WALTERIA NOTES

The Walteria school was represented at the play-day exercises held at Narbonne high school Friday morning, by the following pupils, Lorraine and Jean Wilson, Laine and Genevieve Haynes, Laticle and Virginia Crows, Lorraine Jones, Leona Sommerton, Bernice Wooden, LaVerne Johers, Lillian Dahmer, Henrietta Lopez, Grace Albot, Florence Bryan, Clara Covington, Marie Skillman, Akiko Kato, Mitsi Mitsuka and Shigeno Kuwamoto, Jean Campbell and Kathleen Sexton, who were accompanied by the principal, Miss Pearl Miller.

The Walteria girls won first place in the hoop-rolling relay and in Newcomb, second place in the cart-wheel race and third place in arch-ball and jumping.

Mrs. R. E. Lesley and Mrs. S. D. Sexton attended the lecture given by John Steven McGroarty under the auspices of the Women's club of Torrance Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sullivan and daughter Betty, of Ward street, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Brown of Fullerton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crowe and family of Ward street, together with Miss Velma Flint visited Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Garrison of Hollywood Sunday.

J. W. Purkey of San Pedro was a weekend guest at the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crowe of Ward street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lawrence of Long Beach were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lesley of Park street Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Newcomb and daughter Harriet of Hollywood visited Mrs. Newcomb's sister, Mrs. C. S. Edmondson of North Park street, who has been quite ill but is much better now.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Rust of Whittier were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ramsey of North Ward street.

Torrance merchants are thankful for the generous patronage that they have enjoyed during the past year. They are grateful, of course, to the people of Torrance for the business they enjoyed, but they especially appreciate the rapidly growing trade from the communities adjacent to Torrance.

To the good people of Gardena, Moneta, Lomita, Walteria, East Torrance, Keystone, Hammerton, and even as far as Redondo, Compton and Wilmington, who have come to Torrance during the past year to buy goods, Torrance merchants are especially grateful.

And to show their appreciation in some concrete form, a big bagful of bargains have been chosen for this pre-Thanksgiving Day Bargain Saturday. A veritable "horn of plenty", bulging with bargains await shoppers at Torrance this weekend. No scanty, half-hearted appreciation is this good will offering, but in every store you will find TRULY OUTSTANDING VALUES that will be remembered for weeks to come. Many of the articles will make appropriate Christmas gifts, others are good, staple articles of merchandise that you need every day.

In this paper you will find a great number of the Bargain Saturday items advertised. Others equally attractive have been omitted for lack of space. Look the ads over carefully and you will realize the truth of the slogan, "Buy Better in Torrance."

KEYSTONE NOTES

Miss Grace Morrison, Girl Reserve executive of the Y.W.C.A. in Long Beach was the popular speaker at the Senior Girl Reserve meeting Monday night when they met at the home of their leader, Mrs. George Koehler on Wilmington street. Leona Johnson, president, presided at the business meeting, appointing Cleo Wright as service chairman; Verna Bredahl, social chairman; and Laura Gianera, publicity chairman. Lorene Cunningham was appointed membership chairman in connection with her duties as first vice president. Plans were completed for the home-made candy booth to be presided over by the Girl Reserves on Saturday night. Proceeds from the candy will be used as financial aid from their group in the Community Christmas fund of Keystone. Refreshments were served following the business session by the hostess, Mrs. Koehler.

I. Weisitz of Carson street represented the Keystone Chamber of Commerce at the Harbor District

Chamber of Commerce meeting and dinner on Thursday night at El Segundo. Many important issues were brought before the Harbor chamber among which was the important issue of the day, the San Pedro breakwater.

Funeral services for little Raymond Harrell, six year old twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell, 2701 South Main street, here, were held on Thursday of this week at the Cleveland and Barker funeral home in Wilmington, following the autopsy. It has been two weeks since little Raymond died from food poisoning. Mrs. Harrell and two other small sons were quite ill with the poisoning also, but their lives were saved. Rev. H. B. Transchel, pastor of the Keystone Baptist church officiated at the funeral services.

Mrs. George Nahmens and Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Roque attended last week the dance at Westgate Temple given by the Loyalty Lodge of Masons in Los Angeles.

This Is Thanksgiving, — And We Merchants Are Thankful To You!

Perhaps in the ordinary run of trading, we don't always take time to express our appreciation to the good folks who are looking more and more to Torrance as their shopping center.

During the past year, patronage from the communities adjacent to Torrance has grown remarkably, and we Torrance Merchants wish to especially thank these people for their trade.

We cannot help but feel that the growing trade that Torrance Merchants are enjoying from the neighboring communities is due to a large extent to the truth of the slogan—"Buy Better in Torrance"—and at this Thanksgiving time, we want to assure you that we will increase our efforts to merit your further patronage.

Thank You All!
