COOKING SCHOOL OPENS TOMORROW

MANY VALUABLE PRIZES TO BE GIVEN AWAY EACH DAY

Everyone is invited; No Admission Charge, But Come Early; Bring Pencil and Note Paper

Final arrangements were being whipped into shape today for the opening of the greatest cooking school in local history, which opens tomorrow at the Torrance Theatre, promptly at 2 p. m., and continues Thursday and Friday at the same hour.

In addition to a highly instructive course in "Kitchening," prepared by the Safeway Stores and Piggly Wiggly Homemakers' Bureau, patrons of the cooking school will participate in the distribution of a group of very valuable prizes. These include a Frigidaire, a coffee set, a vacuum cleaner, besides 25 baskets of groceries, valued at $2 each, and other food prizes. Details concerning the "Kitchening" course and prizes are given elsewhere in this issue, and readers are urged to take careful note of the many attractions offered. One of the major prizes will be given away each day, besides 12 baskets of groceries and food prizes.

The cooking school is made possible by the co-operation of the Safeway Stores, Homebake Bureau, the Torrance Herald and Lomita News, a large group of nationally known food manufacturers, the Star Furniture Company, Millar Furniture Company, Howard's Jewelry and Southern California Gas Company. Much credit should also be given to DeWitt Van Derlip, proprietor of the Torrance Theatre, for his hearty co-operation in donating the use of the theatre for the three afternoons.

There will be no admission charged and everyone is invited to attend. You are requested to bring a pencil and note paper. Doors of the Torrance Theatre will open at 1 p. m. Come early, as the seating capacity of the theatre will be taxed to the limit. An interesting entertainment will be given on the stage beginning at 1:15 p. m. each day.

Hatchery Code Will Improve Health of Chick

Regulations Set Up For General Usage In Poultry Industry

The new hatchery code will greatly improve the production and health of chickens according to Dr. M. A. Jull, of the United States department of agriculture.

Provisions of the code, according to Dr. Jull, regulate commercial hatcheries in such a way that the general health and production will be greatly increased. For instance the hatcheries must not set eggs weighing less than one and five-sixths ounces each or less than 22 ounces to the dozen.

Investigations by the bureau of animal industry have proved that as a rule the chicks hatched from small eggs are smaller than the chicks from larger eggs. Continuous selections of good-sized eggs for setting will tend to produce larger chicks and larger pullets, which in turn will lay larger eggs than has been the rule when heavy pullets have been hatched from small eggs.

The code will also help to eradicate such diseases as pullorum, according to Dr. Jull. The hatchery code provides that all operators advertising chicks from "Blood Tested" stock must state by whom the test was conducted, the date of the test, and other data. The hatchery code has already been in force to a considerable extent in blood testing by flock owners and hatchery operators and the poultry plants are exercising greater precautions to prevent the spread of the disease.

The code also specifies that chicks from blood tested stock may not be hatched in the same incubator room as chicks from stock that has not been blood tested.

Entertainment Program Each Day At 1:15 P. M.

Entertainment programs of unusual interest and versatility will be presented at the Torrance Theatre.

WEDNESDAY
MADRIGAL SINGERS, famed musical organization of the Torrance high school, whose talents have won high praise from critics throughout the Southland, will give a short program beginning at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday.

THURSDAY
MURIELLE ZABELLE'S FAMOUS ZABELLE JUVENILE STARS will give a highly diversified program of dancing, Thursday, April 26, beginning at 1:15 sharp. These celebrated little artists who have appeared on the stages of many leading Southland theatres, as well as on the Olympic Games and Los Angeles Fiesta programs with Harold Roberts and his Trojan Band, were recently enthusiastically received in Torrance when they put on a program for the American Legion.

Zabelle Dancing Academy, under the direction of L. E. Arends, managing director, recently opened a studio at Torrance, and a large class of juveniles have been enrolled for the classes which are held each Friday afternoon at the Legion clubhouses. Guests at the cooking school are urged to be in their seats at 1:15 p. m. Thursday, in order to enjoy this interesting program by the Zabelle Juvenile Stars.

Three Cousins Are Remembered In Will of Torrance Woman

A petition for probate of the will of Jennie E. Lewis, who died in Torrance, April 10, is on file today in Los Angeles superior court. The estate is valued at $13,120, according to the petition.

Three cousins are remembered in the will and bequeathed $500 each. They are Addie Pierce, of 222 West Park, Ontario; Lydia Fish, who was also named executor of the estate, of 127 Monterey Road, Ontario, and Emerson E. Fish of the same address. Mable C. Poe is described in the will as the "best friend" of the decedent and bequeathed $500.

