'O W N E ALKE "Just for Fun" By RAS BERRY

Santa Claus he left me and Hal Prince each one of the lighters for Christimas and so we spent all Christimas morning smoking clg-artifiets so we could use our new lighters and trying to get them to work.

Jack Prince he is Hal Prince' oy and Jack he watched us try try boy and Jack he watched us try-ing to make the lighters work and he says you should ought to put something in the paper about them lighters and you could call it The Lighters that Failed.

So there it is in the paper and more people would make wise s while I am around so I put thèm in the paper espe-during holiday time for they many other things to do it t easy to write things for the could cially

Jess Lancaster he is always true to his word and the other night ne knocked at our door and de-vivered us a big fat wild goose so "étween so much of that and the unkey we had Christmas, we don't chow whether to hiss or gobble. My boss asys she guesses I would be neither but just go on crowing.

One of the best sights of the yr. So one of the best sights of the yr. is to be seen in the stores late the night before Christmas when distracted men come in about 10 o'clock to buy their wifes a Christ-mas present. They is more huge boxes of candy, perfumery and big tollet sets sold between 10 and 11 the rest of the yr. put together.

They is quite a few local couples which is complimenting each oth-er this wk. on each other's good laste. The reason is that they discovered that they chose the same kind of Christmas cards.

The best Christmas card we seen Was one sent out by a Scotchman. It was a little bit of a card about one inch wide and 2 inches long and on it was a picture of a Scotch bag-piper in his red and green kilts and under the picture it said Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Yr. for 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931.

Pre-Inventory Clearance

Our object of this slaughter of staple standard merchandise at this stage of the game with business good and prospects better: We buy differently than the ordinary merchant. To get the price down, we have to buy out of season and take the whole lot, if it is \$100.00 or \$10,000.00. This way of buying we have to buy out of season and take the whole lot, if it is \$200,00 of \$10,000,00. This way of baying leaves us with unbalanced stocks at times and to get the proper turn-over we have to level our stocks so often. We also want to be able to show one of the cleanest financial statements ever turned in by a retail store doing business in a city of this size, operating $9\frac{1}{2}$ months—at a time when the ordinary merchant stands still—or breaks even. December and January are the two best months in the year for Table a black a scene tall wool barrains offered u To be able to accept all real bargains offered u us—one for selling, the other for buying. s, we must have a steady stream of goods flowingout.

You can take hold of this merchandise with full confidence that it is offered as low or lower than highly colored 10 page big city circulars will offer you and the selecting will be with less effort and less expense.

HOSIERY

We are cleaning up all our odd lots of Men's, Women's and Children's Hosiery at deply cut prices—15c, 25c, 39c to 79c a pair. BUY FOR THE NEXT SIX MONTHS ANYWAY.

We bought the entire sample line of the Endicott-Johnson Corp. for the southwest. Nine cases were delivered to us a few days ago. Twenty-one more cases were delivered to us at Redondo on Dec. 23rd. We also bought 12 cases of close-outs from local jober at a sacrifice. Nearly all Weyenberg's shoes. For the last 4 weeks we have been on the job, 7 a. m. to midnight or later. Our aim is to sell $50,000 more shoes for 1928 and we are betting our 30 years' experience, the total resources of our combined stocks and credit to put this over. With our new modern warehouse going up here in a short time with the opening of 1 or more stores later; with our better system of checking, our buying and selling we are out to do 50% more shoe business for the coming year. Bear in mind, we have over 720 pairs of sample shoes, over 150 pairs of work shoes to offer you. Nearly 900 pair in all, evenly divided between our two stores—goods that you have never seen before. Also a held-up shipment of Children's Shoes from Pasadena. Not a few odd pair—a housefull.
