

The Governor

State Affairs

Young's Week

Young's Week When Clement Calhoun Young wus teaching English in San Fran-cisco's Lowell High School some twenty years ago, Dr. George Cooper Pardee was aiting in the governor's chair at Scaramento (1903-1907. Last week School-teacher Young, now Governor, and white-haired, 72-year-old Dr. Par-dee, now chairman of the State Board of Forestry and president of the East Bay (Oakhad, Berkeley, etc.) Municipal Utility District, to-gether with many another northern California notable, dined stop a quarter-mile length of dam, above the stream-bed of the Mokelumne River, in the foothills cast of Stock-ton.

The Artran-bed, of the Mokelumne River, in the footilita east of Stockton.
 Decasion: The dedication of giona and the footilitation of giona and the second largest water supply system (358 feet high, cost: $7,000,000).
 While Governor Young recited footing the second largest water supply system and diministrator after whom the dam was named, the crystal waters of the Mokelumne River, released the Mokelumne River, released from the concrete barrier, began to swish and gurgle through the spillways 358 feet below, destined for use in homes and industries of the sine cities, 450,000 people, some 93 miles away.
 Bayhore Highway. At Visination Valley, Governor Young, with a common workman's shovel, turned a spadeful of earth, officially people.

started construction of a $3,000,000 arterial highway skirting San Fran-cisco Bay which would cut forty-five minutes from the running time between San Mateo and downtown San Francisco.

between San Mateo and downtown San Francisca. On Sunday of last week, Gover-or Young went sgain to Visia-cion Valley. Assembled there were some 10,000 people, civic, State, county officials. Across the high-way, now completed, were 'two slender Blue and Gold satin rib-bons (the State colors). With a bright, shiny pair of scissors, the Chief Executive stepped up to the ribbon barrier, snipped it, officially opened and dedicated the Barshore Highway. Bdison Declaration. Back at Sac-prenera and dedicated the Bayshore Highway.

Hilson Declaration, Back at Sac-ramenta on Monday morning, the Governer, finding administration af-fairs pursuing the even, dull tenor of their way, took time to issue a statement on the fittich anniver-sary of "inventor Edison's perfec-tion of the incandescent lamp.
Said he: "This invention ..., has ...influenced the whole course of the world's life ..., a boon to man-kind ... a major factor in the prog-reas of America, both officially and economically.... I am user that all California citizens will contribute toward making the day (October 21) a memorable occasion."

r 21) a memorable occasion." 'conservent-Navy Day, As every-one knows, Governor Young waa an original Bull Moozer, In 1912, the Governor, then known as "Clem" Young, was one of the first who made the historic holt from the Taft banner at the cry: "Roosevelt and Johnson." It was, therefore, no great sur-prise when the Chief Executive last week eulogized Theodore Roose-velt, reminded Californians that his natal day falls on Navy Day (Oct. 27), that the two events should re-ceive universal observance.

2), that the two events should re-eive universal observance. Said he: "Roosevelt, were he alivy oday, would have the satisfaction f steing his fondest dream come "use—the United States Navy equal beta of any other nation on the ce of the globe... Let there e no element of militariam in our lebration... any plan or motive f aggression... but peace and ability... reasonable condition of letv."

or statistics of the second statistics of the second statistics of the second states of the second state second states of the second state second states of the second state second states of the seco

The Council

Pride, foy, political pet of Goy-ernor Young is his Governors council, conceived by has and ere-ated by the Legislature as a body to co-ordinate governmental affairs, to economize State departmental tivilies, to prevent overlapping of authority and budget expanse. For more than a year Governor Young has been speech-making throughout the State, telling his listeners of his reorganization of State government, of his theory of "spending money to save money." It was, therefore, a distinct blow paying $10,000 yearly, and that his found! (13 in all) and other activ-ties of the costing the State too much money. Duck to take issue with the mathematical dependence of the state secretary, Keith Carlin, to the gu-bornatoria telephone, had him call bornatoria telephone, had him call operatoria telephone, had him call the telephone the account of his outlays. When they had exam-ned it carefully, he explained to operatoria the televen of his 13 cabinet officera, while two others, each operatoria among televen of hom the focu-tion and the second televen of him operatoria televen of his 13 cabinet officera, while two others, each office and the second televen of him televen of him so the second politic as significance. Governor Young massed that his answer to the inter of rolling up a $40,000 an-ment of rolling up a $40,000 an-ment of rolling up a $40,000 an-operatoria televen of him televen of him televen televen televen televen of him televen televen of him televen tel werely "in the interests of accurracy." Said he: "This is not a campaign statement. The campaign, if I am to be interested in one, is ahead and neither here nor there. I do desire, however, to correct any erromous impression given that expenditures and be ymy administration are not in the interests of econony and efficiency." The four Councilmen in question, heading departments of Penology, Military and Veterans' Affairs, Investment Regulations, and Professional and Vocational Standards, took office last August at the direction of the Legislature (News are already on the State payrolit, another received $6,000 but is expected to effect savings of from $40,000 to $50,000 year-

CHESTER M. KLINE "A shocking situation" (See Page 2)

the Governor's pride when up of northern California ne ers published accusations 1 k that the Chief Executive ited four new Councilmen, e