

Satire On London Society Is Mirror of Modern Frailties

Had William Makepeace Thackeray devised a heroine especially for the blonde star Miriam Hopkins, his Becky Sharp would have been the answer...

In any event Miriam is Becky in the Pioneer full-color motion picture "Becky Sharp"...

"Call of Wild" And "Shanghai" On 4-Day Bill

Plaza Theatre, Hawthorne, Books Two Super Features On Bill Starting Sunday

"Call of the Wild," 20th Century's colorful filmization of Jack London's immortal story of the Yukon Gold Rush...

Gable and Oake are seen as Thornton and Shorty, two buddies seeking gold in Alaska. They rescue beautiful Claire Blake from wolves and learn that her husband has been lost in the Arctic wastes...

Others in the cast are Frank Conroy, Reginald Owen, Sidney Toler and Katherine DeMille. William Wellman directs the production from a script by Gene Fowler and Leonard Franking...

Also on the big four-day program starting Sunday at the Plaza will be seen Loretta Young and Charles Boyer in "Shanghai"...

VICTIM OF JEALOUSY

Peril besets Helen Mack when she enters the mystic kingdom of Kor and arouses the jealousy of Helen Gahagan in the title role of "Sue," spectacular adventure romance from the H. Rider Haggard novel. Shown at the Torrance Theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday.

Harness Races Bring Notable Horses To Fair

Largest Number of Entries and More Class Than Ever Before

POMONA—Racing Secretary Frank Liezinger today announced the lists of entries in the early closing stakes for the 11-day horse racing at Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona, September 13 to 23...

The 2:20 pace drew the largest entry with 27 high class pacers, including such horses as Col Tom, 2:00; Rose Marie Abbe, 2:00 1/4; Royal Cliff, 2:01 1/4; Martina Armstrong, 2:01 1/4; Lyda Woolen, 2:02 1/4, and others.

The 2:30 trot, another feature in the early closing stakes, attracted 17 entries including several who have never started on the Pomona track.

Little Meanie At Torrance Theatre Tonight, Friday and Saturday

JANE WITHERS, as a 'lovable tenement' tomboy, looks after her foster-uncle, O. P. HEGGIE, and scraps with JACKIE SEARLE, a pampered scion of a Park Avenue family, in "Ginger," Fox Film's latest comedy sensation.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Torrance Theatre will present Clark Gable and Loretta Young in "Call of the Wild" and "Hooray for Love" starring Ann Southern and Gene Raymond.

FREE THEATRE TICKETS! Turn to the Classified Page.

Garland's Lomita Theatre Admission 10c and 20c. Matinee Saturday, 2:15 P.M. Continuous Sunday from 2:15. Shows include 'Alias Mary Dow', 'Public Hero No. 1', 'Vagabond Lady', 'Cardinal Richelieu', 'People Will Talk', 'Ladies Love Danger'.

stage play, which had its origin in the timeless novel "Vanity Fair". It will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Torrance Theatre.

Thackeray wrote into his character that magnetic spark that is found in few humans. Miss Hopkins is conceded to have it, and it comes vividly to the screen in all her portrayals.

"Becky Sharp" as Thackeray's "Vanity Fair" was a satire aimed at the follies, vices and meanness of London society, but the vividly human qualities of its characters has endowed it with a great significance. Change the costumes of Pioneer Pictures' "Becky Sharp," and modern life will be recognized keenly.

Schumann-Heink At San Diego Fair

SAN DIEGO.—History of California will be revived in pageantry at the California Pacific International Exposition on Admission Day, September 9, when the biggest spectacle of the world's fair is staged on the state's 65th birthday.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, Bishop J. J. Cantwell and many other persons nationally known will participate. Impressive "flag history" ceremonies and a gigantic parade will be featured. Only 74 more days remain in which to view the exposition which will close November 11.

Lew Ayres Has Exciting Role

Bristling with action and packed with thrills, "Silk Hat Kid," Fox Film's latest production, will hold the audience at the Torrance Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, excitedly entertained throughout.

The exciting theme coupled with the dangerous and glamorous romance of Lew Ayres and Mae Clarke make "Silk Hat Kid" a film of such importance that you cannot afford to miss it.

The rapid-fire action of the film takes place in the dangerous slums of a big city. While employed as bodyguard to Paul Kelly, cafe owner, Ayres meets and falls in love with Mae Clarke, his employer's girl friend. His interest in the girl is resented by Kelly, and a heated rivalry results. The plot becomes all the more thrilling and absorbing as the rivalry reaches a dangerous stage. The working out of the daring romance reaches a high point that adds greatly to the enjoyment of the film.

