I says to Hudd

Well I spose you're all swelled up now over your big new store.

And Hudd says well I guess it don't look so bad at that. These here folks in Torrance have been mighty fine to me, and I've built up a pretty good business in the last five years.

And I said well I guess they wouldn't give you the business if they didn't know they always got full value for every dollar they spent.

And Hudd says yeh of course, but just the same I appreciate them giving me a chance to give them that money's worth.

And just to prove that I mean it, I'm going to invite the whole shebang over to see me, and show them around and just treat 'em like company.

Kitty

P. S. Hudd and I want to see all of you at the new store, Saturday, March 10th.

Platform Tells Dennis, Raymond, Maxwell Policy

People's League Document Discusses Problems in City of Torrance

else of sound judgment based on experience on the part of the next council. It is fitting that they be discussed in this platform.

LIGHTS
"Realizing that one of the civic needs of Torrance is an adequate lighting system the City Council has worked diligently to make this improvement possible on a basis which would be equitable to all taxpayers. The task has not been an easy one. In order to understand some of the difficulties, one must know something of the manner in which street lighting systems are usually secured.

"Usually petitions are circulated, specifying a certain type of light post to be used. This petition is presented to the council and acted upon. Bids are asked for. But competition is impossible because the type of post has already been specified in the petition signed by taxpayers.

"The Torrance council could have had lights burning in Torrance right now if the council had been willing to eliminate competition by such a method. Light post agents by the score have urged the council to let them circulate petitions, but in every case these agents have been told that Torrance was through with non-competitive bids, that the council would not allow any company to foist off an arbitrarily priced system of posts on the public. As a result the matter of lights has been delayed, but it is now at a stage where action can be expected very shortly.

"In order to insure competitive bids the council has instructed the city engineer to draw plans of a proposed system. These plans are almost completed and will be sent to ALL lighting contractors and post makers and guaranteed prices on various types secured. Then a type may be selected and specified and proceedings started. Such a plan will place before the people exact maximum costs of all systems before any system is finally decided upon.

Hit Post Agents
"The council has guarded the interests of the people zealously in the matter of lights and should be allowed to carry on its good work without interruption. Mayor Dennis, Councilman Raymond and G. A. Maxwell are well acquainted with the history of this fight to save money for the taxpayers and should be elected so that the economical plan for lights may be carried out without change.

Naturally such a policy is not popular with light post companies, and several of them have evinced an unusual interest in the present election campaign and the candidates Mayor Dennis, Councilman Raymond and G. A. Maxwell are NOT favored candidates among light post companies.

Police Department
"Never in the history of Torrance has there been less objection against the Chief of Police than has prevailed since G. M. Calder was appointed to that office. Fair, honest, independent, Chief Calder has lent ready ear to any and all complaints and has acted the part of a splendid man in the performance of his duties.

"Naturally there are some who wish to secure his position for themselves and are actively engaged in politics to that end. We believe that as long as he continues to function as he has in the past Chief Calder should be retained as Chief of Police and commend Candidates Dennis, Raymond and Maxwell for their refusal to promise the removal of Calder in exchange for proffered votes.

INDUSTRIES
"Torrance is primarily an industrial city, in which great plants provide employment for thousands of Torrance people. We should continue to function as an industrial city. We commend the city council for what co-operation it has extended toward new industries and prospective new industries. It is excellent business to expend a few hundreds of dollars to win a new factory, which eventually will pay thousands of dollars annually into the treasury of the city. At the same time large taxpayers are entitled to no more consideration than others. In every activity the Council should endeavor to make its decisions so that the greatest number of people will be benefited.

Laud Candidates
"We commend to the people of Torrance the record of the present administration and the candidates Mayor John Dennis, Councilman Charles Raymond and G. A. Maxwell. Mayor Dennis for two years has devoted practically all of his time to city affairs. Charles Raymond, since his appointment has been no less diligent. With the other councilmen they fought against figures for days and days, in order to lower the city tax rate. We believe with all the seriousness at our command that it would be nothing but a mark of sincere gratitude to return these two men to office.

"We commend likewise the candidacy of G. A. Maxwell, who stands foursquare with Mayor Dennis and Councilman Raymond in conviction that the policies of the present administration be carried forward. Mr. Maxwell has taken an active part in civic affairs since the territory in which he lives voted to annex to Torrance. He was one of the workers who campaigned in favor of that annexation. He believes in Torrance and evidenced by his own statement that he has invested his hard-earned savings in property here. As a councilman he would serve honestly and intelligently the interests of the people of Torrance.

Urge All to Vote
"All three of these candidates are property-owners and taxpayers. They see the problems of other taxpayers because they pay taxes themselves. They are far-sighted, progressive, unbiased and devoted to duty. The affairs of the city of Torrance will be in excellent hands if they are all elected on April 9th.

"Every citizen should vote. Regardless of his or her choice every voter in Torrance owes it to himself and to this city to cast a ballot at its election. The councilmen who will be elected on that day will serve for four years.

"Yours for continued Progress and Economy.

"THE PEOPLE'S LEAGUE."
