Yesteryears' Newspapers

First Edition of Torrance Herald on New Year's Day, 1914, Recalls Early Days of City

(Editor's Note: Have you a copy of an old newspaper? If you have, The Herald would like to see it and pass on its interesting features to our readers. All old papers will be returned to the owners intact within a week after they are received.)

On January 1, 1914, the Torrance Herald was born, the successor of the Torrance News. The first editor was B. M. Knutson, whose later history is unknown. Only ten issues of the 1914 paper survived the 17 years that have elapsed.

The incomplete file of the first Herald will be used in this newspaper to provide an interesting review of the early history of this city under the title, "Torrance—17 Years Ago."

But today we will review that first edition as our subject for this week's "Yesteryears' Newspapers."

In presenting his first Herald, Editor Knutson editorially states: "At the threshold of the new year we present Volume One, Number One, of the Torrance Herald for your kindly consideration, and bespeak your most cordial aid and cooperation in making the paper a credit to Torrance. We shall seek constantly to improve and keep the Herald to as high a standard as the support vouchsafed us will permit. The Torrance Herald has become a reality the first day of January, 1914, but that it should some day become a reality has been our firm determination ever since Torrance was founded."

Only the front, two inside and back pages of the first Herald contained local news; the remainder of the eight-page edition was filled with what is known as "boilerplate" copy, material supplied to weeklies already in matrix form and ready for insertion with no extra composition by the publisher of the paper.

The leading articles on the front page of the 1914 Herald concerned the entry of the city's first parade in the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena; and the description of the first land sale of the city in which $40,000 worth of lots "passed into the hands of an eager public who were quick to realize the probable possibilities of such a city."

"At present Torrance is the home of the following important industries," it is reported: "Union Tool Works, Pacific Metal Products Co., Hendrie Rubber Co., Moore Auto Truck Co., Torrance Pearl Mfg. Co., California Shoe Co., Sp. California Lime and Cement Co., and is to be the future home of the Pacific Electric Car Building Shops; Llewellyn Iron Works, and National Mosaic Tile Factory."

We note that the postoffice, opened September 14, 1912, has shown a steady growth. S. J. Major, then resident engineer of the Dominguez Land Company, was postmaster, and H. Burmaster was assistant postmaster.

The Chamber of Commerce had recently re-elected its officers for the year 1914. They were H. A. Marx, president; F. O. Gould, secretary; Dr. N. Leake, treasurer, and Holley, H. A. Marx, and Sidney Moyses, directors.

PUEBLO BOYS ORGANIZE BALL TEAM

With a record of three games won, three lost and one tied, the Torrance Bears, Mexican baseball team, has entered the sports life of the community. Their last game, played with the Gardena Lions, resulted in a score of 8 to 5, when the game was called at the end of the tenth on account of darkness.

The Bears' home games are played on a new diamond near the Pueblo. Manager Juan Alvarez has some 12 or 15 players on his string, including three pitchers and three catchers, and the team is ably captained by Manuel Alvarez, catcher, from his post behind the bat.

As this is a new organization, the team is somewhat handicapped by the lack of uniforms and equipment, but several enthusiastic fans of the district have helped out by donating uniforms to the number of eight, and the boys are trying to interest other good-natured fans to come through with a few more so that the entire team may make a snappy showing. The style of uniform selected is white with navy blue trim, blue and white socks and blue cap. Donations of a suit have been received from the following: Velarde Bros., Leo's Pool Room, Pueblo General Store, Pueblo Barber Shop, Torrance Brick Company, and another big-hearted individual whose name was not learned.

We will present more highlights of early Torrance history during the following weeks under the heading "17 Years Ago in Torrance." If you enjoyed reading this bit, you probably will want to learn more of the city's history.

Do you remember when Susana street was in the central business section of the city?

School Authorities Attend Luncheon
Herbert S. Wood and Miss Elizabeth Park, principal and vice principal, respectively, of the Torrance High school attended a luncheon at the Bell High school yesterday.

This was one of the five sessions called yearly by the district superintendents, Arthur Gould and Dr. Frank D. Evans for the purpose of discussing school problems of special interest to institutions in this district.

Three Unusual Vegetable Recipes

By ETIENNE ALLIO, Chef, Hotel New Yorker, New York City

ANY housewives have been preparing their vegetable dishes in the same way for so many years that it seems to them almost like sacrilege to suggest that the same vegetables prepared in different ways might be heartily welcomed by the family as delightful variations from the ordinary routine.

While the family may have been well trained to eat the dishes of zucchini, without comment unless it is a favorable one, the wise housewife will never, while so many new recipes are readily available, allow herself to run the danger of a sudden family revolt. Her natural pride in her skill in the culinary art will lead her to seek variety, both for the sake of her own reputation and the pleasure her family will take in the appetizing results of her well planned meals.

Spinach au Gratin—Clean, wash and steam two quarts of spinach. Drain and press through colander. Add one tablespoon butter, one and a half cups fairly thick white sauce, one-half teaspoon salt, and one-half teaspoon sugar. Mix thoroughly and place in buttered glass baking dish. Sprinkle with two-thirds cup grated cheese and bake in hot oven for twenty minutes.

Onions Aragonaise—Melt one third cup butter in a saucepan. Add two cups peeled, small onions, pressing down firmly. Sprinkle over top one scant teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, and one-fourth teaspoon sugar. Shake until seasonings are well distributed. Add enough chicken stock to cover. Cover saucepan and simmer until onions are tender. Remove cover and boil rapidly until liquid is reduced to about one-fourth. Butter squares of toast, sprinkle cheese over them, then pour over them the onions. Place in hot oven to brown.

Parsnip and Tomato Scallop—Slice and saute in one tablespoon butter, one medium-size onion. When golden brown, add two cups stewed tomatoes, one and a half teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, two or three cloves, pinch of cayenne, and one teaspoon sugar. Simmer until smooth. Have ready three cups of diced, cooked parsnips. Grapes a shallow baking dish and place in it a layer of the parsnips. Add a layer of tomato, then a layer of parsnips, continuing this until all the ingredients are used, being sure that a layer of parsnips is on top. Sprinkle with three tablespoons grated cheese mixed with one-fourth cup bread crumbs. Brown in hot oven.

natural pride in her skill in the culinary art will lead her to seek variety, both for the sake of her own reputation and the pleasure her family will take in the appetizing results of her well planned meals.
