

Gauchos Meets Tartar

Important Game of Marine League Comes Off on Griffin Field Tomorrow

Ben Comrada's Narbonne Gauchos continued their march toward the championship of the Marine League last Friday by defeating Leuzinger handily, 27-0. The Gauchos advertised their victory in Torrance that evening, by staging a parade through the streets to the accompaniment of horns and vociferous yells, to throw a scare into the Tartars who are their serious rivals for the honor. The Gauchos and the Tartars meet tomorrow on the Gauchos grid to settle the matter of supremacy. Neither team has been defeated this season, with the Gauchos holding the edge by reason of their greater scores made over the same teams.

Lomita has not been scored on this season. Their record for the three games played is Gardena 0, Gauchos 19; El Segundo 0, Gauchos 31; Leuzinger 0, Gauchos 27.

The Tartars defeated El Segundo 13-0, Leuzinger 20-7, and they have yet to meet Gardena in the last game of the series.

Tomorrow's game will be the Gauchos' last for the Marine League, and if they win over Torrance will have clinched the championship for the sixth time in nine years. In 1931 the Gauchos were tied with Jordan, now a member of the Pacific League, for the honor.

As usual, the Gauchos present the most dangerous rival for Torrance hopes. The Lomita team this year is lightning fast and strong on deception and aerial plays. They probably have a number of scoring tricks saved up for the Tartars which have not been sprung on any other teams, for obvious reasons.

Coach Donahue, however, is not going to be caught asleep when it comes to new plays and will have a bagful to toss out if necessary that the Gauchos have not yet seen.

Local Talent On Fistic Card At Westside

Ford Plant and Texaco Will Watch Their Champions Match Punches

Local talent in the top spot is this Friday's fistic dish at the Westside auditorium, 645 West Anaheim street, Long Beach, when Eddie Dreher, now employed by the Long Beach Ford plant and handled by that wise old trainer of pugilistic flesh, Dr. Hilligoss, meets Tommy Huffman, conqueror of Earl Whitehead, Swede Bergland, Sammy Jackson and other top-notchers. Huffman beat Whitehead when he was recognized by the California boxing commission as middleweight champion of the world, but the bout was overweight, so Tommy did not get the coveted crown. Huffman, long a fighter with crowd-pleasing tactics, is now employed by the Texaco Oil Company and they will be here several hundred strong backing Tommy to win over Dreher who is without a doubt one of the toughest middleweights ever to invade a local ring. This bout has more local color than any fight matched hitherto locally and is bound to bring out some of the old-time fight fans who have been noticeable by their absence from fight clubs for the past several years.

K. O. Basich, the 200-pound star of Tommy MacFarland's stable, is being sought to meet Andy Mitchell in the other half of a double main event. All the top-notchers are steering clear of Mitchell, using the feeble excuse that he is all washed up and they do not want to fight an old-timer. The real situation is that Andy is too crafty a man for most of the local heavyweight fighters, and "Butch" Rogers and the other boys are refusing to meet him for fear of losing. Jack Kearns' sensational heavyweight, Hank Bath, refused to meet Basich at the Olympic auditorium in Los Angeles last week. Francis Marke also refused to have Basich replace Breslin at the Westside show last Friday. Kid Mexico, matchmaker at the Westside, says Basich would stop Marke in one round should they ever meet.

Several other local boys who are receiving their professional licenses this week are Joe Reinhardt, employe at the Ford Motor Company plant; Art Lopez and Nat Mills. These boys will be on the card this Friday night.

The curtain-raiser will go on at 8:30 p. m.

Pheasant Season Opens Next Month

Pheasant season in California will be open to hunters from November 15 to 20 inclusive, in all counties with the exception of El Dorado, Lassen, Marin, Plumas, Sonoma, that portion of Trinity county embraced by Shasta national forest, southern portion of Modoc county, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura and San Diego counties.

Unless special ordinances are passed prohibiting hunting, the counties not named will be open to nimrods.

Open Hearth-Yard Team Defeats Sheet Mill In Second Game

In the second week of the Columbia Steel Baseball League from the results of the games played, it looks as if the big fight will once again narrow down to a knock-down and dragout between the Foundry and the Open Hearth-Yard teams. On Saturday morning the Foundry forgetting the tough game dropped to the league leaders the week before, tied into the Rolling Mill and came out with a 12-6 victory.

On Sunday Jack Snow's Sheet Mill team met the Open Hearth-Yard gang in a game that was anybody's up to the eighth inning when with the score tied, 6-6, the winners loosed an attack on the Sheet Mill pitcher that netted them seven runs and the ball game.

Next Saturday morning the Sheet Mill and the Foundry will meet in a game that holds the big interest and in the second game of the Open Hearth and Rolling Mills will come together.

