American Legion Auxiliary News
Twenty-five members of the American Legion Auxiliary were present at the business meeting in Legion hall Monday evening. Plans for a potluck dinner, which will be served by Team No. 1 to Team No. 2 prior to the meeting March 18, were discussed. At this meeting, two new members, Mrs. Clara Bell Darling and Mrs. Blanche Allen, will be initiated. Members of the old auxiliary drill team presented the auxiliary with a 50-piece set of dishes. This is indeed a much needed addition to the auxiliary equipment. The dishes were presented by Velora Murphy, president of the drill team, and were accepted by Lucille Lewellen, auxiliary president.

Paris Styles
By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS (U.P.)—You don't catch the dressmakers hating this time—they have offered us the "works," and we can take it or leave it.
Long skirts, short skirts, tight skirts, flit skirts, even hemlines and hemlines as uneven as saw-teeth and scallops; prints and plain colors, stripes, dots and plaids; cartwheel hats, skullcaps, poke bonnets, jockey caps, Eugenic dippers and coolie hats with points cut off and held on by a strap of ribbon or straw across the head.
Leg o' mutton sleeves bigger and braver than we've ever had them before, even when grandma was here, puffed sleeves to the elbow so puffy that coats have to be sleeveless to be worn with them at all.
Fabrics include everything from corset material to the heaviest and costliest of broadened satin, faille, taffeta (both printed and plain), and all the in-between things such as lace and net, silk, satin—and calico prints in taffeta and faille—with lots of cotton, linen, plique and two-faced fabrics.
As for accessories, we don't know whether we've eaten dope by mistake or whether it is quite safe yet to believe what we've seen—belt buckles and things made of miniature sheafs of wheat, metal bars of music with the notes and lines done in white enamel against a background of black, and buttons of little tiny metal discs (suggesting, doubtless, that the costume is full of harmony). And that isn't the half of it!

TORRANCE ARTISTS WILL DECORATE
Artistic talent of the Torrance National Business and Professional Women's Club received recognition from the Los Angeles district this week in the appointment of Mrs. Addie Montague to take charge of the arrangement of decorations for the annual convention meeting to be held in Santa Monica in April. Mrs. Montague has devised some clever arrangements for the Torrance club and her appointment is gratifying to the local group.
At the business meeting held Monday night, Mrs. Charles Arzilli, president of the Fern Avenue Parent Teachers' Association, was elected to membership.
The club voted to endorse Mrs. Anne Leidendecker, Los Angeles district president, as a candidate for second vice president of the state board; E. Louise Jolly as state director, and Mrs. Gertrude Westling for district recording secretary.
Plans for the inter-club dinner meeting on March 19 are practically complete and an enjoyable program will be offered. Members of all clubs, civic organizations, and lodges are invited to attend this meeting which will be held in the Woman's clubhouse, with dinner at 75 cents per plate served at 7 o'clock. Reservations are requested not later than March 15, with Mrs. Laila P. Bowen, telephone 527-J, in charge.

Mrs. Brooks asked members to hold April 26 open. On that date, she stated, past presidents and the ways and means committee are planning an excursion to the city.
