SOCIETY

ROTARY-KIWANIS PARTY HELD IN P. C. CLUB

Convivially and good natured raspery characterized the annual Kiwanis-Rotary dinner dance staged last Thursday evening in the beautiful rose room of the Pacific Coast club.

Dr. J. S. Lancaster, president of the Rotary club and Bert Acree, president of the Kiwanis club presided jointly over the short speaking program. The singing was led by J. W. Leech and Herbert Wood, with John Young at the piano.

A feature of the program was the reading by Earl Corner of two poems written by Kiwanian Col. J. E. Forbes, one poem joyfully involving every Kiwanian of the club and the other naming a number of Rotary Club members.

An original song written by W. Harold Kingsley to the tune of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" brought much laughter as it cleverly exposed the pet policies of the various clubs. The original song was written by W. Harold Kingsley, and L. B. Kelsey for the Rotary club; and Loren Wood Paul Vonderahe and Charles Schultz for the Kiwanis club.

ELABORATE PARTY FOR SHRINERS' CHILDREN

This terse appeal comes from a member of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and it is inspired by the Christmas spirit. Liberally translated, it means that old persons are making their annual pilgrimages to the stores to make the holidays happy for the little folk, and that unless extra care is exercised by motorists their mission of happiness may be turned into one of misery.

The letter urging that grandma be given a break also pleads for the youngsters who will be wandering about the shopping districts, pop-eyed with wonder and oblivious to traffic laws, personal safety, or anything else except the gorgeous displays of Yuletide cheer.

Cold-blooded analytical psychoanalysts back up the plea for grandma and the children. According to their findings, the holiday shopping time is fraught with additional danger to motorist and pedestrian alike, because of the unusual distractions at this period.
