NATIONAL SUPPLIES SOME WISE—SOME OTHERWISE

Edward Day, inter-department baseball manager, is back on his old job in the production department...

Harry Minard the Ajax steam engine expert, is leaving in a few days for a few months' visit to the Ajax home plant at Corry, Pa.

Was around to 3216 Gramercy avenue a few evenings ago and found Andy Anderson having the time of his life with his new arrival (son Jimmy).

Note:—Charlie Clark is picking Stanford to beat U.S.C. wall boys, it seems as if Charlie is still in the old rut, so gather around and get your bit.

"Big Mac" McKinga says the only difference between Sandow's "wrestlin' trust" and the "James Gang" is Jess and his twin guns for his outfit.

Dad Bowker seems to be in a state of unusual interest to determine whether it's due to the loss of his famous Scotch pipe, or the law prohibiting the making of "wine tonics."

Joe Stone and Lloyd Hill just returned from their "deer" hunting vacation and from all accounts had very good luck, in fact so much so that they are "trying" to grow a mustache to commemorate the events which happened.

There are no comments from "Spud" Murphy since what happened to his ball team last Monday, so we will see what's to be said after next Thursday.

"Wen Wee" (John McGraw) Rick, former manager of the First National Bank ball team, reports that years and years ago back in Arizona he managed a ball team that actually won up and up games.

"Big Mac" McKinga says the only difference between Sandow's "wrestlin' trust" and the "James Gang" is Jess and his twin guns for his outfit.

Torrance People Attend Formal Japanese Wedding

A wedding of unusual interest to the Torrance high school faculty and pupils, took place last Sunday when Toshi Kiyomura and James Yoshinobu were married at the Buddhist Temple on Mort street, Los Angeles.

The wedding was very elaborate and beautiful. There were four bridesmaids and four ushers. The Torrance people represented at the wedding were Margery Yamamoto and Setai Kiyomura, who were bridesmaids, Kotchi Kiyomura, who was one of the ushers; Harry Kiyomura, who came from Milwaukee, where he is attending college, to be the best man at his sister's wedding and Martha Lingenfelter who was maid of honor.

The bride was wearing a white tulle dress and a lovely long, trailing lace veil. Mrs. Eischen, an intimate friend of the family played during the ceremony a Kosak Yamato program, (Kosak Yamato being a leading Japanese composer).

For the pre-nuptial wedding march Mrs. Eischen used Han-dan's Largo. The wedding ceremony was performed by a Buddhist priest, after which the wedding party and the guests, numbering about three hundred, adjourned to the Nikoro Cafe, where a sumptuous banquet was spread.

The wedding and the banquet were both very solemn and impressive. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The young people left soon after the banquet for a honeymoon in the east. They will visit Niagara Falls, stop in Chicago for a world's series game and visit Harry at his college in Milwaukee. They will return and live at the home of the bride for a short time.

NEWS AND NONSENSE IN THE P. E. SHOPS

Edited by Carleton B. Bell

I saw Carl Elmqvist the other day and he was several minutes before I could recognize him. You now have to look in behind a heavy gray moustache to see Carl and I have a hunch he gets a kick out of the way it bothers folks. He reminds me of the pictures I have seen of the old Norse kings.

And still the fame of the P. E. Shops indoor ball team spreads. M. J. "Bud" Edwards has received a challenge from the Rialto All-Stars to play them on their Rialto ball grounds. It is hoped that this game can be arranged as the All-Stars undoubtedly need the chance to learn more of the fine points of the game.

H. Hobart Webb took a few days off and took his fine collection to the Pomona Fair and brought back most of the ribbons. He had entered in "Sunderly," black cornish, partridge cornish, brown tophorns, and partridge legorns, taking five first prize ribbons and 5 second prize ribbons. Mr. Webb is the originator of the red cornish variety of fowls which are making quite a hit in the poultry world.

Howard Bernhard also won quite a number of ribbons on the red cornish he had entered, taking 1 first, 1 second, 3 thirds and 3 fourths. A large number of Torrance Pacific Electric employees visited the opening night assigned to the mechanical and stores departments. The Torrance employees were provided with a special train of two of the new 1200 class cars for the

New Building Ready for Use Next Sunday

Hardwood floors in Unit No. 1 of the main plant of the Methodist church are being laid this week and the large room will be ready for occupancy by Sunday school classes next Sunday.

This addition to the main building is called Unit No. 1, for it is the first of three building units that when completed will bring the church buildings to the corner of the large lot at El Prado and Main.

Mel Sedoway and wife have returned from their vacation, having visited Vancouver and points in Oregon and Washington. The shops band, under the leadership of John Watson, furnished the music for the entertainment of the crowd at all four evenings of the club opening. Many words of praise were heard for their good work.

Louis E. Brown of the truck shop is chairman of the display committee of the Torrance Electric Garden Club. He had charge of the display entered in the name of the club at the Orange County Flower Show, September 20 and 21 at Buena Park. This exhibit was awarded second place, first place going to the Ribell Club of Santa Ana.

Several shop employees are availing themselves of the opportunities offered to benefit themselves through the evening classes conducted by the Pacific Electric. The most popular seem to be the classes in electrical engineering and personal leadership.