Arless At Lomita Starting Sunday

Cardinal Richelieu (George Arless) dissuades the fiery Andre de Pons (Cesar Romero) from assassinating him, one of the many gripping scenes from "Cardinal Richelieu" playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Lomita Theatre. Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland also appear in "People Will Talk." A Todd and Kelly comedy, "Sing, Sister, Sing," is also on the same bill.

Last Concert At Bowl September 7

Sharing conducting honors in the final four concerts of Hollywood Bowl's 1935 season of Symphonies Under the Stars will be Otto Klemperer, distinguished conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, and Bernardino Molinari, celebrated Italian maestro.

Final ballet production for the season will be the Pearl Wheeler dancers in a series of four diverting ballets. Frederick Stark will conduct.

For his Tuesday program Klemperer will conduct Franck's symphony in D-minor and Tschaiakowsky's Fifth symphony, and in response to many requests the famous "Bolero" by Ravel.

His final program, September 7, will include five excerpts from Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelung" and Beethoven's Fifth symphony. Molinari's program will include works of Sibelius, Mendelssohn, Tschaiakowsky and the beloved symphony from the New World by Dvorak.

"Daring Young Man" at Plaza, Great Fun Film

The gales of laughter that greeted "The Daring Young Man," which opens tomorrow at the Plaza Theatre, Hawthorne, were merely echoes of this reviewer's hearty roars.

Written by Claude Binyon and Sidney Skolowsky, of newspaper fame, "The Daring Young Man" shouldn't be missed. It is the hilarious story of a New York newspaperman (James Dunn) who never tires of expressing his sarcastic views of marriage until he meets Mae Clarke, a reporter on a rival paper. A rapid-fire courtship is followed by plans for a quick marriage.

On the same bill at the Plaza Theatre Friday and Saturday this week is Guy Kibbee and Zasu Pitts in "Going Highbrow."

Take 'em Off Says Director

"Be yourself," seems to be the favorite advice of Robert Florey, director of the Warner Bros. comedy, "Going Highbrow," which comes to the Torrance Theatre on Wednesday only. And in Zasu Pitts, famous hand-wringing comedienne who is playing the leading feminine role in the picture, he has a trouper who believes in following the admonition. With the weather turned suddenly warm, Miss Pitts complained that her shoes were hurting her.

"Take 'em off," suggested Florey. Miss Pitts blinked a bit and looked around. There were no visitors on the set.

Off came the offending shoes and, stocking-footed in a series of closeups, Miss Pitts went through her part in real comfort. Companion picture for Wednesday will be "Orchids to You," starring John Boles and Jean Muir.

Circuit Smash Clinches Title For L. B. Angels

Visitors Hammer Brissinger of Junior Kiwanis For Sixteen Bows

The Long Beach Angels won the deciding game in the Inter-city League over the Kiwanis Juniors and are champions without doubt in any minds. The Kiwanians were the only team in the league who were able to even measure up to the Angels but when it came to putting on the pressure there was no doubt as to which was the better team.

In the same Saturday night, for seven innings it was nip and tuck and anybody's game but a homer by Misner with the bases filled broke up the game and sent the Angels far out in front. For the Kiwanis the catching of Walker who had been out nearly all season with a broken leg was easily the feature.

Box score:

Table with columns AB, R, H for Anderson, Speight, Misner, Atkinson, Gore, Pickett, Rowley, Bradley, Brown, and Totals.

FREE SPAGHETTI and street dance AT SMITH'S

"Toll all the folks that I am giving another big free spaghetti feed down here tomorrow night," said Charles M. Smith, of Smith's Cafe, "and all those who were here on my opening night and their friends will be welcome to come back again and fill up on this famous Italian dish prepared as my chef can prepare it."

Tomorrow night the affair will be repeated with free spaghetti, free dancing to the music of Dick Powers' orchestra. Smith's Cafe will serve other things besides spaghetti, such as lunches, beer, wine and mixed drinks, but don't get any wrong impressions, only the spaghetti will be free.

JUDY GARLAND not worried over SISTERS' LOVES

It seems that the social elite at Calneva Lodge, Lake Tahoe, simply cannot get along without the Garland Sisters, talented daughters of Frank Garland, proprietor of the Lomita Theatre.

The six weeks' appearance of the Garland trio was broken up two weeks ago when Suzanne flew to Reno with Lee Kahn, orchestra leader at Tahoe, where the two were wed. It is also reported that Jimmie Garland, next oldest of the sister trio, is engaged to Frankie Darro, movie actor. However, Jimmie is remaining for the balance of the season at Lake Tahoe, and last Friday the management of the lodge called back her "kid" sister, Judy, from Southern California to join her for the balance of the season.

However, Little Judy, who is just 12, is not worried about her professional career because of the love affairs of her two older sisters, as she is equally adept at doing "solos" as she is in trio parts.
