

May 13--Unlucky for Felts

It is dangerous to appear on the streets without a Straw—because May 13th is the zero hour for Felts. A trip to the Torrance Toggery will save you a lot of trouble—and considerable money, too.

TOWNE TALK

"Just for Fun" By RAS BERRY

Chas. Vonderahs who has went down to Sam Dago to try his hand at applying to real estate there what he learnt in Floridy sends a check for a adv. he run with us and he says if this check ain't no good why send it back to me and I will send you another. I guess he learnt that in Floridy, too.

Harry Roberts says he notices that the sleeping sickness is prevalent in Copenhagen and he hopes it don't snuff out no lives.

Harry Warren reads the papers pretty thorough and he says he observed that most of these here two gun men has got single track minds.

Judging from some of the yarns a few of the boys who has been trout fishing bring back with them why flies don't multiply half as fast as fishermen.

Sam Levy was over to the Torrance theatre to see the recital the pupils of Miss Israel was putting on and they was a lot of other proud parents present and they all agreed among themselves to clap for each others kids and Sam's daughter Ella did her dance and we all clapped good and loud and then Sam got up and went out before our children did their stuff. Gee Whiz.

Well the troubles is over in our neighborhood. I sold the big dawg and took the cat up to the S. P. C. A. My boy he want to know what the S. P. C. A. stood for and I says quick and right off the bat it stands for the Society for the Prevention of Chicken Abductions.

I bet you can't guess who bought the dawg. Well, it was Francis X. Bushman and he has got 42 Gt. Dane dawgs and if they all eat as much as my dawg et why it is no wonder he has got to be a movie actor to support them.

FOR SALE—One dawg house and pen, slightly used but well (?) built. Owner don't need it no more as his dawg has gone into the movies.—Adv.

Well anyways it all worked out all right because I built the pen to keep the dawg in and then sold the dawg in order to pay for the lumber used in the pen and now if I can sell the pen why everything will be lovely. The boss at out house says from some of the apartments she has seen in Calif. we could build in a breakfast nook and rent the dawg-gone thing for about $30 per mo.

I thought it was pretty witty of her to call it a dawg-gone thing.

The boss she took the cat up to the S. P. C. A. and they charged her 50 cents to take in the feline. I says do they charge 50 cents per cat and she says yes and I says well from the looks of the cat when you took her away you still owe them $4.50. Nobuddy was hurt.

At first I thought that as a town booster it was a mean trick on Torrance to take that there cat out of town when all of us is trying to see the town grow in numbers and with her such a prolific mother but after got to thinking it over and counting the chickens after they are hatched why I realized that what the town loses in cat population it gains in chicken inhabitants so I believe things is even Steven.

John Barrymore In 'Sea Beast' At the Lomita

Great Actor in Noted Picture Booked for Three Days

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Lomita Theatre has booked "The Sea Beast," which critics acclaim the best picture of the year. John Barrymore, the greatest and best actor of both screen and stage, together with Dolores Costello, the daughter of the first matinee idol of the screen, and George O'Hara are the stars. If ever one wishes to see facial action one must not miss John Barrymore when the whale tears his limb from his body. A Mutt and Jeff cartoon will also be shown.

For two days only, Sunday and Monday, comes Bebe Daniels, with Neil Hamilton, in a Paramount special, "The Splendid Crime."

Monday comes back with a greater and bigger Country Store, with Billy Murray at the helm, in his Chinese Laundry, distributing gobs of groceries, oodles of gifts, and plenty of vaudeville. Tuesday and Wednesday Betty Bronson will be seen, with an all-star supporting cast, in "The Golden Princess," together with a Bray cartoon and lots of humor and wit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cufley have taken a beach residence for the summer at Redondo Beach, and will return to Torrance in the fall.

Printed Chiffon

From Paris comes this printed chiffon pattern. The circular apron in front and tie at the throat are interesting fashion suggestions.

Examine Nineteen Babies on Tuesday

Nineteen babies were examined at the Mothers' Educational Center, which met on Friday of last week at the Women's Clubhouse.

The doctors in attendance were Dr. Key (posture), Dr. Greenbaum (nutrition), and Dr. Wilde's assistant, Mrs. Wolden Muller, who gives the mental tests. These baby days are held the first Friday of each month, so don't forget the next one—June 4, from 10 to 12 a. m.

A trip to Glen Ivy Hot Springs was enjoyed Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. John Sidebotham and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sidebotham of Oak street and Mrs. C. F. Farquhar and daughter of Redondo boulevard.

BAZAAR SATURDAY

The women of the Torrance Lutheran Church will hold an all-day bazaar Saturday, May 15, in the vacant store room at Cabillo and Gramercy avenues, next to the Beacon Drug Store. Fancy work of all kinds, delicious bakery goods, home-cooked foods and selected novelties will be on sale. The ladies are making a specialty of aprons of all kinds. The prices are right. You are hereby invited to look over the stock and save money on presents and household necessities.