Annual "BIG" Game, Tomorrow, at Lomita

Tomorrow is the big day for football fans of Lomita and Torrance. Tomorrow afternoon the Gauchos of Lomita and the Tartars of Torrance will fight it out for the tenth time, the series of games starting in 1926. During the nine years of past football relationship between the two schools, Torrance has won one game (1934), while Lomita has outplayed and won eight. The big question of the day is; will Torrance be strong enough to win for itself the second game in ten years of play? All the big money in both towns, is on the Gauchos of Lomita to win this year. Your correspondent picks Torrance to win by one small point, although it's either team's game. The game will be played on the Narbonne high school gridiron, Lomita. Game starts at 3 o'clock prompt.

Summary of Last Year's Game Won by Torrance

The 1934 championship Tartar team won for the first time against Lomita, and also for the first time the championship in America's new National sport—football. The fighting Tartars outplayed and outfought the mighty Gauchos for the entire game, as the records of past history show. Torrance made 20 first downs, Lomita 3. Torrance 302 yards gain, Lomita 59 ("Slav" Adzovich, 1934 full-back, alone was responsible for a larger gain than the entire team of Lomita, "Slav" gained 79 yards for Torrance). Over 2000 fans witnessed the game, the largest attendance to ever attend any athletic contest on the local field. Final score, Torrance 13, Lomita 0. Outstanding players for Torrance were, Adzovich, Watson, McFadden, Javens and McGinnis, for Lomita were, Savant, Gould, Rider and Cheek. Harold Watson and Jack Javens scored touchdowns for Torrance, with "Slav" Adzovich converting the first goal for Torrance in the history of the school, against Lomita.

Note: Torrance scored more points against Lomita last year, than their total score for the eight previous years.

A Few Notes on the Game Tomorrow Afternoon.

Headman Ben Comrada of the Lomita team is a graduate of Whitman college, Washington. Ben started coaching the Lomita team in 1925, has had splendid success and is considered one of best high school coaches in Southern California. The Gauchos use a single and double wing-back formation, with plenty of passes. His teams have won their league championship six times in nine years. Coach Bernie Donahue came to Torrance in 1930, is a graduate of Loyola college, Los Angeles, and is also considered one of the outstanding coaches in the Los Angeles system. Bernie uses the Notre Dame style of play, building his teams with speed and power. Torrance has not lost a league game since 1933. Outstanding players for Narbonne will probably be Lee Savant (all-league tackle, 1934), Junior Haslam, Clinton Powers and Nietupski. For Torrance, Jack Javens (all-league half, 1934), Johnny McFadden (all-league end, 1934), Chuck Smith (all-league guard), second team, 1934, now playing fullback), Phil Jensen and Bobby Treize. Torrance has an inexperienced team this year, while Lomita has a team of veterans. Both teams play a clean type of ball, but fighting all the way for victory. Both teams are undefeated this year, with Lomita running up higher scores on their opponents than Torrance. If Narbonne wins from Torrance

With Patalano on the mound for the visitors, opposed by Lonnie Ceell, recently of the Lomita Merchants, the City of Torrance took the third game of the series between the San Pedro Merchants and the locals Sunday by a score of 9-5. Ceell had the edge throughout although he struck out only four men to Patalano's eight. Lonnie had them popping dinky flies to the infield, all but five putouts being made in the diamond.

Cards Will Open Trial Camp For Young Players

Ambitious Baseball Rookies Invited to Show Off Before Big Shots

FULLERTON.—The Springfield, Missouri, club of the Western Association, a subsidiary of the St. Louis Cardinals, will conduct a camp for the trial of young players who desire to enter professional baseball, in Fullerton, commencing Monday, November 4. While the widely-known Cardinal organization has sent scouts into this area, in the past, to look over promising timber for their farms, this is the first concerted effort to definitely break into the vast resources of material in California.

The St. Louis Cardinal organization is the largest and most successful trainer and developer of players in the country. Besides getting material for the Cardinal club, 53 players have been placed with other National League clubs, and 14 with American League clubs, in the past ten years. The St. Louis organization alone could absorb all of the players of major league prospects in California; so every player attending this camp, who has ability, will be given an opportunity to play professional ball.

The trial camp is a development of Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals and all affiliated clubs. It is Rickey's belief that a large proportion of the players who have ability to go high in baseball are never seen by scouts from professional baseball. He has developed the trial camp so that each player reporting will not only be seen by men experienced in scouting, but will have a better chance of showing his ability than if he had played a full game of ball before a scout. The Cardinal official stated that two of the requisites of a future major league—a strong arm and speed—can best be ascertained in these camps.

This trial camp is not to be confused with baseball schools. The sole purpose of this camp is to select players who, according to the opinion of the scouts, are major league prospects. There will be no fees in connection with the camp. Players reporting must bring complete uniforms, as well as their shoes and gloves.

Any player seeking further information regarding this camp may address Bill Walsingham, at Fullerton, California.

Totals: Home run—Ernest. Three-base hits—Gordon, Ceell. Two-base hits—Ceell, Atwood. Base on balls—Of Patalano, 2; Of Ceell, 3. Strike out—By Patalano, 8; by Ceell, 4. Hit by pitcher—Olson. Sacrifice hits—R. McCowan, 2. Double play—Garland to Smith to Crook.
