

Festival of Arts This Spring May Draw Local Entries

Local residents of all ages talented in various branches of the arts and who are anxious to win prizes and recognition are offered an opportunity to do so this summer during the second annual Southern California Festival of the Allied Arts to be held in Los Angeles, May 10-June 1, according to a statement made today by L. J. Gilmeister of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce.

COMING NEXT WEEK

Dick Powell in "Happiness Ahead" and May Robson in "Grand Old Girl" are two of the pictures booked for next week at the Torrance Theatre. They will be shown on the same bill, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 14, 15 and 16.

Picture Filmed In Torrance Is Now Showing At Lomita Theatre

May Robson, James Blakely, Fay Wray and Victor Jory in "Mills of the Gods"—A Columbia Picture

Five hundred unemployed men living in this community were given temporary work in the filming of this picture, which centers around the Union Tool plant of the National Supply Company. Every available extra of the needed type who was registered at existing bureaus was employed, and in addition, 500 men, recruited through the SERA, were added to the mob scenes. "Mills of the Gods" is showing tonight, Friday and Saturday at the Lomita Theatre.

Shirley Temple Has Finest Role In "Bright Eyes"

Shirley Temple, most sensational screen discovery of the year, at last has "the perfect screen vehicle." That, at any rate, is the gist of the enthusiastic advance accounts which precede Fox Film's "Bright Eyes" to the Plaza Theatre, Hawthorne, where it will begin a four-day engagement on Sunday, February 10.

Among the features of the new picture is Shirley's newest song number, a rollicking number especially written for her by the noted team of Richard Whiting and Sidney Clare. Its title is "On the Good Ship Lollipop." Shirley, it is reported, was overjoyed when she was informed that James Dunn would again be her lead and leading man in "Bright Eyes." It was with Dunn, to whom she is devoted, that she appeared in "Baby Take a Bow" and "Stand Up and Cheer." Preview audiences have declared "Bright Eyes" to be their finest vehicle to date.

The Babbitt Family

Here they are, Aline MacMahon and Guy Kibbee, who enact the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Babbitt in First National's "Babbitt," which comes to the Torrance Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, next week. An all-star cast combines to give you a realistic portrayal of this adaptation of the Sinclair Lewis novel that was discussed all over the world. Critics have agreed that the film does justice to the book and predict that the movie version will win the hearts of the millions of admirers of this great American classic. On the same bill, the thrilling mystery story, "The President Vanishes," starring Arthur Byron and Janet Beecher.

Orange Show's Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

Exposition Starting February 21 Will Eclipse All Others Say Officials. The forthcoming National Orange Show to be held in San Bernardino, February 10 to March 3, will mark the 25th anniversary of the organization. Orange show officials assert that it will be the most outstanding exposition in honor of King Orange and the citrus industry that has ever been presented.

Master Story Teller. The gripping story, from the pen of the master story-teller, Somerset Maugham, begins in the dreary home of an Austrian scientist and, following the star's marriage to a young British doctor, it ascends to most gripping episodes of love, hatred and sacrifice in a cholera-infested district of interior, China. The picture, fraught with the mystery and intrigue of the Orient, serves as an admirable successor to Miss Garbo's last production, "Queen Christina," which brought her out of seclusion after an absence of two years from the screen.

Bing Crosby Woos A Russian Princess In "Here Is My Heart"

Bing Crosby and Kitty Carlisle, whose close harmonies in "She Loves Me Not" proved so popular, start a glee club of their own by the addition of Pete the Parrot in their new Paramount picture, "Here Is My Heart," shown tonight, Friday and Saturday at the Torrance Theatre. Adapted from the play by Alfred Savoir, "Here Is My Heart" is the story of a millionaire crooner who turned writer to court a Russian princess, with a great deal of resultant comedy. Frank Tuttle directed and Alison Skipworth and Roland Young are featured.

Cantor's "Kid Millions" Is Lavish Song-and-Girl Show

Eddie Cantor and Goldwyn Girls in Samuel Goldwyn's "Kid Millions," (released through United Artists)

"Kid Millions," Eddie Cantor's 17th annual screen musical comedy for Samuel Goldwyn, which comes to the Plaza Theatre, Hawthorne, today, Friday and Saturday, is the season's most ambitious venture in the way of song-and-girl entertainment. For the 60 girls who win places in the battalion of decorative femininity, world fame as a Goldwyn girl is just around the corner. Each girl required her own wardrobe mistress, her own hair-dresser, her own makeup man. The dancing instruction staff had 12 men. Eighty electricians were required to light one set of the production and hundreds of workers were required for the months of preparatory work on sets and costumes.
