Service Men for Dodge Are Trained

Dodge Are Trained

To maintain and improve the high quality of service to owners for which Dodge Brothers' dealer organization has become so well known throughout the country, the factory has completely reorganized the training school for service manners and service men. The school has been in existence for several years, giving a comprehensive course in servicing Dodge Brothers four cylinder cars which has been taken by thousands of service men from all parts of the country. The reorganized course of study includes, in addition to the former instruction on four cylinder cars, detailed study of the company's senior line. The school is modern in every respect and the instructors in charge are specially trained service engineers who know the proper method of performing every mechanical detail of service on both lines of cars.

Already approximately 100 service men have come in to the factory to go through the new course of study and during the next few weeks it is expected that many dealers from all over the country will send their men to Detroit to take the course of instruction.

Quite out of the ordinary both in design and interior arrangement this common brick home has attracted unusual attention from prospective builders throughout the country. It is a most adaptable house and can be built with equal assurance of satisfactory service in any section, whether the climate may be hot or cold. And it has been built on both sides of the Rockies and both north and south of what was once popularly known as Mason and Dixon's line.

Not a large house, one of the chief attractions is the especially inviting living room with its big open grate. Such a grate would serve in the mild climate of Southern California as heating plant for the entire home. In the North it will be found productive of unusual enjoyment in the early attumm and during the cold days of a late spring. The large dining room behind it will always be pleasant, lighted as it is by two large windows of the case—
