Part Time Work Available For U. S. C. Students

Part-time employment for new students is still available at the University of Southern California through FERA appropriations it was announced by Dr. Frank C. Toulton, vice president of U. S. C. in charge of FERA projects on the campus.

"Work for approximately 400 students, who otherwise would be unable to attend the university, has been made possible this year at U. S. C. by the FERA," states Dr. Toulton. "Under the terms of the appropriation, one-half of the number employed must be new students who were not in attendance last year."

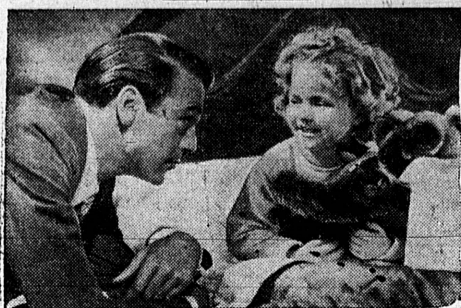

"Quotas for returning students have been filled, but positions still are open for entering freshmen or graduate students," he said.

NOW AND FOREVER

Shirley Temple, the sensation star of Paramount's "Little Miss Marker," returns in another Paramount picture which affords even more scope for her ample talents. It is "Now and Forever," coming four nights starting Sunday, September 30, to the Plaza Theatre in Hawthorne, in which the five-year-old is starred with Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard.

New Construction Work Will Start Next Month On Colorado River Line

Acceleration of construction work on the Colorado River Aqueduct, and the launching of new work on 150 miles of canals, conduits, and siphons, in addition to the 91 miles of tunnels now in progress, was, in effect, authorized Monday by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Action was taken by the R. F. C. board of directors in Washington authorizing the purchase by that federal body of $15,000,000 in Metropolitan Water district bonds during the present fiscal year, in addition to the $40,000,000 in aqueduct bonds which the R. F. C. previously has agreed to buy. The additional $15,000,000, together with the funds already available, will be sufficient to finance all aqueduct construction expenditures during the present fiscal year, according to General Manager Frank E. Weymouth of the water district.

Officials of the Metropolitan Water District stated that the action to purchase $15,000,000 of additional district bonds is in line with the negotiations and verbal agreements reached between the federal officials and district representatives several weeks ago. They stated that the action of the R. F. C. assures the pushing forward of aqueduct work now in progress, and the immediate expansion of this construction program.

The Metropolitan Water District several weeks ago advertised for bids on the construction of 110 miles of aqueduct canals, conduits and siphons. This portion of aqueduct work, including the cost of materials, rights of way, and administration, will amount to approximately $35,000,000, it was estimated. Favorable action of the R. F. C. having been taken Monday, bids on this work will be opened October 11, and it is estimated that employment for an additional 2000 men will be provided.

Immediately after news of Monday's action of the R. F. C. reached the offices of the district, General Manager Weymouth announced that the district on October 1 will be able to place advertisements for the construction of approximately 40 miles of aqueduct conduits and siphons, in addition to the 110 miles covered by the bids to be opened October 11. This will mean that construction work on the entire 211 miles of the main aqueduct line is to be set under way this year. The cost of the 40 miles of conduits and siphons to be advertised October 1, including materials and rights of way, has been estimated at approximately $15,000,000, and this construction work will provide employment for at least another 1000 men.

Work on the driving of 91 miles of aqueduct tunnels has been under way for about 20 months, with 4500 men on the job. More than 42 miles of these tunnels already have been excavated, and the work of lining the tunnels with concrete is now being started.

Gaynor and Farrell Are Together Again

After 18 months of separation, Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, the screen's most romantic team, will be reunited in Fox Film's latest release, "Change of Heart," which comes to the Plaza Theatre in Hawthorne on Friday and Saturday, September 28 and 29. Heeding the requests of thousands of fans to re-team these two screen sweethearts, the studio has arranged for their reunion.

The screen play adapted from the novel is a modern drama of youth's epic struggle for love and happiness in the turmoil of Manhattan. The film relates a big city's grim challenge to four youngsters just out of college, two boys and two girls, who banded together by ties of loyalty and common interest, enter its portals, accept its challenge and begin their brave fight to achieve success, realize their dreams of ambition and possibly fame.

New Dog Food Is Made In Moneta

Considerable research work has been done, and actual feeding tests were carried on for three months before the food was placed on the market at the Goddard Kennels in Gardena.

'Dude Ranger' Packed With Swift Action

A picture which, according to all advance reports, tops any western drama George O'Brien has yet filmed, is scheduled to arrive at the Torrance Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 4, 5 and 6.

This is "The Dude Ranger," described as a thrilling saga of the Arizona cattle lands. The fact that Zane Grey is the author of the new film in itself promises far more than usual for local audiences in the way of excitement, romance and authenticity of background.

This time Grey tells the story of Ernest Selby, sophisticated but sturdy young easterner, who comes to Arizona to claim a ranch inherited from his uncle. Before he has an opportunity to make his identity known to the ranch manager, his suspicions are aroused by the disappearance of several hundred head of cattle.

Mistaken for a cowboy in search of a job, he decides to masquerade in this role until he has cleared up the mishandling of the ranch. In the meanwhile, he has discovered another reason to extend his stay, in the person of the ranch manager's daughter.

OH, WHAT A GALAXY OF BEAUTIFUL GIRLS

Here are (oh, you count the chorus girls), trained to perfection by Busby Berkeley, famed dance maestro, and appearing in Warner Bros.' latest musical, "Dames," coming to the Torrance Theatre four nights starting, Sunday, September 30. Dick Powell, Joan Blondell and Ruby Keeler are a few of the leading lights in the cast. The five song hits and dance spectacles which are featured, elicited the following tribute from Walter Winchell: "Orchids to the most impressive choral maneuvers yet." Also showing "Beggar's Holiday," with Sally O'Neil and Hardie Albright.

Peerless Actor, George Arliss, In "The House of Rothschild"

A noted artist's impression of George Arliss as Nathan Rothschild, the distinguished star's latest and greatest screen characterization in 20th Century's "The House of Rothschild," currently showing at the Torrance Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 4, 5, 6.

George Arliss, who has given the screen many unusual things in the way of characterization, enjoys a new experience in his latest picture, "The House of Rothschild," his first 20th Century starring vehicle.

For seldom do the vagaries of the drama permit an actor to play father to himself as Arliss does in this Joseph M. Schenck-Darryl F. Zanuck presentation.

Taking for its plot the rise to world power of the Rothschild family during the Napoleonic era and stressing the loyalty and love between its members, this picture has been pronounced the biggest production in the respective careers of 20th Century pictures and George Arliss, who plays both old Mayer Rothschild, the father, and Nathan Rothschild, the one of the five sons who did the most to win the family world renown.

There are more than seventy speaking parts in the film, the cast of which includes such screen luminaries as Boris Karloff, Loretta Young, Robert Young, Helen Westley, C. Aubrey Smith and others. Nunnally Johnson wrote the screen play which is based on a play by George Herbert Westley.
