Four hundred and ninety-nine wallowed the Issuit, but one large, innt-built warrior moved uneasily and, stepping from the line, he said: "You can't lick me, Mike Hennessey."

"Oh, I can't, can't I?" yelled Hennessey."

Hennessey.

"No, you can't," was the determined answer.

"Well, thin, go to the office an' get your money," said Hennessey.

Last year there were waged many merry debates between cleveland and Chicago fans as to whether Willie Kamm or Rube Lutzke was the better third faseman. Opinion was divided in both towns, oddly enough. Kamm was obtained by Chicago Sox from the Pacific Coast for a fortune. The announced signing of Harry Wills and Luis Firpo for a battle August 30, practically announces, also, that Jack Dempsey will confine his flighting to the movie-glot for the rest of-1994.

Rickard is staging the Firpo-Wills flight He will also stage the next Dempsey battle, when the heavyweight champion does finally risk his title again. And, Tex is too wise a shownian to run two such battles close together. Too much of a chance of the second one failing to draw. He has said himseif that from three to six months is needed to work up the proper interest in a heavyweight championship bout.

The unfortunate part about the Firpo-Wills hattle is that it will be a no-decision affair. This YOUNG WOMAN wants work in private home; steady work pre-ferred; experienced. Box R. No. Herald office. The unfortunate part about the Firpo-Wills battle is that it will be a no-decision affair. This means that Wills probably will try to stay the limit with the Argentine wild man. Were it to be a decision affair Wills would be forced to wade in and fight and at least try to knock the South American out.

Leslie Burke, rookie Infielder, is the latest newcomer to find himself given a real chance by Ty Cobb, astue Tiger leader. Pleased with the brilliant performance of Earl Whitehill when that pitcher was given his chance in the box, Cobb recently offered Leslie Burke a chance to hold dewn second base regularly. The Georgia Peach called the youngster from the bench one day and sent him in to repelace Derrill Pratt. "The job is FOUR-ROOM modern house, double garage; concrete cellar; lawn and flowers. HAW!

HAW! HAW!

After watching a pitcher win his own game in the ninth with a bome run Hill Shakespeare on the comarked "He who laughs last laughs best."

Wid Matthews, late of the Milwantee A. A. team and now with the Washington club, will couch for the truth of this old saw, the now has the borse laugh on Connie Mack.

Last year, after getting a brilliant start with the Athletics, Matthews was beneful of the Milwantee. This season Griffith granteed him off. Now Matthews, carned by a tail-end outfit, starring with a league-leading and pennani-flirting team. Wherefore the lond haw, haw!

Ed Rommel last spring made the tank statement that Slim Harris, one of his pitching mates, was the cest pitcher in the business. Harring felding, however, prevented him from showing that class most of the time, it was pointed out. The other day Harris stepped in against the Red Sox and shut them out. They (the pessimists and knockers) say that all sentiment is gone from baseful. Let them, therefore, read of the case of Earl Combs, it will be recalled, sustained a fractured and dislocated ankle in changing his mind after starting a side for home during a game in Cleveland recently. The injury sent him to the hospital. The Yanks, of course, kept on their way when the Cleveland series ended. And Combs' dull days at the hospital were shortened by the receipt, of scores of letters from Cleveland fans cheering him up. The writers, all of whom signed their names, commended him for his gameness in "keeping his head up and smilling" while being carried off the field.
