Cleanaire Food Conditioner Absorbs Food Odors In Ice Boxes

Torrance Electric Shop, 1419 Marcelina avenue, announces a free gift to all ice box owners. The gift—a Cleanaire Food Conditioner—is made as part of a campaign to introduce the new 1934 series of Westinghouse Refrigerators.

The food conditioner is a new, non-electric device which quickly absorbs all food odors within an ice box. It not only prevents the inside walls from absorbing food odors but eliminates entirely the transmission of odors from one food to another.

This free Cleanaire food conditioner likewise keeps the ice from acquiring some of the aromas of surrounding foods in a season when the demand for ice is high is very great.

Mr. B. J. Scott, proprietor of the Torrance Electric Shop, says that people are telephoning in at all hours for information regarding this gift and that requests are being filled for free installation in the order which they come in.

Thousands Remain On Charity Rolls

A graphic picture of the case load of the county charities department was given today in figures obtained from office records of Earl E. Jensen, superintendent.

It discloses that 297,057 families were granted aid by the charities department, who were fed and clothed largely with funds supplied by the federal government.

Figures for Friday, July 6, when the last weekly count was made, showed 108,276 cases still on charity and unemployment relief rolls. This reveals that 196,000 cases were opened temporarily during the fiscal year ending last June 30.

Tim McCoy Thrills In Film of Daring Highway Cop Deeds

Plenty of fast action of the type Tim McCoy fans are enthusiastic over is present in the star's current speed-drama, "Hell Bent For Love," coming to the Lomita Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, July 18 and 19.

When McCoy serves a warrant upon a girl of whom the underworld chief is particularly fond, and when he later shows more than an official interest in the girl, Trigger Talano, the gangster chief, frames the officer. He is caught red-handed apparently assisting in a payroll holdup and is discharged from the police force.

Ranking under the injustice of his suspension and discovering that the underworld boss was responsible for his disgrace, Tim sets out to vindicate himself. He organizes a band of ex-convicts, each of whom he has befriended, and fights the underworld with its own weapons. He interferes with their rackets, breaks up their schemes and finally sends them to prison as jewel robbers.

P. T. A. Outing At Camp Seeley

Mrs. L. S. Rounsaville, president, announces that Los Angeles Tenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers, for the third year, is planning a family outing not only for the district board members and their families but, also, for council boards and local P. T. A. members and families.

It will be from July 20 to 22 at Camp Seeley, the municipal recreation ground, 75 miles from Los Angeles.

Reservations close Tuesday, July 10, and must be made at the Parent-Teacher office, 583 Chamber of Commerce building, 1151 South Broadway, by the afternoon of July 10. Each family reservation must be accompanied by a dollar.

Louisa May Alcott's Classic At Torrance Tonight, Fri. and Sat.

KATHARINE HEPBURN in "LITTLE WOMEN"

RKO-Radio Pictures' dramatization of Louisa M. Alcott's classic "Little Women" as a talking picture recalls the remarkable career of this great author who actually began the book in a "spirit of pique," according to her biographers, "to prove to her publishers that she couldn't write a book for girls."

It is hard to believe that the author of a book which has for 65 years been a sort of "bible" for American girlhood, mastered also the art of writing heart-throbbing mystery yarns, blood-curdling adventure yarns, and yarns wherein the heroine was usually fallen, to be lifted and forgiven by the hero.

According to an accurate roster of her works, 81 stories in all, compiled by the RKO-Radio research department as part of the work of making the picture as much like the original book as possible, Miss Alcott was the author of such stories as "King of Clubs," "Pair of Eyes," "Whisper in the Dark," "Behind a Mask," "Thrice Tempted," "Fatal Follies," "Scarlet Stockings" and many other similar works.

According to literary experts, such books were the forerunner of the "nickel novels" which youngsters used to hide under the mattress and read after the "old folks" went to sleep. For them she received about $10 each.

The film version of "Little Women," perhaps her greatest work of all, is enacted by a cast of more than 20 gifted artists, headed by Katharine Hepburn as Jo. Other leading characters are portrayed by Joan Bennett, Paul Lukas, Frances Dee, Jean Parker, Edna May Oliver, Douglas Montgomery and Henry Stephenson.

Many Ponies Are Entered In Two Top Turf Events

State Fair in September Brings Out Important Group of Thoroughbreds

SACRAMENTO. (U. P.)—Two outstanding turf events at the state fair here September 1-10 promise to bring out the best groups of thoroughbred horses ever entered in races at the annual exposition.

