"Pretty Ladies" at the Torrance

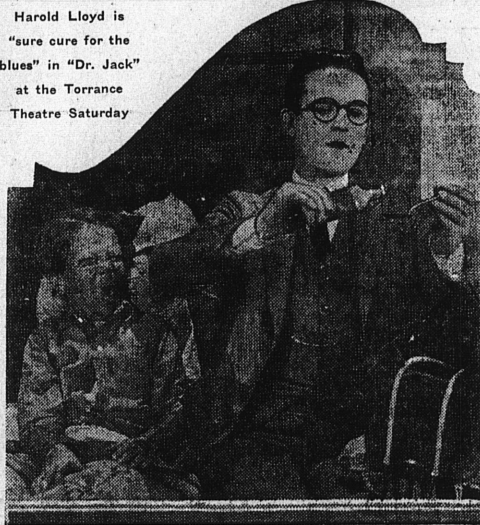

Scene from "PRETTY LADIES"

At the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday

"The truest story ever told about Broadway," will no doubt be the verdict of all who ever tread the world-famous street, after they have acquainted themselves with the glamorous contents of "Pretty Ladies." Then, too, the line will serve as about the sincerest recommendation of the photoplay to those to whom Broadway is foreign territory.

"Pretty Ladies," based on a Cosmopolitan magazine story, deals with the Follies, before the foot-lights and behind the scenes along Broadway. It reveals to the theatre-going public just what the little intimacies are in theatrical life. It shows stage folks as human, as faulty—and as good—as the rest of us.

Makes Night Driving SAFE

The Controllable Beam on the Better Buick
Night driving strain, the blind insecurity when you dim to keep glare out of the eyes of an approaching driver—both have been eliminated by the Controllable Beam Headlight, a feature of the Better Buick.

Daytime visibility every inch of the way! Bright light all the time! A simple control on the steering wheel lowers the beam when you near another car.

And this is only one of many 1926 improvements which Buick engineering has given to the Better Buick. 75 horsepower and more; Duotone in Duce finish; Triple Sealed Valve-in-Head engine; light-pedal-pressure clutch; approved mechanical 4-wheel brakes; and many other exclusive advancements now make the Better Buick the better car to own and drive.

Police and Fountain News!

Sodas and Sundaes, Lemons and Limes,
All mixed up in pretty rimes—
Wilted collars, beaded brows—
Malted Milk, and some from cows.
Chilly ices, cold frappes,
Made in many cunning ways,
Take the heat from parching throats—
Don't this poetry get your goat?
JOHNNY QUAVE.

Armour, Carnegie & Volstead!

There MAY be a better known tonic than Todco Beef, Iron & Wine, but so far as WE know, it heads the list. It's just this season of the year that makes a high test tonic profitable to take. This week our price is 79c the bottle.

Alcohol!

There's a lot of folks who believe that it's only our lungs that breathe. Try a hot bath, plenty soap, plenty rub, and then dose on PLENTY RUBBING ALCOHOL! Darned if you won't breathe ALL OVER! Todco sort sells for 50c a pint.

Printer Makes a Mistake!

It was not our intention to advertise TWO box candies on the same day, but evidently the printer had sampled some of our Saylor's brand and wanted to see other folks have as good a time as he did. Cost him $1.50 to $3.00 a box.

Milk of Magnesia!

All you have to do to come into possession of a pint of Milk of Magnesia is to plank down 39c and it's yours.

A Medium-Sized Outburst!

I'm sure glad that everyone doesn't like the drug store business as much as I do. If they did, they'd climb into it and then look at the competition I'd have!

There's a raft of folks who can see no romance in pills and perfumeries and hot water bottles and soap, but me, I get plenty kick outa all of them and a box of thumb tacks carries a lotta thrills for me! I don't have to sit on 'em to get said thrill either!

All of which outburst leads up to the fact I've noticed most everywhere and in most everybody. Isn't it true we like to do business with the man who loves his work, his job and the product he's selling. Ain't it so?

And this sure applies tight and close to us folks around this store of ours. I don't believe any of us would swap jobs, swap businesses even with better financial prospects!

And if any of you readers doubt this, step in some day and see if you can find a frown or a grouch or a peeve anywhere! And that's THAT!

DOC FINSTER.

RAS SAYS:

If you don't get more kick out of this job than I am now, I'm going to be the crow around this hut. It's all right to smile and look foolish when you're on your honeymoon and such but loafing around a drug store is MY idea of being a hangnail! Don't let Doc kid you about there being no peevess around here. You look me up any time you're in and if things haven't changed in the meantime, I'll show you one of the hardest working peevess you ever met up with.

Write THAT on your cuff!

RAS.

Doc, so I see, is trying to imitate one of these here Blue Birds, judging from the line he's pulling at the top of the page.

I Hate to Sell These!

Waterman's Fountain Pen! Once WE sell you one you're THROUGH buying for LIFE! Our only chance to sell you another one is to have you lose the first one, and that's no nourishment to us. Their full name is Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen.

Leihy Candy!

A high fallutin product! Got a high fallutin PRICE, too. If you're high fallutin your OWN self, here's a chance for your high fallutin palate to meet up with a complete set of wonderful NEW thrills. Bring $1.00 or $1.35 or $1.50.

Cold Breakers!

They break up a cold like a Baldwin locomotive smashes up a tin lizzie. Man came in the store yesterday and wanted to borrow a handkerchief. Said he had a bad cold. We didn't have a nose rag so we sold him some Cold Breakers, and sent him up the street to Ed Kelly's for the kerchief. But before he got a block up the street, he says, he didn't need the handkerchief.

Ray Gets in Bad!

While trimming a window early last week, Ray dropped a bottle of Red Feather Hair Tonic and it split out on the floor, quite a mess of it landing on a customer's Mexican Hairless pooch! Yesterday the owner started suit against Ray because the Mex. H. now looked like a Pomeranian. This stuff don't care what it grows hair on at all!

K C L!

This K C L Tooth Paste SO FAR has NEVER made an enemy here in town and judging from folks who come in for the second, third and fourth tube, it must be making plenty friends.
