

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life. Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatsoever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worthwhile dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

Crail Starts Campaign For Senate Seat

Opposes 'Dole'; Declares He Advocates Construction of Postoffices

Congressman Joe Crail yesterday gave evidence of the vigor with which he will carry on his campaign for election to the United States Senate by announcing a state-wide trip, starting October 12, during which he will consult with supporters who are establishing Crail-for-Senate clubs in every county in California. Carrying his battle "for the people" to the people, Congressman Crail will visit every one of the larger communities from the Mexican border to the Oregon line.

While Congressman Crail's campaign will be conducted on his issue of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none," with United States senators "free from the domination of selfish interests seeking special privileges," in recent addresses before civic, labor and veterans' organizations he has stressed other points.

Opposes "Dole" System

These included opposition to a government "dole," expedition of federal work to provide immediate employment, advocacy of the five-day working week and an emergency sales tax on luxuries to relieve the burden of taxation on people with moderate incomes.

"The dole is unscientific and un-American," Congressman Crail stated. "The workers of this country are not wanting or asking charity. What they want and what they have a right to demand is a job for every man who is able and willing to work—a job at which he can earn an honest living for himself and his family."

Advocates More Postoffices

It is fortunate that we have a Republican administration when "hard times" hit us, he said, but it is unfortunate that less than one-tenth of the vast sums of money appropriated for public improvements which would put men to work is available. "Our government could spend $5,000,000,000 on postoffices, roads and waterways and other necessary public improvements," he declared. "It should be spent right now."

Congressman Crail also advocated the sales tax as the most equitable and least objectionable method of raising the additional federal taxes necessary, which he does not now concede. "Sales taxes are more easily collected, with less of evasion, than almost any other tax," he said. "The sales tax creates the feeling that under it everybody who is able to do so is contributing his fair share toward the running expenses of the government."

State's Taxable Wealth 'In Red' For First Time

Board of Equalization Says Real Property Has to Make Up Loss

By the United Press
A decrease in California's taxable wealth for the first time in the history of the state was revealed Monday by the state board of equalization. The assessed value of all property in the state was placed at $9,397,909,983 this year as compared to $10,143,131,534 for 1930, a loss of $745,221,551 or 7.347 per cent.

In Los Angeles county the 1931 assessed valuation is placed at $4,945,778,474 as compared to $5,514,036,908 in 1930. Real property suffered the smallest drop of any individual type of property during the past year, according to the board, with a loss of approximately one-half of 1 per cent. As compared to this, stocks and bonds and other forms of assets lost more than 34 per cent of their value between 1930 and 1931.

Personal Property Decreases

"This situation is not favorable to real property from the standpoint of taxes," the board pointed out. "It means that real property had to make up the loss sustained by other forms of taxable wealth, inasmuch as cost of government increased during the year."

"It is simply another example of the unprotected position of real estate. In times of prosperity of depression such property is assessed at almost a constant value and bears the burden when other taxable wealth cannot produce its share of the cost of government."

The board's report indicated that the value of personal property held throughout the state decreased by more than 20 per cent during the past year. Bonds held in California sustained a 36 per cent loss and solvent credits showed a drop in value of 30 per cent as compared to 1930 standards.

The burden carried by real estate applies only to city and county taxation, the board declared, inasmuch as state revenues are obtained exclusively from sources other than real and personal property.

STEVENS IS BETTER

LeRoy Stevens, deputy city clerk, who was taken to the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia about 10 days ago, has recovered, although he is still confined in the hospital. He is expected to be back on the job next Monday.

Navy Tests Submarine Rescue Chamber

A "submarine bell" designed to bring crews of disabled submarines to the surface without subjecting them to extreme variations in pressure has undergone successful tests on the Atlantic coast. Lowered to a submarine at the bottom, the rescue chamber is attached to one of the vessel's escape hatches, from which the men enter it and are raised to the surface. The chamber is in telephonic communication with the surface at all times. The large picture shows the rescue chamber at the surface. In the circle are shown Lieut. Commander A. R. McGann and Lieut. A. M. Morgan inside the device, the former talking over the telephone with a ship on the surface.

Elementary P. T. A. Holds First Term Meeting Tuesday Afternoon

The first session of the new year was held by the Elementary school P. T. A. in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. While there was an appreciative group present, it was not at all keeping with the size of the school. William R. Tanner, assistant director of vocational education and elementary agriculture of Los Angeles city schools, gave a very interesting talk on the work of the pupils of the schools on the 250 acres which they are planting to trees and native shrubs to replace those destroyed by fire. He explained the means of fire fighting in the forests and showed stereopticon views of this work as well as views of the camps and dormitories used by the boys on their trips into the mountains.

Thomas McNeil, a pupil of the Torrance High school who has been in the local classes who have gone into the mountains on the trips, told of the many activities of the students in the past few years. They have planted many trees, cut trails, built a stone camp and have put in two dams for water storage.

Feeding Only 75 Children Now

Mrs. O. E. Hull, president of the association, presided. Mrs. George G. Elder, chairman of the spiritual department, gave a short talk on the work of her department. A membership drive will be held from the first of October to the first of November.

Mr. Bell welcomed the gathering and asked for donations of shoes, clothes and old stockings. The stockings are to be used in the

Famous 91st To Reunite Oct. 3

Tenth Anniversary of Noted Division Gala Event

The battle cry of "Powder River! Let 'er buck!" which echoed over the wooded hills of the Argonne and across the flooded fields of Flanders, will resound again through the streets of Los Angeles on October 3rd when the famous 91st Division gathers in its Tenth Annual Reunion. Every preparation is being made to welcome the thousands of survivors of the "Wild West" Division who are expected to attend.

Headquarters will be established at Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, which will be converted for the occasion into replicas of familiar French cafes and Belgian estaminets. The motion picture colony of Hollywood, many members of which served overseas with the 91st Division, has generously offered its services in the matter of entertainment. World famous dancers, comedians and singers will add atmosphere to the settings by appearing in costume. French mademoiselles and sturdy peasants will mingle with the veterans offering refreshment as well as entertainment.

School Children Are Not "Broke"

By the United Press
California's school children are not "broke" at any rate. School savings banks in the state had a balance of $6,605,531.02 as of June 30, 1931, according to a report of the state department of education. These savings were deposited by 416,990 children enrolled in 2,488 schools, or 62 per cent of the total enrollment.

HUNTING HONORS EVEN

A 10-day deer hunting trip in Modoc county only resulted in the bagging of one fine buck and the landing of a 11-pound trout, according to Charles Myers, one of the disappointed hunters who returned to the city Monday night. Sidney Smith, of Cota avenue, the deer, a splendid six-pole specimen, and C. B. Patten, of Lomita, hooked the trout. The other member of the party was Ellis Harder.