The new addition will house Mr. Hugh Henry's Sunday school class of 50 young men and Mrs. R. A. Young's class of 25 girls of high school age, called the Alpha Chi class. The large room will also be a reception room during Brotherhood dinners and will be used by the Ladies' Aid. Folding doors will separate the room from the main building and when necessary will be opened and give added seating capacity to the auditorium.

Guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wells of Poppy street were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Muriel of Long Beach, Mrs. Laura Lebens and Mrs. Moore of Los Angeles.

Fever Lurks in Raw Milk, Warns Kern; Refers to Magazine Article

There appears in the September issue of the Ladies' Home Journal an article, "Before You Drink a Glass of Milk," which I wish every mother in this district would read, because it warns of a terrible, wasting fever that lurks in milk that may mean the life of children or adults," says Fred Kern of the Kern Creamery, Inc. of Torrance.

The article warns in a most forceful manner of malicious microbes found in raw milk and which attack the human body. Pasteurization, says the article, destroys these germs.

A terrible wasting fever in some things arises in raw milk, according to the article. This fever may keep you in bed for a couple of weeks, or may linger for a number of years until it results in death.

The article is built around the discovery and study of two organisms, one producing contagious abortion among cattle and discovered by Dr. Bang, and the other causing undulant fever in humans and named by Dr. Bruce. These two micro-organisms are said to be twin brothers and our interest in them lies in the fact that milk carrying organisms of bovine contagious abortion which is consumed by persons has a tendency to cause undulant fever in the person drinking the milk.

This situation, though none the less serious, is not new. In fact it has been quite well established since 1917, and was offered before the World's Dairy Congress in Syracuse in 1923. The fact in connection with the prevalence of the organism which milk dealers are of course concerned with, is that pasteurization destroys the organism and makes the milk harmless as far as the action of the Bang and Bruce bacteria are concerned.

From this we see that even certified milk is not necessarily free from these infectious organisms. Of course certified milk from herds which are known to be absolutely free from bovine contagious abortion bacteria would scarcely contain the organism.

According to the article mentioned, there exists at least 50,000 cases of undulant fever in America, many of which have been incorrectly diagnosed, and few of which can be cured. The blame for the cases which are at the door-step of raw milk and the door-step for the number being as small as it is goes to pasteurization methods and machinery.

The Ladies' Home Journal explains fully the long search for information about the habits and possible control of the organisms, and emphasizes the importance of asking the "magic question"—"Is it pasteurized?" The story is one of the tireless search and final discovery made by Alice C. Evans, herself a victim of the undulant fever, and depicts a struggle truly remarkable. She was a bacteriologist in the Dairy Division of the United States Department of Agriculture when her attention was directed to the "bugs of Bang and of Bruce," and went to Dr. E. L. Hersh, chief of the Pathological Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, for the answers to some of her questions.

From this contact the idea grew to compare the organism of Bruce which produced Malta fever with that of Bang which produced bovine contagious abortion. The rest of the story is one of constant struggle and ceaseless attention to detailed experiments, climaxed by the incident when Miss Evans was alone in her laboratory and read in the final test proof that the two organisms were "brothers."

"We hope that Torrance people will realize the danger they are taking in drinking raw milk," said Mr. Kern, "and that it will serve to impress them with the vital importance of insisting upon pasteurized milk."

BELL GIVEN TRANSFER TO BELMONT HI

Principal of Evening School Goes to New Work in Los Angeles, Oct. 4

Mr. William M. Bell, who has been principal of the Torrance Evening high school for the past four years, has been appointed principal of the Belmont Evening high school on Beverly boulevard, Los Angeles, and will take up his work there October 3.

Mr. Bell has been in evening school work for 12 years and was in charge of citizenship classes in San Pedro for eight years. He has been principal of the Torrance Evening high school for four years and during that time has had a great increase in the number of students and variety of courses offered.

His promotion was passed by the board of education Monday evening. Although Mr. Bell will leave the evening high school here, he will remain as principal of the Elementary school here, a position he has held for six years.

Succeeding him at evening high school is Mr. George Clark, assistant supervisor of physical education in the Los Angeles district.

Effort Made to Reorganize Choral

Those who were members of the Choral club at the evening high school last year are undoubtedly interested in reorganizing the club this year.

Miss Mary Louise Mansfield of San Pedro, a well known figure in music circles, will be the instructor of the class this year.

Those desiring to organize such a club this year are requested to meet at the music room at the high school Tuesday evening at 7:30 for a voice trial.

Mrs. Olson Hurt in Recent Accident

Mrs. Jenna G. Olson of Long Beach, mother of Mrs. Harry Dolley is now at the Dolley home recovering from an accident at Long Beach when she was knocked down by a bicycle.

Mrs. Olson was injured in an automobile accident a few years ago and when she was knocked down by the bicycle recently, the former injuries were brought on again.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS Miss Habscock, who was for 35 years a missionary in Japan, was the speaker of the evening at the regular meeting of the Girls' Friendly at the Episcopal church Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Glasgow of Pennsylvania avenue are spending a week at Sealside Hot Springs.