Nominations for the Governor's stake for 3-year-olds show 19 high-class entries for the $1500 added purse, according to Charles W. Paine, secretary-manager of the fair. The event will be run on Thursday, September 6, Governor's day, and will be over the mile and 70 yards course.

Included in the entries for this event are such well-known thoroughbreds as Bonny Grafton, owned by the Meadowbrook Stable of Los Angeles, and her stablemate, Maricela. Others nominated include On Rush, of Jack Atkin's Pasadena Stable; Prince Heather and Mascol, owned by J. W. Marchbank of Tanforan; War, a son of the famous Man O'War, owned by the Rancho San Luis Rey near Riverside; Chletoney, owned by H. H. Crowell of La Jolla; Blue Law, entered by E. J. Carey of Emeryville, and High Tension, owned by Henry Potter Russell of San Francisco.

The President's Futurity, for a purse of $1,000 added, will be run on the closing day of the meet, September 10, over a distance of five and one-half furlongs. Fifteen nominations for the event include San Luis Rey, owned by the Rancho San Luis Rey, and other top horses from the Pasadena stable.

Santa Fe Trains Air-Conditioned

Jas. B. Duffy, assistant passenger, traffic manager of the Santa Fe, announces that the large air conditioning program of that company for 1934, has been completed and air conditioned Pullman, club, lounge, observation and dining cars are being operated on "The Chief" and "The California Limited," and air conditioned dining cars on "The Grand Canyon Limited."

According to Mr. Duffy, the public response is very gratifying and the future of air conditioned equipment seems to be well established for both summer and winter travel. Because of the popularity of these cars, giving advantages of even temperature throughout the year, the Santa Fe will proceed to add to its already large fleet of cars now equipped.

"Those who have made trips in these new air conditioned cars are so impressed by the pleasure and comfort of them, traveling via any other means in the future," Duffy states.

Wheeler & Woolsey Gaily Gallants In 'Cockeyed Cavaliers'

"Cockeyed Cavaliers," the new comedy hit coming to the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday, July 15 and 16, brings Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, the screen corks, in some more of their nonsensical and hilarious goofing-around.

This time Wheeler and Woolsey appear as gallants of the medieval age, aided and abetted by Thelma Todd, Dorothy Lee and a bevy of beautiful femininity. The comics are riding the rods of a royal stagecoach when they encounter Mary Ann Gliding the Duke of Weskit, to whom she has been promised in marriage. They unwittingly wander with Mary Ann into the Duke's palace.

Making the most of a situation, Bert and Mary Ann fall in love, while Bob pursues the alluring Genevieve, the Duke's niece. The rollicking romance reaches a high pitch when the Duke, Genevieve's husband, and a wild boar hunt bring affairs to an issue.

"Cockeyed Cavaliers," RKO-Radio Pictures, was directed by Mark Sandrich. Will Jason and Val Burton provided the songs.

Circus Staged For 'A Modern Hero' In Barnes Tent Show

There's the scent of tanbark and jungle beasts and the tams of pink lemons in "A Modern Hero," the latest Warner Bros. picture, "A Modern Hero," which comes to the Plaza Theatre at Hawthorne on Wednesday and Thursday, July 18 and 19, for there's a show within the production.

All members of the company who take part in the circus sequences were moved on location near El Monte, California, where the A. G. Barnes famous tent show was sequestered for the winter. Here the main tent was put up with the various side shows around it, the menageries with their lions, tigers and other wild beasts in cages, and elephants dangling at their chains. The freaks were there, the shell game tricksters and the ballyhoo artists, with all the accompanying noise and bustle and confusion that characterizes a circus.

STATE SEEKS U. S. PAYMENT BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (U. P.)—The state of Connecticut loaned the federal government $550,000 during the War of 1812 and wants it back. Although action was instituted in 1919 for return of the loan with interest, it was not until recently the suit was pressed.

MARRIAGE GOOD—and HOWE SALKINS, Cal. (U. P.)—How good will be the marriage? That's a question only time will tell, but courthouse attaches here admitted the couple who obtained the marriage license were Good—and Howe. In fact, theirs was a record in Monterey County. Clerks said Delbert Norton Howe, who obtained a license to wed Sophie Amelia Good, 50, was older by a number of years than any other applicant on record.
