Narbonne Plays Gardena

First Game of Marine League Season Will Be Played At Mohicans Field

Tomorrow, October 4, at 3 p. m. on the Mohicans' field, the Green and Gold of Narbonne will tangle with Gardena high in their first league game of the season.

In the last five years the two schools have met three times, with Narbonne on top with two wins.

In the encounter with the Mohicans five years ago, Narbonne came home with the laurels to the tune of 12 to 6. Two years later the Gauchos again administered a lesson. This time it was 28 to 6. But last year it was a different story when Gardena turned the tables on the Gauchos with a clean-cut 13-0 victory.

Candidates for the Narbonne football eleven are still battling for their respective positions. The Gauchos have several veterans out, which means a fairly strong team for this season.

Some promising prospects for the different positions are as follows: Tidmarsh at fullback; Gordon Woods and Delbert Clay-

One of the most brilliant players so far—according to Coach Sloss—is Lee Savant, who was mentioned for All-Marine tackle last year. Billy Brians, who was ineligible last season, is a promising prospect at end.

Owe Apology To Montana

Last week I wrote in this column that Montana should be kicked out of the Pacific Conference and put into the Rocky Mountain circuit. Well after last week's game between the once great University of So. Cal. and Montana, I wish to apologize to the Student Body of the little school that out-fought the Trojans all afternoon. Will also add that unless the Trojans change their less-than-enthusiastic attitude toward football, they should be demoted into the Southern Conference next year, with a school as red-dipped as Whittier, Cal. Tech, etc.

Well anyway, I still have my money on the Trojans to only lose THREE games this year.

Jack Javens Outstanding Player For Torrance Tartars

So far this year, Jack Javens, 180 pound, left halfback for the Tartars of Torrance is by far the outstanding player. Jack has been responsible for the only scores that Torrance has been able to make in their two games. Jack made the touchdown and converted the extra point in the Banning game, and made the only score of the day last Friday against Jordan high of Watts. Javens in my estimation is by far the greatest backfield player that has ever attended the local school. Keep up the good work Jack, and when the All-Southern California teams are picked this year, the big boys of the C. I. F. and the L. A. Board will have to give you plenty of consideration for a berth on this mythical team.

Rooting Section of Torrance High Better

Last week when the Torrance team traveled to Watts, a large number of fans were on hand to help the Tartars win Jack Piper, Bill King, Midge Higgins, and Peggy Wood, song leaders kept the rooting section in hand most of the afternoon with songs and yells for the boys on the field, but there is still plenty of room for improvement.

Spot Gossip Here and There

About 25 local athletes are working out every afternoon over the local cross-country course, getting ready for the Southern California and Kiwanis Club cross-country meet to be held next month.

Another former Torrance football player making good on the Loyola freshman squad is Tony Natall, who attended the local school about three years ago. Tony is playing guard. Coach Bernie Donahue is joining the Kiwanis club in Torrance, and will be in charge of the Key club at the school.

The Key club is an organization for other boys, sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Torrance. Chris Adzovich, new member in the master minds of the Torrance Herald's sport page is a brother to Ted Slav) Adzovich. El Segundo has a fine team this year, and will give the Tartars a tough afternoon, but Luck back in the line-up, Torrance should win.

Bowling has swept the town, since the opening of the Monticello. Rev. Thomas Kennedy and Mr. Probert, father of George Probert of the Torrance Pharmacy were spectators at the Notre Dame-Kansas game last Saturday in Notre Dame, Indiana.

I pick the Chicago Cubs to win the World Series. Where are all the people that picked Max Baer to beat Joe Louis. It certainly hard to find them.

Coaches Fight Age Limit For Prep Athletes

Reduction in the age limit for Texas high school athletes has moved coaches in the state to ask a referendum of school principals and superintendents before the 15-year-old maximum becomes effective in September, 1936. Reduction of the present 20-year-old maximum was ordered last spring.

The Canadian senate banking and commerce committee has decided that all athletes, such as boxers, wrestlers, hockey and baseball players, who are paid for performing, will be excluded from the Canadian Government's unemployment insurance bill.

Jimmy Bykos, Chicago White Sox manager, now owns a recreational establishment in Philadelphia, with a lot of modern bowling alleys. To solve the small school's perpetual problem of obtaining enough football material, five Iowa high school of small enrollment have formed a conference and agreed to develop teams of six rather than the usual 11 players. Several schools in Nebraska used the system last year, with success.

Norman Duncan, Verdie Boyer and other Bruin heroes form the backbone of the club. Coach Mulhaupt has added stars from other western colleges to round out a dangerous football team.

El Segundo Tomorrow

First Game of Marine League Football Season Will Be Played on Wood Field

With a tough game against Jordan of the Pacific League safely tucked away last Friday, by the lone score of 6-0, the Torrance Tartars have been going through intensive drill this week, to get ready for the opening of the Marine League schedule tomorrow.

HIGH SCHOOL GAMES TOMORROW

MARINE LEAGUE

PACIFIC LEAGUE
Banning at South Gate.
Jordan at Bell.
Rita-by.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE
Washington at San Pedro.
Manual Arts at Fremont.
Jefferson at Huntington Park.

