(By HOMER FORT)

California Exposed

He wrote back home in jaunty style
And said he'd put them wise:
"The Golden State, 'twill make you smile,
It's just a pack of lies."

"The weather here," he said, "is mild,
And balmy none denies;
But climate, shucks, why any child Would know it was all lies."

"The thunder, too, it has no clap:
The rain is small in size,
And sleet and snow not on the map—
Oh, how the booster lies."

"The winter here is merely spring;
The summer never tries;
There are no seasons, not a thing.
But isothermal lies!"

"The flowers bloom most all the year,
The natural law defies;
I'll now admit, it doth appear,
There are some partial lies."

"Of course, the balmy, sunny climate
Is not a wild surmise;
But people boost it all the time—
I most believe their lies."

He stayed a year and then he wrote:
"I've told some whopping lies;
This climate sure has got my goat,
I think it paradise!"

TWO PILGRIMS

1621 ----- 1921

The first fall harvest of the Pilgrim Fathers, just three centuries ago, typified THRIFT.

Golden grain and fat turkeys meant more to them than bags of gold as they faced the long New England winters.

Time moved on and our nation prospered. Our definition of harvest has broadened, but we are none the less thankful for our stored-up thrift.

Today it is often the growing BANK ACCOUNT that we are thankful for.
Many folks have had occasion to thank the intelligence which prompted a saving account.

After all, MONEY is the real harvest —the ultimate return on our labors—bringing us the comforts and joys of living.

This bank HELPS you save—by adding 4 per cent. $5 a week will mean more than $260 to your account before NEXT Thanksgiving Day.
