MRS. TOLSON GIVES VERY PRETTY PARTY

One of the smartest affairs in Torrance to celebrate St. Valentine's Day was a party given by Mrs. Phoebe Tolson at her home, 1932 Arlington avenue, on Saturday afternoon.

The house was appropriately decorated with red hearts and beautiful valentines and immense bunches of red carnations.

The centerpiece on the table was a pond and the fishermen were represented by kewpie dolls.

An original, fascinating Valentine crossword puzzle kept the merry guests occupied a good part of the afternoon.

An interesting game was the piercing of large hearts, suspended in the room with arrows.

Those having the largest score were awarded honors.

Heart-shaped ice cream and holiday cookies were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Margaret Proctor.

The guests, who were all officers in the Royal Neighbors in 1924, were Mrs. Eva Woodside, Mrs. Julia Hale, Mrs. Susie Conner, Mrs. Mary Wertz, Mrs. Helena Miller, Mrs. Anna Sandstrom, Mrs. Pearl Sharps, Mrs. Louise Walker, Mrs. Edna Meinzer, and Mrs. Lizzie Benzel.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS ENJOY PICNIC

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Benzel, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Helton, Mrs. M. Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. Wertz, Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Traubnick, and Mrs. Benjamin Traubnick, Torrance members of the Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen, enjoyed their first picnic on Sunday, Feb. 15, on the site of the Modern Woodmen Country Club, adjacent to Orange County Park, in Santa Ana canyon.

The Torrance camp was the first to subscribe to the fund being raised to build the auditorium.

MR. AND MRS. MOORE ENTERTAIN AT CARDS

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Moore were host and hostess at an enjoyable "five hundred" party on Saturday evening.

Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stone of Athens, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bartlett, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stanger.

Mrs. Moore, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Stanger, served delicious refreshments.

Tables and fruits from which to make their selections.

C. M. Howard, manager of the grocery department, has been making heroic efforts to overcome the many difficulties incidental to the opening of an entirely new place of business in a new building.

To get the market open in time for Saturday trade, and his success will be somewhat of an achievement.

Bayhill Brothers, who have charge of the meat market, have stocked with an entire carload of choice meats for opening sales.

Announcement of their special opening offerings will be found in the advertising columns of this issue.

SCHOOL NEWS

On Thursday evening a dress rehearsal of the play, "A Full House," given by the Women's Club of Torrance, was staged for the pupils of the high and elementary schools.

Gay L. Mowry is absent on account of his home being quarantined, but, as Mr. Mowry is staying at the home of his parents, it is expected he will be back the first of the week.

Monday, Feb. 23, is not a school holiday, but plans are under way for a patriotic program.

There is a bill before the legislature to make Armistice Day a regular school holiday.

Every person in Torrance above the age of 12 years should hear Judge Lindsay of Denver. He is available at 2 p. m. on Thursday, May 7. This is the only hour that his services can be obtained.

He looked forward to the day, not far distant, when Latin-American will be imbued with the "great spirit of American enterprise," and lauded the committee in charge of the tour for thus seeking to increase industrial understanding between the people of North and South America.

Mr. Davies of Great Britain looked upon the movement to acquaint the foreign agents with industrial conditions in the Southland as a great benefit to the promotion of trade and world peace.

have learned that your Southern California is a great industrial center. I am impressed, especially so since everyone who has studied world conditions knows that this is the era of the Pacific.

The speaker made a plea for better understanding among the nations and declared that the Japanese are a peace-loving people and in no way imperialistic, as those who misunderstand their national aspirations would have Americans understand.

Thanks Committee Mr. Egan of Ecuador was enthusiastic in his thanks to the Torrance committee for their courtesy and to the Southland for making the industrial tour possible.

"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

Life wouldn't be half so interesting in these parts if you couldn't occasionally see some local prominent citizen trying to direct some stranger motorist from the corner of Marcelina and Sartori to the corner of say Cota and Engracia.

Folks from York is having a swell laugh on us because in the paper that we run joshes in about York had printed in it some local items that was equal laughable and we don't care because we know that if we can interest all the ex-Yorkers in Torrance in this paper even to the extent of making them laugh at us why our circulation list will always be large.

They was one ex-Yorker who give a party not long ago to a crowd of old Nebraska friends and the street in front of his house looked like a used Ford market. Famous triple plays—Detroit to York to Torrance.

To The Bat: Try me again. I've been feeling punk the last few days. Besides we've used most of the names for your charades before.

But I'm willing to run a free adv. for the Women's Club play, even if old Rufus Page is going to be in it. (I wonder if he's going to wear his red necktie the night of the show.) Floyd Parker is in the show too, as a married man, and he says that's all right on the stage.

Next time I get a letter telling me what a swell guy I am I'll tell a gonna show it to the bus, mgr. says Ras. Tell that to the Mgr. says W. Post, the banker.

It looked like a frameup to me, says Verne Babcock—Ras ain't modest. Well, anyway, says Ras, if Will Farrell wants to run for office I'll vote for him.

Bob Deinger and the bus, mgr. is wearing fancy handkerchiefs sticking out of their breast pockets. I don't know how us married men would ever keep up with the fashions if it wasn't for the continuous style show put on by the ballwick's sheiks.

Doc Shidler took a slant at the bus, mgr.'s handkerchief and pretty soon was wearin one his self.

Back in York and Flint handkerchiefs was used to blow your snoot with and not to adorn your person.

But I suppose no Sunkist sheik would blow his nose in public.

With handkerchiefs like the boys is wearing now they is all stuffed up and no place to blow.

Just after I wrote the parenthetical note about Rufus Page's red necktie in he comes with a new one in a bag that he had just bought and that night he wore it to the Episcopal dinner and Jim Fitzhugh thought Rufus's throat had been cut until Willis Brooks told him it was only a nosckleed.

Senator George Neill was telling some of the boys the other day that something should ought to be done to get that lot next to his office cleaned up. They is papers littered all over the lot, says Geo. I wish I knew who threw them papers on that lot. So the boys goes out on the lot as a committee to investigate and they found out that all the papers that was littering up the property was envelopes addressed to Geo. Neill and the Neill Realty Co. Nobuddy was hurt.

Art Meinzer says he can't see why we should vote for bonds to build a trunk line to serve Torrance when we already got two railroads coming into town.

Hurum Reeve is down to San Diego today to make a talk at a Winchester Arms meeting and opined before he left that he might also study economic conditions in old Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thomas to 1020 North Arlington avenue were dinner guests of Miss Walker in Long Beach Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis entertained a small group of friends at 6 o'clock dinner Saturday in honor of their son Charlie's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers and Mrs. Conners, from Santa Monica, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Frank Reed of 1811 Gramercy avenue Thursday.
