TORRANCE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Inman spent Sunday with friends in Sawtelle.

J. W. Jons, Frank W. Shedd and M. May attended the Realtors' convention held in El Monte last Thursday.

Mrs. Melville Roberts has been called East by the death of her mother, Mrs. A. R. Shirley, of Point Pleasant, West Virginia.

The friends of W. C. Von Hagen will be glad to hear of his convalescence after a two weeks' illness.

Mrs. Charlotte L. Wood of Long Beach has purchased a lot on Carson street, opposite the high school, through the agency of the Torrance Investment Company.

C. L. MacFarland of Long Beach, who owns two acres just north of the Peterson-Barker wildcat well, has refused an offer of $10,000 cash for the property.

Henry F. Fox of Sawtelle and Jacob Fox of San Diego were business visitors in Torrance Tuesday. Mr. Fox hopes to come to Torrance in the near future to build a home.

Rev. A. J. Boelter of Los Angeles was present at a meeting in Central church Monday evening and conducted the last quarterly conference for this church year. The reports showed a very prosperous year for this church.

Prof. Hugh A. Owen of the city high school of Oxnard, was a guest at the Evangelical parsonage last Saturday night. Prof. Owens and Mr. Zeller were fellow residents at Riverdale, Calif., for a few years before Mr. Zeller's transfer to Torrance.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurum E. Reeve and mother motored to Redlands, Riverside, Colton and San Bernardino Tuesday, making a one day's flying trip of 180 miles and visited briefly in the above cities. They had lunch at the Casa Loma Hotel, Redlands.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pennington, Mrs. Mae Powers and J. A. Powers spent a very enjoyable weekend trip to Tia Juana and San Diego. Mrs. Pennington has just recently arrived from Washington, D. C., and was very much delighted with the trip.

Comedy A-Plenty at Tor. Theatre

Mabel Normand in "Suzanna," an Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release, coming to the Torrance Theatre May 13 and 14, will have a role in which not only the merry, elfin quality of her exquisite art will be given delightful play, but in which she will be able to reveal those deeper and finer elements of her acting which have until now, never been fully disclosed.

Miss Normand will be seen in plenty of comedy episodes. Her childish pranks are life of the picture and the bane of George Nichol's existence.

Farnum Explains
Thomas R. Marshall's now classic remark, "What this country needs more than anything else is a good five-cent cigar," was revived recently at the Fox studio, during a lull in the shooting of some scenes for "Brass Commandments," which comes to the Torrance Theatre May 15 and 16 for a two days' run.

One of the extras was puffing away at something that aroused Director Lynn Reynolds' suspicions. "What's that?" asked Mr. Reynolds. "A five-cent cigar," answered the extra.

And then William Farnum settled the problem once and for all. "What this country needs," said the famous star, "is toupees for bald-headed eagles."

Took Greeley's Advice
Horace Greeley advised young men to go West—Thomas Melghan went West and came home broke, —so the townspeople thought—in "Back Home and Broke," his new Paramount picture, which is to be the feature on the bill at the Torrance Theatre May 17 and 18. Melghan took Mr. Greeley's advice, went West but when he returned he was "roasted" by his fellow townsmen and the newspapers printed sarcastic articles about him. Some lively action follows, brimming with laughs. Lila Lee, who heads an impressive cast, has the role of a small town sweetheart in the picture, which was directed by Alfred Green. The cast generally is of the finest grade.

Beauty and Ambition
Dorothy Manners, who appears in support of Jack Pickford in his latest photoplay triumph, "Garrison's Finish," an Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation release booked at the Torrance Theatre May 19, is two things simultaneously and constantly—charming and ambitious.

It was while she was playing on the musical comedy stage that Miss Manners first took the notion to enter motion picture work and she hastened to Hollywood. Her natural charm was such that she experienced no difficulty in getting small parts in various pictures at the inception and then she got more important work to do. The favorable impression she created brought about her selection for her present role in "Garrison's Finish."

Mrs. Ralph Satchell is confined to her home at the El Prado with tonsillitis.

Mrs. Willis Brooks of 214th street has been threatened with pneumonia for two weeks, but is reported better.

John Pederson has added to his equipment a new concrete mixer to be used in building foundations, sidewalks, curbs, etc.

Mrs. Fanny E. King is now located in her new office in the Erwin Hotel, with the Butter Milk Bar Cafe.

Mrs. Nettie Steinhilber, Mrs. John Gay, Mrs. John Guyan and Mrs. George D. Watson attended the Past Commanders' Association meeting in Pasadena Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Newby, Mr. and Mrs. William Gascoigne, Maxine Gascoigne and Irene and Billie Newby motored to Redondo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hagerson and son Jimmie of Los Angeles, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Murray, 1912 Andreo avenue, Wednesday night.

TRY A WANTAD IN THIS PAPER.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Finney and Mr. and Mrs. Barry motored to Corona Sunday to visit Mrs. Finney's brother, Joe Busby.

C. F. Voss, a real estate broker of Long Beach, already a Torrance property owner, was here Monday looking over other property with a view to purchasing.

C. L. MacFarland and C. D. Baker and daughter Phyllis of Long Beach were business visitors at the Torrance Investment Company's office Monday. Already property owners here, both gentlemen are looking over this territory with a view of further investment in oil properties.
