TALKS BY THOSE WHO THINK

BETWEEN now and June 30 congress must decide one of the most momentous questions which ever faced the American People. Upon that date expires the immigration law, which limits the number of aliens entering the United States in a fiscal year to 3 per cent of the foreign-born persons of such nationality in the United States as shown by the census of 1910. "If that body fails to re-enact the present act or does not pass a new law making some such numerical restriction of aliens entering the United States, then the flood gates will be open and undoubtedly there will be the greatest inundation of for-eigners through the portals of our immigration receiving stations which this or any other nation has ever known, for there are literally millions of aliens in Europe and the Near East eagerly and anxiously waiting for an oppor-tunity to migrate to this country," James J. Davis, secretary of labor, said in a recent interview.

"Generally speaking, then the only checks upon unlimited immigration will be the laws excluding the Chinese and Asiatics living within the barred zone, the acts excluding ing the importation of women for immoral purposes and barring idiots and others mentally deficient and likely to become public charges; criminals, polygamists, contract laborers, anarchists; diseased; the undertanding with the Japanee government whereby laborers will be discouraged from emigrating from Japan to the United States; and people unable to pass a literacy test, reading understandingly about 40 words in some language selected by the immigrant.

"The fact that nearly a million aliens came into the United States in the fiscal year 1921 shows how inadequate such restrictions are in limiting the number of aliens who desire to get into this country.

"What such a tide of unlimited immigration would do to American ideas and ideals, customs, manners, government, economics, business, labor, art, religion and education is a matter of debate. Whether such vast throngs could be assimilated and Americanized or would eventually submerged. is a matter of debate. Whether such vast throngs could be assimilated and Americanized or would eventually submerge and absorb the American people, as the old Roman civilization was completely submerged by the hordes which once migrated into that fair land for peaceful purposes, is also a matter for much argument. Nevertheless, the fact remains that the United States did not assimilate or Americanize many millions of the 35,000,000 who have come within our borders since the year 1820.

"As a naturalized immigrant, who came over in the steerage with my mother and five other children more than 42 years ago. I can look at this problem through the eyes 42 years ago, I can look at this problem through the eyes of the immigrant as well as with the eyes of a patriotic American who has a deep interest in the future of our common country.

"I am for an immigration policy truly American, drawn by Americans, administered by Americans, for the benefit of America of today and in the future. I would not, as some people advocate, lower the bars and return to the former unrestricted immigration. Indeed, I would increase the restrictions. I would bar every individual who is physically, mentally or morally unsound or whose political or economic views constitute a menace to free institutions

WE HAVE TO BE SKEPTICAL
It seems to be common supposition that the big business men of New York are the superiors of business men of the 'provinces. After reading the New York papers with their stories of little boys being intrusted to carry hundreds of thousands of dollars through the streets, and their stories about big business men and their loves and love letters, we doubt it.

A Shrine of Pulchritude

By THE MYSTERIOUS COWBOY

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever"-so sang an old-time poet and so sings the world for all time to come. If personal beauty is delightful, then personal charm is luscious, delectable. It may be "skin deep" but the surface is the thing that captivates us; and if that which is pleasant to look upon is to continue in the attractive state, then assuredly it must be guarded against the ravages of time and the stains of life.

A beauty subject is a refreshing one, even if a humble cowboy must treat of a sphere which he knows not of. This writer, in conversation with that able doctor of beauty—D. Priscilla Thomas, who conducts the Priscilla Beauty Shoppe at '1313 El Prado—learned of the unmistakable benefits which ensue from the scientific care of one's charms. Of course I am speaking of the pulchritude of ladies, not the bandsome male, who must take care of himself.

D. Priseilla Thomas is a charming little lady, and she is, also D. Prisella Thomas is a charming little lady, and she is, also, master of the art which she so ably practices at her shop. She is a most busy little lady, her time all taken up with the demands of her many feminine customers. That she is intensely interested in her work and goes about her duties in a sincere and thorough manner I need not tell you. Her patrons are ever pleased with her care and manifest much confidence in the demure little business lady. Her service embraces all of the important features of a well conducted house of beauty culture.

D. Priscilla Thomas is a Montana girl. She has been coming to California since she was ten years of age. Now living in the Southland for quite a number of years, she has tied her star to Torrance. This beauty doctor first learned of this thriving place through the press. She was quick to sense the future importance of formace; and so she has come to do her place in the public services.
