MAILING TIME OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS NEARS

Postal Department Announces Dates for Mailing to Foreign Countries

Mailing of Christmas packages to the outposts of the world from Torrance and Lomita post offices is due to begin in about two weeks. Although Christmas is actually seven week away gifts to foreign ports must be sent considerably in advance in order to be certain of reaching their desination before the big Christian holiday so universally observed.

Torrance because it has a large population of oil workers, many of whom have relatives and friends in out-of-the-way points about the globe, annually begins this Christmas mailing early. To reach persons in the Dutch East Indies, Mozambique, Australia or the Cape Verde Islands, for instance, it is necessary to send them before the middle of November. To reach Uganda, South Africa, they must be posted not later than November 1.

A list showing approximately the latest dates that articles may be posted to reach their destination on or about Christmas Day in foreign countries, has just been given out by the Post Office Department. This is based on the time required to transmit from the furthermost part in continental United States to the countries named.
