To Hear a Noted Economist Speak On Trade Unionism

Dr. Graham A. Laing, Professor of Economics at the California Institute of Technology, will speak on this subject, on Friday Evening, April 26, at 8 O'Clock, at the High School Auditorium in El Segundo.

—Everybody Welcome—

Sponsored by El Segundo Local No. 299 of International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers of America.

Radio Stations Will Be Sold

Sale of radio station KELW in Burbank and radio station KTM in Santa Monica to the Evening Herald Publishing Company of Los Angeles is to be consummated April 30, according to the terms of a notice of sale on file today in the county recorder's office.

REVOLVER SCORES

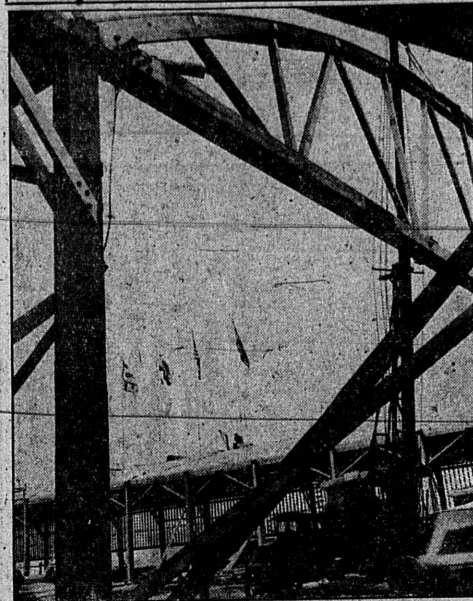

Hugh Eckersley was high man at the revolver range over the week-end, scoring 270-262 and 262 in three practice shoots. Fred Anderle was second with 261; Ashton, 259; DeBra, 245; Stanger, 246; Boynton, 245; Bennett, 235; Dolton, 199; Thompson, 195; Trivoli, 215; Drake, 217, and Schumacher, 202.

WILLARD meets badminton CHAMPION

Jack Purcell, world's champion badminton player, who hails from Canada, will meet Jess Willard, American champion, in a match for the title at the Ambassador Auditorium, Thursday evening, May 9. This is not the same Jess Willard who swapped, no, who received punches from Jack Dempsey some years ago in attempting to defend his title as heavyweight champion.

However, Jess, who has been living in California for the past six months, is the best in the United States at this game which has been taken up by the smart set and has swept the country in a wave of popularity. There may be something to it.

Building Against Time

Massive beams in 7-ton trusses will support the roof over the central aisle of the Pan-Pacific Exposition Auditorium at Beverly-Fairfax, Los Angeles, where the National Housing Exposition opens on May 18. One of the bridge-like arches over the 2½ acre floor of the huge building is shown above.

With only 700 hours left in which to complete a $125,000 auditorium, build half a dozen demonstration houses and create elaborate grounds out of 14 acres of bare land, the preparation of the National Housing Exposition, opening May 18, on Beverly Boulevard just east of Fairfax, Los Angeles, is ahead of the builder's construction time-table.

In the exposition grounds a little Theatre of the Stars to seat over 2000 is being prepared and arrangements have been made for the broadcasting of feature radio programs through each day and evening from the open air amphitheatre. Other entertainment and musical attractions will make the exposition a veritable little world's fair of the American home.

Not only will actual homes be built for the avenue of demonstration homes at the exposition, and completely furnished with breath taking modern styles, but a "Village of Tomorrow" will show the community of the future. Planned by seniors of Southern California, the tiny town will be built around model houses designed by high school students throughout Southern California in a contest sponsored by the American Institute of Architects.

GIRL'S BODY is discovered in BURNING HOUSE

Firemen who were called to a blaze in a house at 2150 West Twenty-sixth street, Los Angeles, last Friday evening, discovered the dead body of Yoshi Nishida, 20-year-old Japanese girl, who had apparently been stabbed and beaten to death by an unknown assailant who afterwards set fire to the house.

The girl was stabbed six times in the neck and body with a small knife and her jaw was fractured when Jean Bordeaux blew assembly. After dusk and rollcall, Mr. Brodie picked Jean Bordeaux as the best dressed Scout in uniform. After Scoutmaster Jones made the announcements the troop played games which were enjoyed by everyone.