Friday afternoon's game which will be played on the home grounds at Wood Field, brings El Segundo, last year's tail-enders, but this year a team that presents the eternal question. Just how good are they? The Ollers have come out on top in their pre-season games, last week licking the strong University high, and look to be one of the toughest outfits in the Marine League. The team is composed of veterans, who have got tired of being "kicker around and used as a stepping stone to the championship by all the other squads.

In the light of pre-season conditioning, it looks as if the Ollers instead of being a set-up for Torrance, will give the Tartars all they want to do to win, and they will probably be lucky to outscore the visitors.

Jack Javens, veteran half back, was again the hero of the Jordan game, responsible for the Tartars' only score. The Tartars went 80 yards in a sustained drive down the field for that touchdown, after the game had gone through three quarters with neither team getting much ground. Practically the whole battle was fought in mid-field.

The game was rough and tough, with time out repeatedly while players were being restored after being momentarily knocked out on a play. No one was injured, but both teams took a grueling beating.

Whether Johnny McFadden, star end for the Tartars, will be able to get back in the game this week is a question. Johnny has been out with an injured knee which is still in bad shape, but is under treatment and he may be able to play at least part of the game.

Hubert Luck, another speedy end who is having his first season at that position, is also on the side lines with an injured ankle but will probably be ready to play tomorrow, as he has been kept out for two weeks to give his ankle a chance to get well.

The Tartars have a fine fighting outfit this year, which makes up for its lack of experience by its determined attack and stubborn defense. The Tartars are out to take the championship for the second year and have good prospects of doing so.

Haslam Out For Fresno Frosh Team

Kenneth Haslam, former Torrance student and member of the Tartar football squad, enrolled at Fresno State college this fall and is out to make the freshman team. The Bullpups have their heaviest schedule in years this season, with one night game slated. They play Visalia next Saturday; Taff, October 12; Compton Jaycee, October 19; College of Pacific freshmen, November 11, and Modesto, November 16.

Glocos Defeat Lomita Merchants

A seven-run rally in the fifth inning played hob with the Lomita Merchants last Sunday afternoon and they lost 12-9. Lonnie Cecil was chased to the showers in the fifth under a heavy bombardment and was relieved by Eppley who held the Glocos to no runs and three scattered hits. The Merchants made a stab at tying up the count in the eighth by putting over four runs, but were too late with the rally.

Southeast District Starts 16 Teams in Tournament At Monticello

The Southeast District Major League, composed of 16 teams from Torrance, Long Beach, Lynwood, Los Angeles, Compton and Huntington Park, will swing into action tonight at 8 o'clock. Torrance will be represented by four teams which will all see action against each other at the Monticello alleys. The league boasts of all the best bowlers in the Southeast district.

On Friday night the American Legion League will ring up the curtain on an 18-team league. Eight of these will roll out of Torrance and all eight will be at home on the opening night. Torrance will have two teams in the running, San Pedro two teams, Wilmington, Long Beach and Redondo Beach will be represented.

Torrance will also have two teams in the minor league which starts tonight at the Monticello.

Three Torrance Boys On Teachers Team

New Mexico State Teachers college will play Flagstaff, (Arizona) at that city next Saturday. The Teachers have suffered one defeat already this season, but they may break out with a win this time. Ted Adzovich, of the Torrance championship team, is playing fullback for the Teachers, with Jimmy Shidler at guard, and Nick Chaykowski at tackle. Torrance is well represented at the Silver City college this year with these three, and two former students, Forest McKinley and J. Andrew Fraser returning. Fraser has been elected vice-president of the organized men of the men's dormitory with Jimmy Shidler secretary-treasurer.

Enrollment at the State Teachers college has increased 33 percent over last year.

Legion Circuit Pro Football Starts Sunday

Hollywood Braves and Westwood Cubs Battle At Gilmore Stadium

Rivalries that flared up in universities and colleges will break out anew Sunday afternoon when the Hollywood Braves and the Westwood Cubs battle at the Gilmore Stadium in the opening game of the American Legion pro football circuit.

Ted Shipkey, All American end from Stanford, is the coach of the Hollywood Braves and he has assembled a squad that he is willing to back as two touchdowns better than any college team on the Pacific coast.

The principal ball packers on the Braves will be Harry "The Horse" Mattos, whose brilliant ball carrying feats gained hundreds of yards for St. Mary's and Johnny Arrambide whose brilliant work for Whittier set the Southern California College Conference on fire during the past three seasons.

Paul Schwegler, who won All American honors at Washington several years ago, and Artman from Stanford, will start at tackle for the Braves. Nebb Eldayayan and Mike Steponovich of St. Mary's will guard while the center berth will be handled by Ed Stevens of the California Angles and Chilberg of the University of San Francisco.

Among the candidates for the end positions are Frank Baker of Northwestern and Kermit Schmidt of California Aggies. Reg. Rust and "Bud" Pozzo of Oregon, Jack Farris of Kentucky and Santa Clara, Bob Morrison of U. S. C. and other well known ball carriers are expected to flash brilliantly for the Braves.
