special committee report urging the call. More than 50 members of the state legislature, city and county officials, met Monday night to hear the special committee report on tax and unemployment relief needs in Los Angeles county and throughout the state.

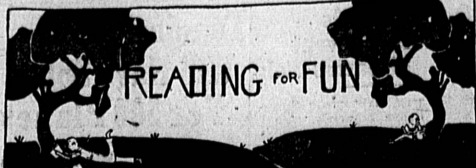

They found, according to Rawls, that complete collapse of the state emergency relief administration program after September 1 looms because of the anticipated withdrawal of federal funds after that date. Twenty-five million dollars was expended for relief in Los Angeles county during the past year, the committee reported. Ten million dollars was supplied by the state, $8,000,000 by the U. S. government, and $7,000,000 by the county.

Confronted by the virtual exhaustion of these funds by the first of next month, and collapse of the county relief program at that time, the legislators issued a formal request of the governor for a special session.

As examples of the growing relief load on the county and state, Rawls pointed out in the committee report that old age pensions have increased 35 per cent. in the state, that relief for the blind has increased 35 per cent. and that the state has grown 35 per cent. Federal funds, which are expected to be cut off at the end of this month have amounted to $3,500,000 per month, the legislators committee reported.

About $1,000,000 will be available at that time, where the actual need will be closer to $2,000,000 for the month of September alone, County Auditor Payne told the committee.

Among points in the program tentatively suggested for attention at the special session are those seeking a rehabilitation means through the SERRA, to the end that employment relief can be extended to a wider group of needy persons; and some means for establishing unemployment insurance, according to Assemblyman Rawls.

Inglewood Justice Visitor In Torrance

Judge A. P. Monroe, candidate for re-election as justice of the peace of the enlarged Inglewood township, was a visitor in Torrance Monday. He told friends that he had found a well qualified clerk to take the place of his wife, who has served him as clerk of the court for more than ten years, and that if re-elected, Mrs. Monroe will retire to make way for another person.

Judge Monroe also announced that he would, so far as the law allowed, hold court wherever convenient within the township. "I will make every effort to secure locations in the different parts of the township that will be most suitable for litigants in the different centers of population," he stated.

Bring Old Gold - - - Or Mail It In Today

The GOLD RUSH Is On!

For over twenty-five years we have been located in Long Beach and have struggled to sell you jewelry. NOW, we advise you to sell your old discarded gold, for today its base price is the highest it has ever been. We have discontinued our jewelry business and have nothing to sell or exchange for your old gold except cash money.

The tide has turned on us. Since 1907, the year THE JEWEL PALACE was first founded in Long Beach we have been urging our customers to buy gold from us. Now we turn about and want to buy it back from you. Funny, isn't it... but where we formerly bought from a few sources and sold to the public, the whole thing is turned around and we ask the public to sell us their gold, which we, in turn, sell to the Mint, our new customer Uncle Sam.

A corps of highly trained experts have been employed in our NEW LOCATION at 14 PINE AVENUE to appraise, test and purchase your OLD GOLD. The entire procedure is just as scientific as going to the Mint. All day long these experts do nothing but test, weigh and buy in your discarded old gold. There is no guesswork about any appraisal... these men KNOW from years of experience what every piece submitted to them will assay. Such is our method and your guarantee that you will receive every penny from us that your gold is worth.