Pair Must Spend Nights In Jail

William Blackmore, 42½ East 81st street, and Carl E. Hoeseon, 784 South San Pedro, were arrested in Torrance April 18 on a charge of petty theft. They were sentenced to spend each night, from 8 p. m. to 6 a. m., in the city jail, from now until May 10. No meals, tersely adds Judge Robert F. Lessing.

TROOP NO. 3 DAVID POWELL, Reporter

The troop had a very interesting but short meeting last Wednesday evening. James Brodie, of the American Legion, visited the troop when Jean Bordeaux blew assembly. After dusk and rollcall, Mr. Brodie picked Jean Bordeaux as the best dressed Scout in uniform. After Scoutmaster Jones made the announcements the troop played games which were enjoyed by everyone.

The meeting was closed when Melvin Benner led the troop in the Great Scoutmaster's prayer.

Lady (Bugs) Liked Milo PLACERVILLE, Calif. (U.P.)—There's something about Milo Fields that appeals to ladies—lady bugs anyway. He caught 1,884,000 of the insects and is shipping them to Arizona farmers to combat parasites threatening their crops.

Clubwomen Meet

District Convention of Calif. Federation in Session

Torrance Woman's Club sent as its delegates to the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, now in session at the Mira Mar club in Santa Monica, Mrs. Juliette Johnson, club president, and Mrs. Mae Sidebotham, first vice president. Mrs. Alda Hudson and Mrs. Carrie Parks, past president of Torrance club, are also attending the convention. A number of local women will join the group in Santa Monica this evening to attend the banquet and installation of new officers.

Grace Y. Hudson, district president, who has presided at this convention, will relinquish the gavel to Mrs. Will Lee Austin, of Los Angeles. Other officers to be installed this evening will include Mrs. John S. Thayer, of Los Angeles, first vice president; Mrs. Oscar S. Elvrum, of Eagle Rock, federation secretary; Mrs. Frank V. Lindsay, of Los Angeles, recording secretary; Mrs. Bert Beverly, of Altadena, treasurer; Mrs. George H. Hines, of Venice, auditor; Mrs. Eugene Brockway, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Alan Dibble, of Huntington Park, new directors of Los Angeles city, and Mrs. Elizabeth Elliot, of Covina, new director of Pomona-San Gabriel district.

Miss Josephine Seaman, president of California Federation of Women's Clubs, in speaking before women from five Southern California counties, some of which recently passed drastic resolutions for the curbing of communists, caused the women to pause and think when she stated that "instead of striking fiercely at communism and thus spreading its seed, we women more wisely gird up the loins of our minds and tackle the task of changing the environment of social and industrial conditions under which communism and fascism have flourished, under like names since ancient times."

As a remedy, Miss Seaman suggested, "honest American democracy, freely applied." Miss Seaman's talk followed a round table discussion led by Mrs. A. J. Lawton, district chairman of legislation, who urged clubwomen not to label as communist or spy every woman who advocates necessary changes to help present conditions. She stated that efforts to correct government evils, if offered in a helpful and constructive manner, is showing loyalty to American ideals.

Young Boy Held For Juvenile Court

A 15-year-old boy, who gave an address in the Shoestring strip as his place of residence, and admitted that the car he was driving was not his property, was taken into custody about midnight Sunday in Hawthorne. The boy was turned over to sheriff's deputies and held for juvenile authorities on a charge of grand theft. The car was found to be registered to J. P. Bowman, 1229½ Arlington, Torrance, and had been stolen from its parking place in front of the Columbia Steel Company plant, where Bowman was at work. It was returned to the owner.

MRS. CHEADLE ENTERTAINS

The home of Mrs. R. E. Olsen, 218th street, formed the setting for an afternoon of bridge when Mrs. Louis Cheadle entertained there Thursday.

Prizes in bridge play were awarded to Mesdames T. A. Mitchell and R. E. Cooper, of Inglewood, and Mrs. E. L. Patterson. Other guests included Mesdames C. Beadison, of Inglewood; John Hucher, A. W. Beverly, C. E. Carstens, R. S. Card, E. H. Cathcart, A. R. Hayes, P. L. Hoffman and R. E. Olsen.

DINNER GUESTS AT DRAKE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Drake, 1750 Martina avenue, entertained with a dinner party at their home Friday. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ray Ellinwood, their daughter, Joanne, and Ellis Clover, of Los Angeles.
