Rehearsals For Famous Play Are Now Under Way

"Ramona's" Cast of 200 Prepares for Opening on April 23

HEMET.—Preparations for the tenth season of the annual Ramona Pageant, sponsored as a community enterprise by the people of Hemet and San Jacinto, are well under way, according to Edward Foorman, general manager. The cast of 200 is practically complete and rehearsals have already been started in the beautiful hillside amphitheater known as the Ramona Bowl. This year the pageant will be given Saturday and Sunday afternoons, April 23 and 24, April 30 and May 1 and May 7 and 8, at 2:45 o'clock. Comfortable seats are provided for 5,000. Road construction work now being done will make the amphitheater more easily accessible than ever before and parking space is provided for an additional 3,000 cars. The Ramona play is a dramatization of the world-famous novel of the same name by Helen Hunt Jackson, and it is produced on the very ground that the immortal characters of that story actually trod 60 years ago. In and around the Hemet-San Jacinto valley are many landmarks of interest because of their connection with the story of Ramona. The original Ramona and her ill-fated lover, Alessandro, are buried in the little cemetery on the Cahuilla Indian reservation south of Hemet. Others who were characters in the book are buried in the cemetery at San Jacinto.

Much of the Ramona story was written by Mrs. Jackson when she visited San Jacinto more than half a century ago.

Thirty thousand people are expected to attend the Ramona play in its six performances this season. Ticket reservations are now being received by the Ramona Pageant office at Hemet.

ELEMENTARY School Notes

Pictures, charts, stereographs, still-films, and slides are delivered weekly to the school from the Visual Education Department of the Los Angeles city school district. These are of great value in the development of the social studies and in the subject of literature and in the subject of literature in the elementary school. In addition to these supplies many beautiful new books, recent publications, have been sent to prepare for an appreciation of the Greek background of the Olympics.

Mrs. William M. Bell, Jr., and 25 members of the Torrance faculty, present and past, enjoyed a lovely party, honoring Mrs. Vera Godwin, at the home of Doctor and Mrs. F. Y. Glidden, in Los Angeles, last Saturday afternoon.

At the regular faculty meeting last week, it was pleasant to observe, that Mrs. Lois Strazzer occupied her usual place, having returned after a recent illness.

After the meeting of the Girl Scouts last week, Annabelle and Ermanelle Smith, served delicious refreshments to members of the entire troop.

When Mrs. Dorothy Callahan, nee Leary, returned to school Monday morning, Principal William M. Bell, Jr., in the presence of the faculty, presented Mrs. Callahan with a beautiful silver cake dish, a wedding gift from the teachers of the school.

AMES, Ia., (U.P.)—A different use for the radio is being tried out at Iowa State College. Twenty radio-controlled clocks have been installed at key points on the campus, in an attempt to get the students to classes on time.

BOOKS FOR SAILORS

Books for sailors are wanted. The Torrance branch of the Los Angeles public library will see that all donations during Seamen's Book week, April 13-20, are placed where the men of the sea may have access to them. Books of all types are desired.

Expect More Benefit From License Fund

Torrance to Be Apportioned Greater Amount This Year In Equalization Move

That Inglewood, Torrance and other cities of the Fourth Supervisorial district will receive greater benefit from the state gas and vehicle license tax next year was seen today with announcement by Supervisor John R. Quinn that every supervisorial district except the First will be alloted more funds next year. Agreement, reached by the supervisors late yesterday following a conference in the Hall of Records, will be set forth officially at the regular board session on Monday.

South Los Angeles, or District Two, represented by Supervisor Frank L. Shaw and the Hollywood, or Third district, represented by Supervisor J. Don Mahaffey, will receive the most substantial increases in appropriations, according to figures compiled today. The fourth district, embracing half of the city of Torrance, Inglewood, Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, Culver City, Redondo Beach and other sections in and about the coast, received $5,557,445 over the past five-year period. Supervisor Hugh A. Thatcher's first district received $9,356,302 over a similar period, while south Los Angeles and Hollywood received but $1,000,-000 between them, which called for a more equal distribution. Last year approximately $7,500,000 accruing from the gas and vehicle license taxes was distributed in the county. Supervisor Wright's fourth district received but $5,011,715 in the past five years.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES
By MARIE SMITH

Miss Madeline Murphy and Miss Katherine Millerd, local Girl Scout captains, attended the banquet at Alexandria Hotel ballroom last Thursday, honoring Mrs. Frederick Edey, national president of the organization. A 46-piece orchestra furnished music during the program. Helen Matthewson Laughlin, local commissioner, and Edith W. Swarts, director, presided. Many prominent persons were present including Mrs. Buron Fitts, Burr McIntyre, Mrs. Florence Jones, Mrs. Rose Bryant, Miss Grace Stoermer, Misses Oleda Schrottky, and Julia Williamson, both from national headquarters in New York. First class and honor scouts participated.

The regional conference for Girl Scout leaders took place during the last week-end at Pacific Palisades, near Santa Monica. Several hundred were there to get training offered by National Girl Scout leaders. Mrs. Edey was most inspirational in her talks and reminiscences of early scout history, and of Juliette Lowe, the founder. Vaal Stark, Thelma Mellick and Mary Jane Littlefield of San Francisco gave courses on troop skills, management and games; Julia Williamson on Brownies, and Oleda Schrottky about plays and pageants.

Troop 1 of Torrance is planning a hike in the mountains Saturday when they will follow trails, make maps and work on pioneering. Emily Bechtel and Beatrice Riley attended the last meeting of Senior and Honor Scouts in Los Angeles. The organization is made up of those who have passed first class tests and those who have done outstanding work in their troop.

Owns Ancient Drum

JACKSON, Mich., (U.P.)—A drum which was used throughout the Civil War is owned by Arthur Curtis here. It has been re-headed and roped, and now the instrument is as good as new, Curtis says.