The estate consists of stock, notes and real property. Hearing on the matter has been set for May 15.

RE-ELECTED

Mayor John W. Clark, of Hermosa Beach, has just been re-elected to that office for the third term.

Head of Famous Circus Family Dies Thursday

Eduardo Codona, 74, Passes Away At Daughter's Home In WALTERIA

WALTERIA, April 24.—Funeral service for Eduardo Codona, 74, former circus owner and head of a famous family of circus performers, who died Thursday, April 19, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. K. Adolph, 2424 Hawthorne boulevard, were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Dunaway Funeral Parlors, Hawthorne, with interment following in Inglewood Park cemetery. Mr. Codona had lived for several years at the home of his son, Edward, of Long Beach, but recently when his health failed he was removed to the home of his daughter here. He was born in Valle de San Bartolome, Mexico, in 1860, and came to the United States as a boy, residing in Texas for many years. Mr. Codona is credited with being the first man to make a balloon ascension on the Continent, and one of the first to make a parachute jump. He retired from active circus operation 20 years ago, and has since trained his family of performers, among them being Alfredo and Lalo, known internationally as the "Flying Codonas," who featured a spectacular trapeze act with a triple somersault by Alfredo. Mrs. Adolph, at whose home Mr. Codona was staying at the time of his death, was the former Victoria Codona, premier stock wire performer, who traveled for years with Barnum & Bailey's Circus. A daughter-in-law, the wife of his son Alfredo, was the famous Lilian Letzel, world famous as queen of the rings and holder of the one-arm overhead turn record, who met accidental death while touring with a circus in Europe. She was buried in Inglewood, where many circus people annually make pilgrimages to her monument.

Mr. Codona leaves three sons, Edward of Long Beach, Alfredo and Lalo, who are now with a circus; three daughters, Mrs. Adolph of WALTERIA, Mrs. Rose Krusk of Long Beach, and Mrs. Hortense Ferrante of Los Angeles.

City Officials Attend Meeting At Belvedere
Members of the Torrance city council attended a meeting of the Los Angeles County League of Municipalities, held at Belvedere Gardens, last week, and heard a lengthy but interesting discussion of county health problems. Speeches on the different phases of public health work were made by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, Harry P. Seville, Prof. Edwin G. Cottrell of Stanford University, Joseph W. Mountain, senior surgeon U. S. public health service, and Dr. J. D. Dunahoe, director of the state department of public health.

County Auditor H. A. Payne spoke on financial problems in city-county health work. A number of the members of the board of supervisors were present as well as representatives of the various cities in the county.

TURN TO STORY ONE

Torrance Tennis Teams Are Named

Kenneth Fess and Ted Merrill will represent the Torrance Tartars this season as the first doubles tennis team, for the West Marine League season starting in May.

Dale Howe and Francis Mowry are named as second doubles team, Homer Kirkpatrick, first singles, and Junior Lane, second singles. The tennis squads played their first practice games with an out-of-town squad Thursday, meeting the teams from Frank Wiggins Trade school on the local courts.

SPEND DAY IN OCEANSIDE

Mrs. Scott Ludlow, A. P. Stevenson and E. M. Johnson, with Mrs. G. L. Danford of Los Angeles, visited Friday with Mrs. Luther Pierce of Oceanside. Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Danford are former Torrance residents.

Prospective Champion

LOUIS ZAMPERINI

17-year-old junior at Torrance high school, whose sensational performances in the mile run have made him the center of interest for the coming Southern California finals which will be held at Los Angeles next month. Louis's best time for the mile is 4:28.8, made three weeks ago in a triangular meet against Narbonne and North Long Beach at Griffin Field. This is not only a record for Torrance high school, but also a record for the West Marine League and the fastest time made by any high school runner in the state.

This young lad, whose speed and stamina are unequalled in this section and probably in the entire state, has never lost a race and so far has never been pushed to the limit of his abilities. Most of his races, with the exception of the past two weeks, when he has been holding back somewhat in order to save himself for the important meets of next month, have been finished so far ahead of any other competitor that the real struggle has been for second place.

Torrance track fans who have never seen the "iron man" in action, would get an equal of the smoothest stride, perfect rhythm and judgment of pace, that has ever been seen on a Torrance track. Louis should be called the "laughing boy" as well as "iron man" as he finishes so fresh and unaffected by the long grind that he walks off the course with a broad smile on his face, apparently no more affected by the fast pace.

Former Torrance Publisher Elected Rotary Club Pres.

