

Enlistments In Marine Corps Open

Reservations are open for enlistments in fighting squadron No. 4 of the United States Marine Corps, according to Capt. William Fox, chief engineer of the county regional planning commission. Men are desired with stenographic experience. Information may be obtained at the naval air base at Long Beach on Thursday evenings, according to Fox.

Edward G. Robinson Is Starred In Thrilling Mystery Drama

"The Man With Two Faces," which comes to the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday, September 2 and 3, brings that splendid actor, Edward G. Robinson, in a new role. Robinson, in another of his fine characterizations, is supported by a cast of headliners, Ricardo Cortez, Mae Clarke, Louis Calhern, Mary Astor and others in one of the most thrilling mystery dramas of the year. Robinson as Damon Wells, actor and director of the New York stage, traps the husband of the girl in the picture. Police are baffled and finally give up the case with the exception of

Pasadena Cops Make Jean Harlow Honorary Chief of Department

Jean Harlow, Lionel Barrymore, Patsy Kelly in "The Girl From Missouri"

They "mugged" platinum-blond Jean Harlow at the Pasadena, California, police station before she finished her starring role in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "The Girl From Missouri," which is to be seen September 2 and 3 at the Plaza Theatre in Hawthorne.

She was photographed and fingerprinted by the police, not because she had violated any of the Crown City's laws, but because she had previously broken an important engagement to appear as honored guest at the Pasadena police department ball. Her presence at the ball had aided in making the ball the most successful in the history of the Pasadena department, so the bluecoats rewarded her by appointing her honorary police chief of the city.

'Dr. Monica' At Lomita Theatre

Now that Verree Teasdale is established in Hollywood, there is a change in the list of well dressed women. Always one of the most smartly gowned girls of the New York stage, Verree is quite able to hold her own in the film capital's perennial sartorial contest.

Shortly after she appeared in "Fashions of 1934," style writers began to revise their list of smart dressers and in "Doctor Monica," her latest Warner picture showing at the Lomita Theatre Friday, August 31, and Saturday, September 1, she confirmed the impression of her previous appearance.

Verree Teasdale is a tall, statuesque blonde with a graceful carriage and an instinct for smartness. She designs many of her own gowns, and has done so for years. Recently a Hollywood newspaper printed a number of her pictures in various gowns as models of smart clothes properly worn.

In "Doctor Monica" Miss Teasdale is stunningly gowned as befits the role of a society woman, which she plays. The picture is the thrillingly dramatic story in which two women battle for love and happiness. Kay Francis has the title role while others in the cast are Verree Teasdale and Warren Williams.

Bing Crosby In Merry Comedy At Torrance Theatre Tonight

Bing Crosby and Miriam Hopkins in Paramount's hilarious comedy, "She Loves Me Not." This picture, based on the stage play currently showing in New York, comes tonight, Friday and Saturday, August 30, 31 and September 1. As a companion picture is shown, "Whom the Gods Destroy," with Walter Connolly and Doris Kenyon in the leading roles.

Cagney Keeps An Query? Who Slew Admiral Waiting Louise Halloran Hour to See Him

James Cagney, number one among his most loyal fans no less a personage than Admiral D. F. Sellers, former commander of the Pacific fleet of the United States navy.

Cagney spent two weeks on board the U. S. S. Arizona, while making scenes for "Here Comes the Navy," the Warner Bros. picture coming to the Plaza Theatre in Hawthorne, September 4, 5 and 6, but not until the day the company was working at the navy landing dock ashore did the admiral find time to pay a visit to Jimmy.

Accompanied by his aides and family, Admiral Sellers arrived less than five minutes after Cagney had returned to his hotel to change his costume and make-up for the sequence they were shooting. It was more than an hour before Cagney returned to the scene of action, and found his distinguished visitors waiting for him. Jimmy began to stammer, embarrassed apologies, but the admiral stopped him with a smile.

War Is Over But Work of Spies Goes On; 500 Arrested Abroad

Many occurrences of actual fact have been incorporated in "Stamboul Quest," which, although based upon an original story by Leo Birinski, throws a new light upon the World War and reveals the intrigue of international espionage as practiced by the Central Powers and the clever system of un-

Busy Month For 'Popular Club'

Pointing with pride to an exceptionally full calendar of events during the past month of August, The Bal Tabarin, located at 15513 South Western avenue, has enjoyed entertaining most every type of club known. Starting with the Gardenia Legion Post steak dinner on the evening of August 8, when more than 200 plates were served, a regular avalanche of private clubs, wedding parties, organization dinners and such have been served and entertained.

A new face has been added to the increasing staff of dancers and singers. Bobby Stevens, a well-known tap, eccentric and buck and wing dancer of Hollywood Nite Club fame, is now a regular feature of the nightly floor show.
