

BRITISH STAR of "Evergreen" is FILM FIND

A Benn W. Levy romance as sympathetically treated as his memorable "Mrs. Moonlight," a background said to embrace as much splendor as has ever been crowded into one musical film, and a cast of real favorites are said to be the ingredients of Gaumont British's current offering at the Torrance Theatre, Jessie Matthews in "Evergreen." The picture's engagement will run three nights starting tonight, as a companion to the feature, "Forsaking All Others."

Miss Matthews is the newest and one of the most sensational film finds of G. B. Productions and has had an enviable reputation on the musical comedy stage of London previous to her elevation to film stardom. She played a solid year on the stage in "Evergreen" before it was transferred to the films.

"West of the Pecos" Opens Tonight at Plaza Theatre

Three Scintillating Stars Shine at Torrance

Barnum and His Tippling Aide

Not since "Dinner at Eight" has a motion picture created as much advance discussion as Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's newest offering, "Forsaking All Others," which is shown tonight, Friday and Saturday at the Torrance Theatre with a cast headed by three of filmdom's most popular stars—Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and Robert Montgomery—who make their first appearance together in the elaborate new film. Adapted from the stage hit of the same name the story depicts the plight of a bride who is deserted at the altar but succeeds in laughing it off. The picture was directed by that master of comic situations, W. S. Van Dyke, whose last success was "The Thin Man," and the supporting cast includes such well known players as Billie Burke, Charles Butterworth, Frances Drake and Rosalind Russell.

A Brilliant Trio At Plaza Sunday

Torrance All-Stars Lose Second Start To Long Beach Nine

The Torrance All-Stars lost their second start, last Sunday, when a combination of hits and errors rolled up a big score for the SERA team from Long Beach. The final count was 11 to 8, in spite of the fact that the Torrance squad outthrew the visitors all the way.
