Local Resident Is Ardent Devotee of Archery Sport

By VIRGINIA BROWN

Shades of Robin Hood and his merry band of green doublet men are walking abroad these days in Torrance—at least on Amapola avenue in the hobby workshop of O. R. Hill. Mr. Hill has an intensely interesting hobby, that of making bows and arrows. Mr. Hill can show the interested inquirer, an imposing array of his handwork.

There are long, gleaming bows of yew wood which pull from 40 to 120 pounds, and are as tall as a man when they are strung. Then there are shorter bows of lemon wood, pulling 20 pounds, just right for children. Mr. Hill has made approximately 100 sets of bows and arrows. He has sold many and given some to his friends.

He has equipped each member of his boys' Sunday school class with a bow and arrow; so don't be too surprised if some aspiring, back-sliding young archer picks off one of your favorite flyers some day. The boys enthusiastically snipe hunt anything alive and on legs. They've been inspired

Young People of Lomita Hurt In Two Accidents

Collision With Truck Injures Three, With Parked Car Two More

Diagon Moore, 2434 1/2 Woodard avenue; Tommy Woods, 2376 216th Place, and Arnold Hansen, 1950 Redondo-Wilmington boulevard, all of Lomita, were treated for cuts and bruises at a Lomita physician's office Tuesday after an automobile accident on Pennsylvania avenue. Moore, according to the report on file at sub-station No. 8, is said to have lost control of his car as it rounded a corner and crashed into a Sideboard gravel truck driven by Cyrus Land, 598 West 18th street, San Pedro. Land saw the car coming and stopped his truck when a collision appeared unavoidable.

On Saturday, August 10, about 7 o'clock, Helen Bergeron, age 15, residing at 1958 Lomita boulevard, and Barbara Schiffer, 13, of 1808 West 24th street, were standing beside a car occupied by Norman Stetson, 1617 Gulf avenue, Wilmington, which was parked on Lomita boulevard. On the rear view of the car from the rear by another machine. The girls were knocked down, and Miss Bergeron suffered bruises to her knees and chest and Miss Schiffer received a three-inch gash on one leg. Stetson was uninjured. The number of the other machine was taken as the driver continued on his way without stopping to give aid. The car was traced to a Wilmington address.

SOME BATTER

Required to Supply Needs of Van de Kamp's Bakery

A summary of purchases made by Van de Kamp's Holland Dutch Bakers, Inc., for a year, released yesterday, discloses the following enormous amounts of ingredients used in their products:

- 6,076,708 pounds flour.
  - 285,915 pounds butter.
  - 362,408 dozen eggs.
  - 2,595,429 pounds sugar
  - 258,815 quarts milk.
  - 240,323 pounds of almonds, pecans and walnuts.
- Commenting on this stupendous quantity of materials necessary to supply their 127 bakery stores, Theo. J. Van de Kamp yesterday said:

"It is particularly heartening to know that our summer business, normally depressed, has continued an upward movement which promises most favorably for the fall and winter months."

Van de Kamp's operate a store in this community at 1325 Sartori avenue, Torrance.

Off to Honolulu's Balmy Shores

General Plutarco Elias Calles, right, former Mexican President, and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. Torrellana, as they sailed from San Pedro for Honolulu. The distinguished Mexican statesman refused to make any comment on the current situation in Mexico as he departed for a vacation.

Confessed Slayer and Companion

George Wallace, 22, left, driver of the car in which Albert Paine, 24, and Hugh B. Smith were riding before the gun battle with E. G. Fish, North Sacramento police chief, who was fatally wounded. Paine, right, petty racketeer of Oakland, Calif., who confessed to having fired fatal shots which killed the chief.

Youth Shuns Agriculture

MOBERLY, Mo. (U.P.)—There is a strange lack of interest in vocational agriculture in this Randolph County town, center of a wide farming area. The school board proposed to install a vocational agriculture department in the high school, but because of lack of interest the plan was abandoned.