Claude P. Roberts, who until 1923 was publisher and editor of the Torrance Herald and Lomita News, was elected president of the Wilmington Rotary Club last week for the ensuing year. Mr. Roberts is now publisher of the Wilmington Press. The Rotary Club directors also re-appointed Clem Christie secretary.

Baldrick Claim For Damages Is Settled By P. E.

Heirs of Deceased Fire Chief Win Award of $15,000

A settlement for $15,000 was approved last week for Mrs. Ruth Baldrick, the widow of Thomas William Baldrick, fire chief of Gardena, who lost his life in attempting to put out a fire last October 21 at Standard Oil Gasoline tank in Gardena.

The settlement was approved by Superior Judge Marshall McComb and is to be paid by the Pacific Electric Company. The fire started when a Pacific Electric car ran into the gasoline tank. Baldrick was killed when it exploded. The amount to be paid includes the claims of Thomas William Baldrick, 12 children of the deceased man.

NARBONNE PULLS SURPRISE BY WINNING W. MARINE MEET

Gauchos Top Tartars By 6 1/2 Points; Gardena Winner In Relay; Zamperini Cops Mile In 4:49.2, Slow Time For This Speedy Youth

Ben Comrada's Narbonne Gauchos upset the dope bucket by taking first place away from Bernard J. Donahue's Torrance Tartars in the West Marine League finals at Leuzinger Friday afternoon. The Gauchos rolled up 58 1/2 points to the Tartars' 52. Gardena was third with 32.

INTER-CLUB DINNER
Invitations have been mailed to service clubs, civic organizations and city officials to attend the first annual inter-club relations dinner given by the National Business and Professional Women's Club of Torrance at the Woman's clubhouse, 1422 Ingracia avenue, Thursday evening, April 26. The dinner has been advanced to 6 o'clock.

Baby Girl Is Left Behind When Parents Move Away From City

When Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bernstein, residents of Torrance for a very brief time, moved from this city two weeks ago, they left behind them one of their most valuable possessions, a chubby little baby girl about two months old.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernstein with their family of two, a boy about 4 years old, and the baby girl, came to Torrance early in March. They resided at the Norman Arms apartment. The husband was employed by an out-of-town concern, on work in Torrance, but after a short time he lost his position here.

One evening, the parents sought Mrs. W. O. Taylor, 2087 1/2 Torrance boulevard, a kindly neighbor, and asked if they might leave the baby in her care while they went to Los Angeles for the night. Permission was given and the child was turned over to Mrs. Taylor.

Next day the Bernsteins had not returned. Nor did they return the following day or later. No word from the family was received and Mrs. Taylor was left with the infant child to care for. Not until two weeks had elapsed did Mrs. Taylor hear from the missing parents.

Last week a letter arrived, mailed from Santa Barbara, enclosing money which, the letter said, was for the care of the child. Hope was expressed that the baby was "all right," but no intimation was given that the parents were planning to claim the child immediately.

Mrs. Taylor, with her family, is planning to move to Los Angeles within a short time, and will take the baby with her.

Suits Are Filed In Condemnation Cases State St.

More than 300 individuals and corporations holding land on State street are made defendants in a condemnation suit filed last week in Los Angeles county superior court by the City of Long Beach. The suit is for the purposes of obtaining easements along State street so it can be widened to 80 feet. It will be a link of the Roosevelt Highway coast route.

Last March 16 the city council passed a resolution stating that "Public interest and convenience requires the widening of State street." The suit filed by City Attorney N. H. Reid is the result. The property to be condemned is within the city limits on State street. However, a portion of the street, from Temple street east to Alamitos Drive, is within the limits of the City of Signal Hill so that any action there will have to be taken by that city. Indications from Signal Hill officials are that they will file a similar suit soon.

The defendants will be required to answer the suit and describe their property to be condemned so that it may be adjudicated and the amount of damage ascertained.

Read "I'll Tell the World"

A Story of the Romance of News Gathering... Starting Thursday, April 26 in the Torrance Herald.

What kind of a fellow is he who gathers your world-wide news? This question will be answered for you in this newspaper starting Thursday this week. On this day, one Stanley Brown, correspondent of the United Press, begins his adventures in "I'll Tell the World," a twelve-chapter serial story. "I'll Tell the World," is the thrilling story of a newspaperman who flies to north Canada to cover one news assignment, takes the next liner for Europe to get mixed up in a revolution, and bravely faces several crises before he emerges with his story... and a beautiful blonde! The tale has the approval of the United Press... the organization which supplies world-wide news to the Torrance Herald and Lomita News.
