Around the Council Table

In the absence of Mayor Scott R. Ludlow, Tuesday evening, Councilman W. H. Stanger was voted into the chair to act as mayor pro tem.

A letter from the state PWA officials was read which stated that formal approval had been given to the contract with the Moss Company for drilling water wells in Torrance and that the work might proceed as soon as O. E. Carr, state inspector, or his representative, arrives to oversee the job.

The council adopted a resolution authorizing a contract to be entered into with the Southern California Edison Company, accepting its proposal to allow a 50% discount on bills for street lighting on all amounts over $3,873.33, which was the total paid last year.

A check for $2,286.31, representing 2 percent of the gross earnings of the Southern California Gas Company, under Los Angeles franchise, for the past four years, was reported received by the city clerk.

A request from the San Pedro Pilot for $50 to pay for a quarter page advertisement publicizing the Torrance Pageant of Progress to be held August 31, September 1 and 2, was referred to the Chamber of Commerce. The advertisement is to run in a special edition put out on August 30.

Cabrillo Ave. Improvements Changed

Plans for the widening of Esheleman avenue in Lomita and its extension to connect with Cabrillo avenue in Torrance have suffered a serious setback since the death of Mrs. Amalie Kettler, and as reported by City Engineer Leonard in a report to the city council last evening.

The death of Mrs. Kettler, who owned the property which was needed for the widening and extension of Esheleman has necessitated dealing with nine heirs, Leonard stated, and at least some of these heirs are opposed to giving any land for widening of the boulevard. One or two of the heirs, however, are willing to have their roadway extended on a straight line, which would necessitate a left and a right angle turn in order to reach Cabrillo avenue.

Under the new plan, Cabrillo avenue will be extended without widening to connect with Sepulveda boulevard, Cabrillo dead-ending at that point instead of connecting with Esheleman as originally planned. Engineer Leonard explained to the city council that under a new ruling of the state highway commission, the city would be permitted to use its share of the quarter-cent gasoline tax fund for the improvement of Cabrillo avenue without the requirement of widening dead-ends, and that it would be possible to include the improvement of both Cabrillo and Sepulveda boulevards in one project.
