Firemen Ask For
First Aid Contest
With Boy Scouts

The first aid squad of Troop 3, Torrance Boy Scouts, must be pretty good. They had to be good to attract the attention of the first aid squad of the Torrance Fire Department, which is so good that the squad goes about putting on exhibitions here and there, in theaters, and before crowds of all kinds.

And so, since the Fire Department is pretty good, they have noticed that the Boy Scouts are not so bad, the fire ladders have asked the Scouts to take part in a contest, which will be held April 8. Four firemen and four Boy Scouts, with their "patients" will put on the show in the presence of some competent judges, and the winning team will be entitled to the championship title. No medals, cups or other trophies are to be awarded, unless some big-hearted citizen sees fit to provide one.

"The Hatchet Man," Thrilling
Melodrama of China,
Coming Sunday

Edward G. Robinson comes to the Torrance Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, in his latest characterization, that of the heroic Wong Low Get in "The Hatchet Man," a First National and Vitaphone adaptation of a play by Achmed Abdullah and the late David Belasco.

Gorgeously staged and photographed, the thrilling scenes of the melodramatic romance are laid in China—at Hangchow and on the Yangtze River—and in the Chinatown of San Francisco. Mr. Robinson, who won recognition as the greatest character actor of the screen in "Little Caesar," "Smart Money" and "Five Star Final," presents an utterly different character in "The Hatchet Man."

As the Honorable Mr. Wong he is commanded by his tongue to execute an enemy, Sun Yet Sen, who had been a boyhood friend. Sun Yet Sen, who is his property, and secures his promise to marry his daughter, Toya San, then but six. The story recounts the exciting adventures of Mr. Wong as protector, and later as husband of pretty Toya San—whom he gives up to her half-caste lover—and finally rescues from slavery, in old China. Brilliantly directed by William A. Wellman, the play is unique in star, support, situations and settings.

The cast includes Loretta Young as Toya San, Leslie Fenton as her evil lover—Dudley Digges, Edmund Broese, Tully Marshall, Noel Madison, Eulalie Jensen, J. Carr, Nat Pendleton, Otto Yamloka, Evelyn Selbie, E. Allyn Warren, Eddie Piel, Willie Fung and Gladys Lloyd. Don't miss Edward G. Robinson in "The Hatchet Man."

Trackmen Show Good Early Season Form in Marine League Tilts

If early season form is to be any guide to predictions in the forthcoming Marine League track meets, these tilts will get hotter as the season progresses, and some very pretty battles will be fought out on the various school fields.

With Torrance holding El Segundo to a tie, the Cs running away with their end of the meet, and with Narbonne, Gardena and Leuzinger finishing neck-and-neck in a triangular meet, it does not appear that any of these teams has much of an edge.

Tomorrow afternoon Torrance will meet Leuzinger at the Torrance high school grounds. Narbonne will tangle with Banning at the latter's field.

Torrance will not meet any of the heavier teams in the Marine League this year until the finals. Narbonne's go against Jordan, but Torrance's most formidable foes will be the Lomitas and the Gardena squad.

At the city relay carnival held in Los Angeles Saturday, March 12, Torrance finished third in the medley. Narbonne took second in the first race of the program.
