RADICALISM

The deadliest propaganda now being carried on in this country is that which seeks to undermine faith in the principles and ideals which we, as a people, have most deeply cherished.

Those who feel that there is no reason for apprehension need be reminded that five hundred radical newspapers and thousands of radical speakers, representing many millions and international organizations, are expending many millions are superturbed to overthrow the United States Government, working ceaslessly to break down the morale of our citizenship, claiming that they are the voice of liberalism and the only true representatives of social progress. These malign forces are fomenting revolution. By destructive criticism, adroit misrepresentation, malicious but trenchant phrase-making, they are trying to ruin confidence in the fundamentals and safeguards that have been and are today our greatest national assets. By invoking their rights of freedom of speech and freedom of the press they are inciting mob violence, destruction of life and property, attacking the Government and in every way possible abusing the power that has been granted them. This claim that freedom of speech and the freedom of the press gives warrant for spoken and printed proclamation of sedition and all manner of disloyalty has reached an intolerant stage. Radicalism always represents a reactionary extreme; in its very nature it is abnormal.

This Government is the safest and most dependable the world has ever known. During the past eight years of war and partial reconstruction, the truth and strength and vitality of the beliefs and ideals which have been brought to their greatest development and demonstration supremely demand strongest defense and loyalty.

Keep Chicks Free

For the curing of ordinary de angements of digestion we know nothing better than a solution of condensed buttermilk. Chicks should said franchise will be awarded to when they are seven days old. Give of Torrance the greatest sum as them a five per cent solution (one part condensed buttermilk to 19 parts water) from morning until noon, about three times per week After they are five weeks old watch carefully for any appearance of coccidiosis, and in the event that blood is noticed in the droppings, there are three things to do at once. First, reduce the mash at least 50 per cent. Second, give 10 per cent solution buttermilk for one day, and remove all other drinking water. Continue with a five per cent solution of buttermilk for three or four days. Third, give the chicks an abundance of green food, and in severe cases remove all

The chicks an abundance of green food, and in severe cases remove all mash and feed only grain feed with the greens. Place a board in front of the drinking fountain so that the first sign of blood will be de-tected. Blood in the droppings will show in from 48 to 72 hours be-fore the chicks actually begin to die from coccidiosis. The "Co-Opera-tive Poultryman," issue of June. 1919, goes quite fully into causes and prevention of coccidiosis; and the April, 1920, issue is entirely devoted to the proper use of but-termilk.

We can't imagine anything that would stir up as much trouble in this country as to have a national "Tell-the-Truth-Week."
