News From Washington
By Your Congressman
CHARLES J. GOLDEN

The recent hearings in the House and Senate on the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan, brought out a distinct difference between the principles involved in the two outstanding pension programs—the Townsend proposal and the President's program. It is evident that Dr. Townsend has in mind a recovery program which he believes will restore prosperity throughout the country.

Dr. Townsend testified before the committee that it was immaterial as to how the $200 per month was expended, just so it was kept in circulation. His chief purpose being to increase the buying power of the public and thereby increase the demand for goods and reestablish employment.

On the other hand, it is evident that the President considers an old age pension more as a relief proposal. The $15 per month proposal by the federal authorities, supplemented by the contribution from the state, of course, would not be as powerful an agent for recovery as the Townsend plan. The President, of course, has an entirely different idea of recovery which is based upon the construction of public works and the stimulation of private enterprise. But the two ideas stand out in striking contrast—the Townsend plan for recovery and the Roosevelt program for relief.

Another very interesting topic was broached by Dr. Townsend and was discussed by the committee on ways and means, that is, the velocity of money. Those who discuss the money problem make frequent reference to the volume of money but often overlook the value of the velocity of money. Statistics show that we have more money in circulation at present than we had in 1929, (over three dollars per capita) the difference being largely in the velocity of our money. Dr. Townsend made the statement that the dollar turned over, or changed hands, 132 times in 1929. His actuary, Mr. Glen Hudson, of Oakland, made the statement that the dollar is turning over at an average of about 34 times a year since the depression. Dr. Townsend further made the statement that he believed his old age pension plan would multiply the turnover of the dollar about four times of what it was in 1929, or 528 times. Consequently, a two percent transaction tax as advocated by Dr. Townsend would have produced $2.54 per dollar in circulation in 1929. The two percent transaction tax would produce but 68 cents per dollar per year since the debacle of 1929. Also Dr. Townsend was of the opinion that under the prosperity of his plan, each dollar in circulation, turning over 528 times, would produce $10.56 in the course of a year.

The above illustrates the importance of the velocity of a dollar or the number of times it can change hands. If Dr. Townsend is correct that the dollar can be made to change hands 528 times during a year and each time pay a tax of two cents, it would be obliged to change hands ten times a week and produce an income of 20 cents per week with which to pay the cost of his pension plan.

It appears difficult to prove the estimate of Dr. Townsend that his plan will multiply the business of 1929 by four times. But to reach his conclusion, based upon the assumption that the dollar turns over 34 times a year in these depression times, and that under his revolving pension plan it would turn over 528 times a year, means that the dollar would have to change hands 15 times faster than it now does. The per capita circulation was $39.08 in 1929 and was $45.51 in 1933 indicating that velocity means much to the economic welfare of our country.

It was also brought out in the Townsend hearing that the total income of all the people of the United States in 1933 (including Andrew Mellon, Morgan, everybody) was estimated at 46 billion dollars or $368 per person for the entire year. A recent estimate places the income of 1934 at approximately $2 billion or $412 per capita. In 1927, the income of all the people of the nation was estimated at 80 billion dollars and at $667 for each man, woman and child. It must be remembered that some individuals earned millions, a much greater sum than

One would think from the large amount of work that a powerful committee would be glad to shift some of its burdens to the other committees but that is apparently incorrect as some of the members are disposed to work almost all night rather than to pass their labors to someone else. The facts are, that anybody afraid of work hasn't much place in Congress.

As have said previously, the committee in the workshop of Congress and the floor of the House the stage.

One of the Senators who is quite well along in years and whose locks resemble the snow is reported to have a yen for picking out the young women when he attends a Washington dance. It is related of him that he recently danced with one of the Washington cherubs and after tramping on her feet, he apologized by saying, "I am a little stiff from bowling." The fresh young thing brought her shoulders up to new heights and with great indignation replied, "I don't care who you are or when you come from, but please keep off my feet!"

At 7:45 o'clock in the evening, the penitential office will be said and an address given. The vicar, the Rev. F. Murray Clayton, requests all members of the parish to keep this day so far as possible. All are welcome.

Carnival Night Next Tuesday

Tuesday, March 5, will be carnival night at the Recreation center building, 1316 Cabrillo avenue, when a full-fledged entertainment of that character will be staged. All the features of a carnival will be available, and the public is invited to attend.

On March 18, Archie Morris and his orchestra will be here to play for a dance.

Last week's entertainments were well attended. The amateur vaudeville performance on Tuesday showed off the local talent to good advantage. It was followed by a dance, with Pete and Tex Bailey furnishing music. The George Washington program at the municipal park on Saturday offered a fine program and was well attended.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily." These words of Paul to the Colossians are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christ Jesus" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Lesson-Sermon includes the verses from the Gospel of John: "Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself. He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory; but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him."

Among the passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "Jesus taught the way of Life by demonstration, that we may understand how this divine Principle heals the sick, casts out error, and triumphs over death. Jesus presented the ideal of God better than could any man whose origin was less spiritual."
